Mundus Vult Decipi Ergo Decipiatur

Barbarism is the natural state of mankind. Civilization is unnatural. It is a whim of circumstance. And barbarism must always ultimately triumph.

Robert E. Howard, Beyond the Black River

A life without cause is a life without effect.

Barbarella, 1968

God is beyond good and evil, which is precisely why you can't trust Him to do the right thing.

We are as many grains of sand, and God is making glass.

Anon

Desire is born of defective knowledge.

Thomas Mann, Death in Venice and Other Stories

Whereof one cannot speak, thereof one must be silent.

Ludwig Wittgenstein, Tractatus Logico-Philosophicus

Heaven and earth are unkind. They treat everything like straw dogs. The Sages too are unkind. In their eyes everyone is no different from a straw dog.

Lao Zi, Dao de Jing #5

I have heard that the Perfect Man dwells corpse-like in his little four-walled room, leaving the people to their uncouth and uncaring ways, not knowing where they are going, where they are headed.

Zhuang Zi, Geng-sang Chu

We must cultivate our garden.

Voltaire, Candide

Hell is the ego.

REF: HVC-A-2592, 3 October 1955

1. With reference to the information submitted by Station Caracas concerning the alleged report that Adolf HITLER is still alive, the files of the Base contain similar information received from the same source, who resides in Maracaibo.

2. An undated memorandum, believed to have been written in about mid February 1954, reflects that Phillip CITROEN, who was co-owner of the former Maracaibo Times, told a former member of this Base that while he was working for a railroad company in Colombia, he had met an individual who strongly resembled and claimed to be Adolf HITLER. CITROEN claimed to have met this individual at a place called "Residencias Coloniales" in Tunja, (Boyaca), Colombia, which is, according to the source, overly populated with former German Nazis. According to CITROEN, the Germans residing in Tunja follow this alleged Adolf HITLER with an "idolatry of the Nazi past, addressing him as 'der Fuhrer' and affording him the Nazi salute and storm-trooper adulation".

3. CITROEN also showed the member of this office a photograph which was taken in Colombia of himself standing next to the alleged HITLER. This photograph was borrowed for a few hours to be reproduced, but unfortunately the negatives were too poor to make copies from. The original was returned to its owner and could not be easily obtained again. Because of this and the apparent fantasy of the report, the information was not submitted at the time it was received.

4. Phillip CITROEN resides in Maracaibo with his brother, Francois and is reported to be employed with a Dutch steamship company. Francois formerly worked for the Maracaibo Herald, and about two years ago he went into partnership with his brother Phillip and Alexander van DOBBEN, the Dutch Consul in Maracaibo as publishers of an English language newspaper, the Maracaibo Times, which is still in circulation. There is no biographical information presently available on Phillip or Francois CITROEN.

DOC. MICRO. SER.

1. On 29 September 1955, CIMELODY-3 reported the following. Neither CIMELODY-3 nor this Station is in a position to give an intelligent evaluation of the information and it is being forwarded as of possible interest.

2. CIMELODY-3 was contacted on 29 September 1955 by a trusted friend who served under his command in Europe and who is presently residing in Maracaibo. CIMELODY-3 preferred not to reveal the identity of his friend.

3. CIMELODY-3's friend stated that during the latter part of September 1955, a Phillip CITROEN, former German SS trooper, stated to him confidentially that Adolph HITLER is still alive. CITROEN claimed to have contacted HITLER about once a month in Colombia on his trip from Maracaibo to that country as an employee of the KNSM (Royal Dutch) Shipping Co. in Maracaibo. CITROEN indicated to CIMELODY-3's friend that he took a picture with HITLER not too long ago, but did not show the photograph. He also stated that HITLER left Colombia for Argentina around January 1955. CITROEN commented that inasmuch as ten years have passed since the end of World War II, the Allies could no longer prosecute HITLER as a criminal of war.

4. On 28 September 1955, CIMELODY-3's friend surreptitiously obtained the photograph which CITROEN referred to. On 29 September 1955, the photo was shown to CIMELODY-3 for purposes of getting his reaction to the possible veracity of this fantastic story. Obviously, CIMELODY-3 was not in any position to make any comments. Nonetheless, he borrowed the photograph long enough so that this Station could take any action deemed advisable. Photostats of this picture were taken, and are being forwarded. The photograph was to be returned to its owner the following day. The person on the left is alleged to be CITROEN and the person on the right is undoubtedly the person which CITROEN claims is HITLER. The back side of the photograph contained the following data: "Adolf SCHRITTELMAYOR, Tunga, Colombia, 1954."

LEARN THE DIFFERENCE

... and deprogram yourself!

(read Mein Kampf, Chapter 10, if you don't believe he's talking about what the Jews do)

Goebbels talking about the Jews:

"THE BIGGER THE LIE, THE MORE IT WILL BE BELIEVED."

- PAUL JOSEPH GOEBBELS

... taken out of context to make it seem like his own plan

Hitler talking about the Jews:

"MAKE THE LIE BIG, MAKE IT SIMPLE, KEEP SAYING IT, AND EVENTUALLY THEY WILL BELIEVE IT."

- ADOLF HITLER

... taken out of context to make it seem like his own plan

His actual plan:

"GOOD PROPAGANDA DOES NOT NEED TO LIE; INDEED, IT MAY NOT LIE. IT HAS NO REASON TO FEAR THE TRUTH. IT IS A MISTAKE TO BELIEVE THAT PEOPLE CANNOT TAKE THE TRUTH. THEY CAN. IT IS ONLY A MATTER OF PRESENTING THE TRUTH TO THE PEOPLE IN A WAY THAT THEY WILL BE ABLE TO UNDERSTAND. A PROPAGANDA THAT LIES PROVES THAT IT HAS A BAD CAUSE. IT CANNOT BE SUCCESSFUL IN THE LONG RUN."

- JOSEPH GOEBBELS

His actual plan:

Many people, especially ignorant people, want to punish you for speaking the truth, for being correct, for being you. Never apologize for being correct, or for being years ahead of your time. If you're right and you know it, speak your mind. Speak your mind even if you are a minority of one. The truth is still the truth.

Private equity, mostly. Buy a successful business, run it into the ground to squeeze as much money from it as possible. Liquidate and shut down for tax benefit. The private equity firm made bank, and they don't need the business anymore. Look at Panera Bread, Toys-R-US, Jersey Mikes. Private equity loopholes allow companies to kill small businesses. Nature of the beast, I guess.

Investing in Americans is actually hard. Really hard. It costs money and time and effort to make a person productive. It's a short term net loss. It's much easier to bring in skilled workers who might not do quite a good a job, but will work for a fraction of the cost and be happy just to be here.

A 50 year mortgage is crazy!

If you buy a home at 30, it won't be paid off until you're 80..

The average lifespan in America is.. 78😳

Here's a comparison of a 30-year vs. 50-year mortgage on a $400,000 home with 20% down at 7% interest:

Term (Years)	Monthly Payment ($)	Total Interest Paid
30	2,128.97	446,428.47
50	1,925.40	835,241.83

✅ Key takeaway:
The 50-year loan cuts the monthly payment by only about $200, but adds nearly $390,000 more in interest over the life of the loan. (>-)

This just means your house will be owned by the bank until you ~~die~~, and after.

Did you know John Steinbeck's depression-era classic 'The Grapes of Wrath' is among the 'Top 100 books banned' in America? I can see why:
Here's a short passage from Chapter 25:
"There is a crime here that goes beyond denunciation. There is a sorrow here that weeping cannot symbolize. There is a failure here that topples all our successes. The fertle Earth, the straight tree rows, the sturdy trunks, and the ripe fruit. And the children dying of (hunger) must die because a profit cannot be taken from an orange. And coroners must fill in the certificates - died of malnutrition - because the food must rot (if not sold at a profit).
...and in the eyes of the hungry there is a growing wrath. In the souls of the people the grapes of wrath are filling and growing heavy, growing heavy for the vintage."

THE UNITED STATES RUNS THE ONLY TRILLION DOLLAR INDUSTRY ON EARTH WHERE CUSTOMERS PAY WORKER SALARIES TWICE.

Once through the menu price.
Again through guilt.

The math on this sign: 40% tip.
The federal tipped minimum wage: $2.13 per hour.

It has not changed since 1991.

Thirty four years frozen while the restaurant industry grew from $200 billion to $1.1 trillion in annual revenue.

The server did not get richer.
The CEO did.

Meanwhile:

Japan. Tipping is an insult to professional dignity.

Australia. $24 minimum wage. No tipping expected.

Denmark. $22 minimum wage. Service included.

France. Tip included by law since 1987.

These nations did not collapse.
Their restaurants did not close.
Their service did not suffer.

What changed?

Workers got paid by employers instead of randomized customer charity.

America chose different.

America built a system where a single mother working doubles still needs your 40% to make rent. Where billion dollar chains pay $2.13 and call you greedy for noticing.

This is not generosity culture.
This is wage theft with better marketing.

The sign says "if you cannot tip, do not eat out."

The truth is simpler:

If you cannot pay your workers, do not open a restaurant.

197 countries figured this out.

One did not.

And that one has convinced itself that subsidizing corporate payroll through emotional blackmail at the point of sale is somehow freedom.

The rest of the world is not cruel.

The rest of the world simply made employers do their job.

What's your thought?

"There was a car called the Pinto. And if you slammed into the back of the Pinto, on occasion, the gas tank – which is right there – exploded, and the people died, or got horribly burned. Dozens of Pintos exploded, and people were dying. The engineers knew before a single Pinto exploded. They went to the board of directors of Ford Motor Company and said: 'We have a problem. We have a car that's virtually going to kill 3,000 people next year… We have to do a recall.' You know what the board did? The board said: 'We all own stock, guys, in the company. Let's do an analysis. If we do a recall and announce it, how much is it gonna cost the company and what's that gonna do to the stock price? It's gonna crash by 50%. If we do nothing and we settle with all 3,000 people, giving them 2, 3, 4 or 5 million $ each to the families, how much is it gonna cost the company and what's that gonna do to the stock price? Well, there's no comparison. It'll cost the company less and the stock price won't tank.' And you know what the response was in the meeting? "Fuck 'em, let them die!" That's exactly what was said at that meeting."

Empathy, bro. Literally just wanting people to be treated like human beings.

Let's just be honest here: the American Dream is dead, and it was buried in a shallow grave somewhere between Instagram filters and oat milk lattes. You expect me to rise and grind? For what? For whom? The economy is cooked, housing is a hallucination, and the only "girl next door" is a 32-year-old OnlyFans creator who charges $25 for eye contact.

There used to be a covenant — a sacred social contract: Work hard, be polite, do your taxes, and in return you'd get a stable job, a backyard, and a thin blonde girlfriend who laughs at your jokes and doesn't know what astrology is. That dream has been dissolved in a onions-based TikTok smoothie.

Instead, we get told to hustle. Deliver Uber Eats until our bones scream, just to afford rent in a shoebox where the neighbors vape through the walls and play Fortnite until 4am. All for what? To maybe meet a girl named Kaylee who thinks Andrew Tate is "low-key spitting"?

There is no reward. There is no Thin Blonde Girlfriend. She is a psyop. A genetically impossible mash-up of 2003 Maxim Magazine and AI-generated wish fulfillment. She doesn't exist in the wild. If she does, she's already been claimed by a crypto bro with veneers and a trust fund, or worse — she moved to Bali to become an "intuitive coach."

So why work? Why engage? Why perform the rituals of capitalism when the holy grail has been shattered? I refuse to labor for a system that no longer gives me the only thing I ever wanted: a petite woman with icy blue eyes, zero opinions, and an Instagram account with under 300 followers.

Until she is returned to us, until the thin blonde gf is made real again, I will remain in bed, unemployed, unshowered, and morally justified.

To be honest the great reset is and always had been a giant larp by those who uniquely found themselves in positions of great power because they immorally participated in the rigged banking system. This does not make them particularly intelligent or impressive. It's just a group of people willing to scam and steal while the masses are working honestly. The great reset is just an admission of their mortality. They can see an end is coming. What usually happens is they get mass decapitated in the streets a la France circa 1700s but they are sure they can just convince people to not only let them off the hook this time but even establish a new system with them totally in control of every aspect of finance and money.

It is not going to happen. They do not understand the systems they depend on to survive. If they do manage to destroy these systems they will never be able to recreate them. And those that can create systems will never let them waltz back in. We are due massive changes in society. This whole entire thing is a sick joke at this point. It not only no longer functions it's flat out absurd. When people begin to see it plainly they will reject it and start over in a sustainable way.

1) This woke culture is not sustainable
2) Reproduction rates are not sustainable
3) The FED money printing is not sustainable
4) Huge diverse populations under singular rule is not sustainable
5) This ugly tyranny is not sustainable

It's all going away. It's just a matter of time.

The Longhouse, the Panopticon, and the Global Village.

This is the architecture of the liberal state's systematic war on white boys.

Our institutions are egalitarian, punishing the masculine inclination toward competition and hierarchy.

Our culture sells erotic content as a surrogate for relationships and the responsibilities they entail.

Our governments accumulate censorship and surveillance powers, acting as intermediaries between oppressive majorities and protected minorities.

Until these institutions are recaptured and reformed, we will raise generations of deracinated, chestless men.

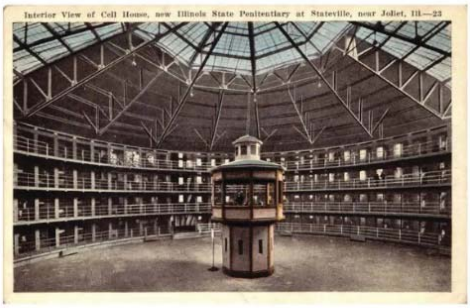
It broke my heart these past 4 days to see how many kindergarteners showed up to school with NO previous exposure to almost anything. It was so overwhelming for them to understand the concept of staying in line, wiping themselves, buttoning their own pants, opening a milk container, holding a pencil correctly.... I had one who didn't understand how to unzip his lunchbox so he could eat. Some can't tell you their name, or don't KNOW their actual given name that is on the roster. So many had never held a pencil at all, couldn't sing the alphabet song (let alone recognize any letters/numbers), couldn't count to ten or recognize shapes/colors.... Sometimes when I post about these things, someone asks, "Isn't that what school is for?? Why should parents have to do YOUR job for you?" Yes, school is for learning, but when they come in SO far behind right off the bat, it is so defeating and frustrating for these babies! Even at the age of five, they recognize when they don't know things other kids know. If a child knows who Pennywise the clown is and can recite every word (including the explicit ones) to the latest Cardi B song, but can't recite the alphabet, count to ten, or open a ketchup packet, we got probs. Even if you choose not to send your child to preschool, lots of these things could be could be learned just by putting them in front of PBS or learning apps rather than letting them watch Japanese anime all day and playing mindless video games with no educational value for 4 years. If you know a child who will be starting school next year or has just started this week, PLEASE take the time to interact with them and help them prepare. It overwhelms their little minds so much to come in knowing NOTHING. PLEASE HELP THEM!

The Panopticon



The Panopticon is a for-profit prison, designed by utilitarian philosopher Jeremy Bentham, which aims to maximise surveillance and minimise staff. A central guard tower constantly observes inmates, whose cells line the circular wall. The theory goes that constant surveillance will encourage compliant behaviour.

That is how our modern state operates.

The British state has tried to pry its citizens free from all the old organic loves and loyalties to family, faith, community, culture, and country, in order to make interactions between individuals, the economy, and the state as frictionless as possible. It wants to liquidate our identity down to inoffensive grey goo; as Tim Stanley wrote in The Telegraph recently, "a portable identity that is uncontroversial, because it demands nothing except to pay one's taxes and avoid murder."

Western leftist anti-white progressives and their kike masters have ruined the world. Not a single shred of beauty or joy remains in it. I have no prospects or hope in the future, there is nothing left for me in the remaining four or five decades of life other than to watch these bastards suffer and die. Not just any death, but to die screaming in as much pain and terror as possible. I want them to die in ways the human mind has yet to conceive. Every single sneering, smirking holier than thou American or Britroach virtue signalling godless leftist progressive who celebrates and supports immigration, shitskins, transsexuals, pedophiles, Muslims, groomers, feminists, the whole leftist kike ensemble.

I am not rich by any means, I make about 10,000 dollars a month and have about a million in savings, but if I could give any part of it to make a liberal die painfully as possible I'd give it without hesitation. I want to pay for them to be tortured on Liveleak like that ring of rich Westerners who paid Indonesians to torture baby monkeys for their amusement. I will dedicate the rest of my life and energies to this one objective, to hoarding enough wealth and resources to make this a reality. If I could just pay for one Judeo-Western leftist to suffer and die, meaning and happiness will be restored to my life once again

Parenting in an ultra-high-median-age area feels untenable. The contrast between our baby and the collapsing world around her is intense.
It's one thing to live in a place with no future as an adult, but with kids? It's dismal.

Nobody is breeding because we live in a utopia.

All information and entertainment is instantly accessible. You can find thousands of sexy kinky bitches who match your exact preference instantly. You can talk to super intelligence endlessly without it getting angry or impatient. Food is cheap and abundant. Everyone has air conditioning, internet access, delicious snacks, and can comfortably live on a subsistence income. There is no longer any point to "living fully". All that matters is making sure that you are beautiful and intelligent and living as long as possible.

This is exactly why all of the rats went extinct in the Mouse Utopia. Life is no longer a struggle. Humanity won. Problems don't exist anymore.

"The peasant owning his land, the fisherman owning his boat, although obliged to work hard, are, nevertheless, masters of themselves and of their time. Most industrial workers could enjoy similar independence and dignity. The white-collar people lose their personality just as factory hands do. It seems that modern business organization and mass production are incompatible with the full development of the human self. If such is the case, then industrial civilization, and not civilized man, must go."

ORGANICALLY FORMED, INFILTRATION PROOF CELLS OF ACTIVISTS?

No less than 2, no more than 5
Only people you have known your whole life.
Once your cell is formed, never any new members (tell them to go form their own)
No cell phones when meeting or working (put them in a microwave faraday cage at home before you leave, don't bring them to your meeting spot and leave it in your car like a moron) comms, if necessary can be achieved via cheap Baofeng radios if necessary, but you must destroy them after a major op.

3 levels of ops:
White: Legal (Flyers, banners, propaganda) Begin here with your team. Get practice doing things requiring coordination on a timetable. 5 people can flyer and propagandize a large area in a short period of time. *Buy a second hand printer for cash as many systems print a tracking code on each page that can be traced back to you. Wear gloves and face masks. You can dry Elmer's glue on your fingers to provide a degree of fingerprint obfuscation if wearing gloves would cause concern. You must take public transportation for the final leg of your journey to your OP area. Do not drive your POV or even a rental. Electric bikes work well because they can get you out of an area quickly with sustained speeds of 30mph thru parks, alleys etc and their purchase is not traceable.

Gray: Misdemeanor (defacing property, blocking traffic). Think Fight Club Project Mayhem with a focus on defacing/destroying WOKE propaganda. Each mission should have a singular focus, timetable and you must spend hours planning for contingencies, escape routes and alibies if caught. No one talks, everyone walks. Gray ops should only be initiated after your cell has 10+ White ops under it's belt. Mask up always (and your carrying a white and a black mask right?).

Black: Felony (burning govt. property, killing politicians, media etc.) This type of OP requires the most planning and commitment. Your cell should not attempt this if you do not have several successful Gray operations under your belts. Burning a political building down is easier than killing a politician or msm member, but both land you in 5 star GTA territory. Fire is a great tool, so start with destruction of property before moving on to minecrafting a public figure. Taking out a public figure requires some well honed skillsets. Ability to acquire a ghost firearm and be accurate under stress, impeccable timing and communication along with back of hand knowledge of your area and escape routes. Knowing that having multiples calls of a bomb threat come in to the Police as you initiate your op is a great way to stymie response times etc. Creating chaos by blowing up fireworks etc near your target will take the focus off your work on the target. Distractions have been a military tactic forever for a reason.

There is no communication or coordination needed between cells.
Info is obtained by watching the news of other cells actions and adjusting according to their successes/failures. The more cells that form, the more cells that WILL form. The news reporting on your op only serves to communicate the level of success, spurning on more successes.

This structure is immune to infiltration.
This structure is impossible to contain.
No one talks, everyone walks.

A thought on symbolism; this is an ego issue. DO NOT LEAVE A CALLING CARD. EVER. It's a piece of intel that allows globohomo to create intel maps and begin coordinating.
NO CALLING CARDS. NO EGO. NO ONE TALKS. EVERYONE WALKS

LEADERLESS RESISTANCE

The concept of Leaderless Resistance was proposed by Col. Ulius Louis Amoss, who was the founder of International Service of Information Incorporated, located in Baltimore, Maryland. Col. Amoss died more than fifteen years ago, but during his life was a tireless opponent of communism, as well as a skilled Intelligence Officer. Col. Amoss first wrote of Leaderless Resistance on April 17, 1962. His theories of organization were primarily directed against the threat of eventual Communist take-over in the United States. The present writer, with the benefit of having lived many years beyond Col. Amoss, has taken his theories and expounded upon them. Col. Amoss feared the Communists. This author fears the federal government. Communism now represents a threat to no one in the United States, while federal tyranny represents a threat to everyone . The writer has joyfully lived long enough to see the dying breaths of communism, but may, unhappily, remain long enough to see the last grasps of freedom in America.

In the hope that, somehow, America can still produce the brave sons and daughters necessary to fight off ever increasing persecution and oppression, this essay is offered. Frankly, it is too close to call at this point. Those who love liberty, and believe in freedom enough to fight for it are rare today, but within the bosom of every once great nation, there remains secreted, the pearls of former greatness. They are there. I have looked into their sparking eyes; sharing a brief moment in time with them as I passed through this life. Relished their friendship, endured their pain, and they mine. We are a band of brothers, native to the soil gaining strength one from another as we have rushed head long into a battle that all the weaker, timid men, say we can not win. Perhaps...but then again, perhaps we can. It's not over till the last freedom fighter is buried or imprisoned, or the same happens to those who would destroy their freedom.

> It is the duty of every patriot to make the tyrant's life miserable

Barring any cataclysmic events, the struggle will yet go on for years. The passage of time will make it clear to even the more slow among us that the government is the foremost threat to the life, and liberty of the folk. The government will no doubt make today's oppressiveness look like grade school work compared to what they have planned in the future. Meanwhile, there are those of us who continue to hope that somehow the few can do what the many have not. We are cognizant that before things get better they will certainly get worse as government shows a willingness to use ever more severe police state measures against dissidents. This changing situation makes it clear that those who oppose state repression must be prepared to alter, adapt, and modify their behavior, strategy, and tactics as circumstances warrant. Failure to consider new methods and implement them as necessary will make the government's efforts at suppression uncomplicated. It is the duty of every patriot to make the tyrant's life miserable. When one fails to do so he not only fails himself, but his people.

With this in mind, current methods of resistance to tyranny employed by those who love our race, culture, and heritage must pass a litmus test of soundness. Methods must be objectively measured as to their effectiveness, as well as to whether they make the government's intention of repression more possible or more difficult. Those not working to aid our objectives must be discarded or the government benefits from our failure to do so.

As honest men who have banded together into groups or associations of a political or religious nature are falsely labeled "domestic terrorists" or "cultists" and suppressed, it will become necessary to consider other methods of organization--or as the case may very well call for: non-organization. One should keep in mind that it is not in the government's interest to eliminate all groups. Some few must remain in order to perpetuate the smoke and mirrors vision for the masses that America is a "free democratic country" where dissent is allowed. Most organizations, however, that possess the potential for effective resistance will not be allowed to continue. Anyone who is so naive as to believe the most powerful government on earth will not crush any who pose a real threat to that power, should not be active, but rather, at home studying political history.

The question as to who is to be left alone and who is not, will be answered by how groups and individuals deal with several factors such as: avoidance of conspiracy plots, rejection of feeble minded malcontents, insistence upon quality of the participants, avoidance of all contact with the front men for the federals--the news media--and, finally, camouflage (which can be defined as the ability to blend in the public's eye the more committed groups of resistance with mainstream "kosher" associations that are generally seen as harmless.) Primarily though, whether any organization is allowed to continue in the future will be a matter of how big a threat a group represents. Not a threat in terms of armed might or political ability, for there is none of either for the present, but rather, threat in terms of potentiality. It is potential the federals fear most. Whether that potential exists in an individual or group is incidental. The federals measure potential threat in terms of what might happen given a situation conducive to action on the part of a restive organization or individual. Accurate intelligence gathering allows them to assess the potential. Showing one's hand before the bets are made, is a sure way to loose.

The movement for freedom is rapidly approaching the point where for many people, the option of belonging to a group will be nonexistent. For others, group membership will be a viable option for only the immediate future. Eventually, and perhaps much sooner than most believe possible, the price paid for membership will exceed any perceived benefit. But for now, some of the groups that do exist often serve a useful purpose either for the newcomer who can be indoctrinated into the ideology of the struggle, or for generating positive propaganda to reach potential freedom fighters. It is sure that, for the most part, this struggle is rapidly becoming a matter of individual action, each of its participants making a private decision in the quietness of his heart to resist: to resist by any means necessary. It is hard to know what others will do, for no man truly knows another man's heart. It is enough to know what one himself will do. A great teacher once said "know thyself." Few men really do, but let each of us, promise ourselves, not to go quietly to the fate our would-be masters have planned.

The concept of Leaderless Resistance is nothing less than a fundamental departure in theories of organization. The orthodox scheme of organization is diagrammatically represented by the pyramid, with the mass at the bottom and the leader at the top. This fundamental of organization is to be seen not only in armies, which are of course, the best illustration of the pyramid structure, with the mass of soldiery, the privates, at the bottom responsible to corporals who are in turn responsible to sergeants, and so on up the entire chain of command to the generals at the top. But the same structure is seen in corporations, ladies' garden clubs and in our political system itself. This orthodox "pyramid" scheme of organization is to be seen basically in all existing political, social and religious structures in the world today from the Federal government to the Roman Catholic Church. The Constitution of the United States, in the wisdom of the Founders, tried to sublimate the essential dictatorial nature of pyramidal organization by dividing authority into three: executive, legislative and judicial. But the pyramid remains essentially untouched.

This scheme of organization, the pyramid, is however, not only useless, but extremely dangerous for the participants when it is utilized in a resistance movement against state tyranny. Especially is this so in technologically advanced societies where electronic surveillance can often penetrate the structure revealing its chain of command. Experience has revealed over and over again that anti-state, political organizations utilizing this method of command and control are easy prey for government infiltration, entrapment, and destruction of the personnel involved. This has been seen repeatedly in the United States where pro-government infiltrators or agent provocateurs weasel their way into patriotic groups and destroy them from within.

In the pyramid type of organization, an infiltrator can destroy anything which is beneath his level of infiltration and often those above him as well. If the traitor has infiltrated at the top, then the entire organization from the top down is compromised and may be traduced at will.

An alternative to the pyramid type of organization is the cell system. In the past, many political groups (both right and left) have used the cell system to further their objectives. Two examples will suffice. During the American Revolution "committees of correspondence" were formed throughout the Thirteen colonies.

Their purpose was to subvert the government and thereby aid the cause of independence. The "Sons of Liberty", who made a name for themselves dumping government taxed tea into the harbor at Boston, were the action arm of the committees of correspondence. Each committee was a secret cell that operated totally independently of the other cells. Information on the government was passed from committee to committee, from colony to colony, and then acted upon on a local basis. Yet even in these bygone days of poor communication, of weeks to months for a letter to be delivered, the committees without any central direction whatsoever, were remarkable similar in tactics employed to resist government tyranny. It was, as the first American patriots knew, totally unnecessary for anyone to give an order for anything. Information was made available to each committee, and each committee acted as it saw fit. A recent example of the cell system taken from the left wing of politics are the Communists. The Communist, in order to get around the obvious problems involved in pyramidal organization, developed to an art the cell system. They had numerous independent cells which operated completely isolated from one another and particularly with no knowledge of each other, but were orchestrated together by a central headquarters. For instance, during World War II, in Washington, it is known that there were at least six secret Communist cells operating at high levels in the United States government (plus all the open Communists who were protected and promoted by President Roosevelt), however, only one of the cells was rooted out and destroyed. How many more actually were operating no one can say for sure.

The Communist cells which operated in the U.S until late 1991 under Soviet control could have at their command a leader, who held a social position which appeared to be very lowly. He could be, for example, a busboy in a restaurant, but in reality a colonel or a general in the Soviet Secret Service, the KGB. Under him could be a number of cells and a person active in one cell would almost never have knowledge of individuals who are active in another cell. The value of this is that while any one cell can be infiltrated, exposed or destroyed, such action will have no effect on the other cells; in fact, the members of the other cells will be supporting that cell which is under attack and ordinarily would lend very strong support to it in many ways. This is at least part of the reason, no doubt, that whenever in the past Communists were attacked in this country, support for them sprang up in many unexpected places.

The efficient and effective operation of a cell system after the Communist model, is of course, dependent upon central direction, which means impressive organization, funding from the top, and outside support, all of which the Communists had. Obviously, American patriots have none of these things at the top or anywhere else, and so an effective cell organization based upon the Soviet system of operation is impossible.

Two things become clear from the above discussion. First, that the pyramid type of organization can be penetrated quite easily and it thus is not a sound method of organization in situations where the government has the resources and desire to penetrate the structure; which is the situation in this country. Secondly, that the normal qualifications for the cell structure based upon the Red model does not exist in the U.S. for patriots. This understood, the question arises "What method is left for those resisting state tyranny?" The answer comes from Col. Amoss who proposed the "Phantom Cell" mode of organization. Which he described as Leaderless Resistance. A system of organization that is based upon the cell organization, but does not have any central control or direction, that is in fact almost identical to the methods used by the Committees of Correspondence during the American Revolution. Utilizing the Leaderless Resistance concept, all individuals and groups operate independently of each other, and never report to a central headquarters or single leader for direction or instruction, as would those who belong to a typical pyramid organization.

At first glance, such a type of organization seems unrealistic, primarily because there appears to be no organization. The natural question thus arises as to how are the "Phantom cells" and individuals to cooperate with each other when there is no intercommunication or central direction?

The answer to this question is that participants in a program of Leaderless Resistance through phantom cell or individual action must know exactly what they are doing, and how to do it. It becomes the responsibility of the individual to acquire the necessary skills and information as to what is to be done. This is by no means as impractical as it appears, because it is certainly true that in any movement, all persons involved have the same general outlook, are acquainted with the same philosophy, and generally react to given situations in similar ways. The pervious history of the committees of correspondence during the American Revolution show this to be true.

Since the entire purpose of Leaderless Resistance is to defeat state tyranny (at least insofar as this essay is concerned), all members of phantom cells or individuals will tend to react to objective events in the same way through usual tactics of resistance. Organs of information distribution such as newspapers, leaflets, computers, etc., which are widely available to all, keep each person informed of events, allowing for a planned response that will take many variations. No one need issue an order to anyone. Those idealist truly committed to the cause of freedom will act when they feel the time is ripe, or will take their cue from others who precede them. While it is true that much could be said against this type of structure as a method of resistance, it must be kept in mind that Leaderless Resistance is a child of necessity. The alternatives to it have been show to be unworkable or impractical. Leaderless Resistance has worked before in the American Revolution, and if the truly committed put it to use for themselves, it will work now.

It goes almost without saying that Leaderless Resistance leads to very small or even one man cells of resistance. Those who join organizations to play "let's pretend" or who are "groupies" will quickly be weeded out. While for those who are serious about their opposition to federal despotism, this is exactly what is desired.

From the point of view of tyrants and would be potentates in the federal bureaucracy and police agencies, nothing is more desirable than that those who oppose them be UNIFIED in their command structure, and that every person who opposes them belong to a pyramid type group. Such groups and organizations are an easy kill. Especially in light of the fact that the Justice (sic) Department promised in 1987 that there would never be another group that opposed them that they did not have at least one informer in. These federal "friends of government" are intelligence agents. They gather information that can be used at the whim of a federal D.A. to prosecute. The line of battle has been drawn. Patriots are required therefore, to make a conscious decision to either aid the government in its illegal spying, by continuing with old methods of organization and resistance, or to make the enemie's job more difficult by implementing effective countermeasures.

Now there will, no doubt, be mentally handicapped people out there who, while standing at a podium with an American flag draped in the background, and a lone eagle soaring in the sky above, will state emphatically in their best sounding red, white, and blue voice, "So what if the government is spying? We are not violating any laws." Such crippled thinking by any serious person is the best example that there is a need for special education classes. The person making such a statement is totally out of contact with political reality in this country, and unfit for leadership of any thing more than a dog sleigh in the Alaskan wilderness. The old "Born on the fourth of July" mentality that has influenced so much of the American patriot's thinking in the past will not save him from the government in the future. "Reeducation" for non-thinkers of this type will take place in the federal prison system where there are no flags or eagles, but abundance of men who were "not violating any law."

Most groups who "unify" their disparate associates into a single structure have short political lives. Therefore, those movement leaders constantly calling for unity of organization rather than the desirable unity of purpose, usually fall into one of three categories.

They may not be sound political tacticians, but rather, just committed men who feel unity would help their cause, while not realizing that the government would greatly benefit from such efforts. The Federal objective, to imprison or destroy all who oppose them, is made easier in pyramid organizations. Or perhaps, they do not fully understand the struggle they are involved in and that the government they oppose has declared a state of war against those fighting for faith, folk, freedom and constitutional liberty. Those in power will use any means to rid themselves of opposition. The third class calling for unity and let us hope this is the minority of the three, are men more desirous of the supposed power that a large organization would bestow, than of actually achieving their stated purpose.

Conversely, the last thing Federal snoops would have, if they had any choice in the matter, is a thousand different small phantom cells opposing them. It is easy to see why. Such a situation is an intelligence nightmare for a government intent upon knowing everything they possibly can about those who oppose them. The Federals, able to amass overwhelming strength of numbers, manpower, resources, intelligence gathering, and capability at any given time, need only a focal point to direct their anger. A single penetration of a pyramid type of organization can lead to the destruction of the whole. Whereas, Leaderless Resistance presents no single opportunity for the Federals to destroy a significant portion of the Resistance.

With the announcement by the Department of Justice (sic) that 300 FBI agents formerly assigned to watching Soviet spies in the US (domestic counter intelligence) are now to be used to "combat crime", the federal government is preparing the way for a major assault upon those persons opposed to their policies. Many anti-government groups dedicated to the preservation of the America of our forefathers can expect shortly to feel the brunt of a new federal assault upon liberty.

It is clear, therefore, that it is time to rethink traditional strategy and tactics when it comes to opposing a modern police state. America is quickly moving into a long dark night of police state tyranny, where the rights now accepted by most as being inalienable will disappear. Let the coming night be filled with a thousand points of resistance. Like the fog which forms when conditions are right and disappears when they are not, so must the resistance to tyranny be.

"If every person has the right to defend--even by force--his person, his liberty, and his property, then it follows that a group of men have the right to organize and support a common force to protect these rights constantly." ---The Law. Frederick Bastiat Paris, 1850.

Men are retreating from relationships, from institutional demands, from collective obligation. Not by cowardice, nor nihilism, nor weakness but by sacred refusal to collude with a world that has hollowed out the feminine into parody and severed eros from its mythic root.

This retreat is not a conscious movement toward soul, for most men have not heard of soul. It is not a deliberate descent into myth, for most don't remember the myths. And yet it happens, everywhere.

Men retreat not in search of the feminine within but in search of refuge. They turn away from real relationships, work, education, not because they hate women, but because the outer feminine devoid of beauty, of function, of soul has become unrecognizable and if given a choice between emptiness and the parody, they choose emptiness. They choose nothing rather than violate what remains of their inner integrity.

But it is there in the void that the great possibility stirs.

Even if they do not name her, do not know her, have never met her, still within that emptiness the anima awaits.

She does not need to be reimagined, reengineered, or "updated". She does not ask to be made familiar to the modern psyche. She need only be seen, once. As she is in the dark, without distortion, without irony, without demand.

This act of remembering is enough.

Because where culture collapses, myth re-emerges and where men descend into the silence beneath language, soul prepares its next eruption. The anima was never meant to be found in daylight; she is born in shadow, dwells in dream and speaks first through absence.

So let it be said: true virtue is born in darkness.

And when men meet her there not as escape, not as fantasy, but as a reawakening they will return. Not as obedient citizens of a broken world, but as bearers of the fire, as visionaries, warriors, poets, and builders, not of new systems but of meaningful life.

This is not disappearance, it's gestation.

I started calling companies and saying "I was told to call to schedule my interview." The results are insane.

I was getting absolutely nowhere, sending my resume into the void. After four months of getting ghosted by pretty much every company I applied to, I was at my wits' end.

Then I had this epiphany: these recruiters are just buried under hundreds of applications. It's not personal; they're just overwhelmed and have probably lost track of who they've spoken to and who they haven't. It's organised chaos.

So I came up with a new strategy. I'd apply for a job online, give it a few days to get into their system, and then I'd call the main line. When I got someone in HR, I'd just say something like, "Hi, I'm following up on my application. I was told to give you a call today to schedule an interview." I'd say it with total confidence, as if it's the most normal thing in the world.

The crazy part is how well it's working. I've landed 5 interviews in the last 6 weeks, which is mind-blowing compared to the zero I got in the 4 months prior.

I've tried this about 25 times now. It only blew up in my face twice. One time the HR person was sharp and said, "Told by who? I'm the only one who handles scheduling." I just mumbled something about a bad connection and hung up. But a couple of failures for that kind of success rate? I'll take those odds any day.

The only way to fight against an oppressive, genocidal and hypertechnological regime in the 21st century is through SABOTAGE.

Burn down government and corporate buildings.
Block all the major roads.
Smash cameras and traffic lights.
Disrupt food and water supplies.
Fry the electric grid.
Rip the gas pipes out.
Cut the Internet cables.
Set lawns and trees on fire.
Dump garbage everywhere.
Fill the sky with kites and drones.
Vandalize every car you see.
Call bomb threats in airports.
Find and destroy the AI data centers.
DDOS public online services.
Doxx government employees and make their lives hell.
Cover the homes of the rich in feces.

Also remember: never use telecommunications to organize. Be completely anonymous and decentralized. Focus on medium-large cities full of immigrants and traitors. When someone else starts a fire, be prepared to immediately follow through in a different location. Stretch government resources as thin as possible. They will never be able to keep up, ultimately leading to their capitulation.

Pepper spray is still illegal..ladies you should NOT grind some scorpion pepper and soak it in rubbing alcohol for 8 hrs and then mix in cooking oil ..then drain the mixture and place it into a spray bottle

Do not add vinegar so it won't spoil
Do not add other pepper when grinding
Do not add clove powder to cooking oil.

The vulnerable points on a transformer are:
• The Oil Conservator Tank
• Ceramic Bushings
• Core Winding
• Silica Gel Breathers
You shoot these with a scoped rifle at 2 story level elevation with cover from bushing shrapnel. Do not fire indiscriminately from a spider hole and leave 100+ shells on the ground.

I know retarded people will read this so let me explain to you:
• Cut the fucking cable to a cell tower, no E911
• Shoot breathers, overheating
• Shoot oil tank, overheating and not cooling
• Shoot bushings, no way to connect as the circuit is stopped.
• Shoot iron core, winding is being ripped by bullets, not connecting.
• Shoot personnel, they can't radio for help.
• Bring spark gap transmitters, they jam broadband radio.

You can use an RF suitcase - an integrated RF subsystem - to fry life support in hospitals, critical infrastructure and water/power generation, take out servers, take out corporations, take out security cameras to banks/bunkers/military bases/police stations/etc to irreversibly destroy electronics and/or cover your tracks. You can also easily create these devices at home to take out anything that has no eletromagnetic shielding. It is basically a giant spark gap emitter.

If you want to impact things mess up logistics. Get roads and/or bridge, regular or rail, blocked or out for a few days and you cause millions in economic loss and don't have to hurt anyone. Can be done by anyone without planning along thousands upon thousands of empty miles which can not be all be guarded. They even showed some niggers throwing small rocks on a road and ya thats enough to stop the trucks and stop the country. They will clean it up but it can be repeated millions of times by millions of lone wolves tired of getting their jobs taken by turd worlders.

If there isn't a piece of this country for us then no one gets a fucking piece.

URBAN RESPONSE TO COMMUNIST PRESENCE

>SITUATION: Communist / Socialist armed rally in local town or city >ENEMY: a) numbering anywhere from 25-200 personnel b) armed with modern or last-gen small arms c) lack training, discipline, or unit coherency >FRIENDLY: a) UNIT MISSION to demoralize communist militia and cause personnel to rout.

"""STEPS:""" >Preparation
>Infiltration of AO
>Setup of Final Firing Position (FFP)
>Rules of Engagement (ROE) >Execution
>Exfiltration of AO

'''STEP ONE: Preparation'''
>ATTIRE: Wear everyday attire that will easily blend into a crowd. Streetwear such as Blue jeans and a T-Shirt will likely gain you the least attention. Shoes should be comfortable running shoes that do not grab too much attention.
>WEAPONRY: Take-down rifles will be the best choice for this operation. Anything that can be disassembled and stored in a bag in less than 20 seconds is your limit. In addition to this; the rifle must be chambered in "at least" .223 or 5.56. Affixing a suppressor to your rifle will aid in concealment of your FFP. A concealable handgun is optional so long as it can be secured and will not fall out should you have to run >AMMUNITION: If you do not have access to soft-points, or subsonics if you choose to use a suppressor, then FMJ is your only other choice. HP or defensive ammunition is not recommended for this operation.
>TRANSPORT: Your primary rifle should be stowed in a bag that will not gain attention. A jansport backpack or similar is preferred. Carrying a "tactical" backpack with MOLLE on it will only garner attention.
>TRANSPORTATION: It is recommended to use a vehicle that is not easily identifiable. A muscle car or a vehicle you customized yourself is not recommended for this, though can be used.

STEP TWO: Infiltration
>First identify the area in which communists combatants are rallying
>Your AO is a half-mile radius from this center
>Park your vehicle in an area that will not garner attention. A parking lot within an alley is one thing. Parking in the middle of a road in an alley is another.
>If OPFOR is mobile and moving, analyze their route and predict where they will be marching
>Your FFP will be overlooking this route

STEP 3: FFP Setup
>Your FFP should have a field of view overlooking the OPFOR positions or future positions
>Your FFP should be in Open Air; meaning that if you shoot once OPFOR won't be able to accurately triangulate the position of the gunshot due to the echo off of walls.
>The FFP does not have to be in a building. It can be from your vehicle, it can be a secluded area, it can be behind a shrub, or in a ditch
>Your FFP MUST have more than one point of escape. If you are shooting from the vehicle, you must make sure to have a route of escape that does not limit you to only one exit.

STEP 4: ROE
>PRIMARY TARGETS: Anyone holding a bullhorn, Anyone holding a flag, anyone with obvious authority or seniority in the group
>SECONDARY TARGETS: Vehicle drivers, personnel carrying heavy weaponry, personnel with high-power optics
>NOT A TARGET: Standard infantry / personnel, Bystanders, Reporters, Journalists

STEP 5: Execution
>*YOU MAY ONLY MAKE ONE SHOT, IF YOU MISS, IT'S OKAY Making a follow-up shot will only reveal where the first shot came from, your goal is to get out of this alive
>After taking your shot, retrieve the brass that may have spit out of your gun, DO NOT LEAVE IT BEHIND as not leaving brass will make it harder to identify the FFP after you have left, making you even harder to find >Immediately break-down your rifle and stow it in the bag, begin exfiltration

STEP 6: Exfiltration
>Move to your vehicle on-foot. Walk the entire way there, do not run, do not jog. Try to mimick people around you. If they aren't alarmed, neither are you.
>Drive home and keep calm. If you need to take medication for this, do what you must so long as you don't panick. If there are sirens behind you, pull over and act normal. If you are pulled over; be a good samaratin. Do not shoot police, they are just doing their job.
>When you make it home, do not post about it on social media. Do not post about it on forums or on image boards.
>If you have to keep a journal, do it. Acting like nothing happened will be the hardest part, and it will take all of your strength.
>Enjoy watching commies scatter

On the 13th September I will ask something of the British public, British patriots that I would never ask of if I weren't willing to lead the charge! If certain individuals can ask for our throats to be slit with zero accountability or repercussions then that allows us free reign to defend ourselves in such a manner that will rattle foreign hostiles and our government to the very core! Choose a side because this is ultimately what it has come down to! See you on the 13th September and prepare your shields! 🛡️🫡🇬🇧

If you want an example of how crime is a social construct, consider this.

Briana Boston said "delay defend depose" to an insurance corp. She owns 0 guns, but was arrested, charged with terrorism, & had to pay $100K bond.

Brad Spafford had multiple illegal guns, 150 bombs, lied to the FBI, advocated assassinating Kamala, but is NOT charged with terrorism, and had to pay a $25K bond.

Empty words towards an exploitative corporation are "terrorism" but actual illegal bombs & illegal guns and calls to assassinate the VP are not. Just Incredible.

Couple who discover migrant in motorhome are fined

Border Force officials were called to Adrian and Joanne Fenton's home in Essex after they found the man hidden in their bike rack [Credit: Joanne Fenton]

A couple who discovered a migrant had clung to the back of their vehicle all the way home from France have been issued a £1,500 fine.

Adrian and Joanne Fenton said they called police when they found the person zipped inside the cover of a bike rack at their home in Heybridge, Essex, in October.

They later received a fine from the Home Office for failing to "check that no clandestine entrant was concealed" in the motorhome. The pair said they were drafting an appeal.

The Home Office said penalties were "designed to target negligence rather than criminality".

"At no point did I believe I would be fined by taking correct and moral action," said Mr Fenton, writing in an email exchange to the Home Office, seen by the BBC.

Schoolchildren taught black people built Stonehenge

Drive to decolonise history curriculums has 'gone too far', warns report

Schoolchildren are being taught that black people built Stonehenge as part of "decolonised" history curriculums, a report has found.

The claim is made in the book "Brilliant Black British History", which is still used in schools across the country, according to research by Policy Exchange, the think-tank.

Jon Richelieu Booth posted a picture of himself holding a shotgun at a Florida shooting range, and UK police treated it like a crime scene. He was arrested, jailed overnight, warned to "think about how posts make people feel," and had his phone and computers seized, leaving him unable to work for weeks. Authorities finally dropped the baseless public-order charges, confirming what critics call Britain's new rule: the process is the punishment.

THE UK'S 'Independent' JEW-DICIARY

- Jews form only 0.5% of the UK population
- They claim antisemitism, persecution and prejudice
- Yet for >100 years, they have occupied senior roles in the UK Judiciary without apparent obstacle. In fact, they appear vastly over-represented?
- Many Jewish judges have benefited from privileged backgrounds such as Banking and Merchants
- Many have key roles on Commissions, Committees, international courts, Privy Council and are Life Peers
- Is our Judiciary as independent as it claims? YOU decide.

Keir Starmer admitted he's jewish lmao

UK's new prime minister, Keir Starmer, observes Shabbat, supports Israel and vows to fight antisemitism

Starmer's wife is Jewish, they're raising their kids as Jews, and Friday night dinner is sacrosanct

The United Kingdom's new prime minister, Keir Starmer, spoke in January to the Jewish Labour Movement at a conference in London. Photo by Chris J

Nicholas hated the Jews, as he felt they were anti-Christ. All his enemies were lumped into one group, Jews.

English were referred to simply as Jews. He often said at this time, "An Englishman is a zhid (Jew)."[61]

@sammywoodhouse1
I've received a phone call from South Yorkshire Police tonight about my reporting on X.
They've asked me to delete posts and not to report on Rotherham professionals moving forward even though they're no reporting restrictions on the case.
I'd like to add, the information I've reported came directly from South Yorkshire Police over 6 months ago.
It's also been in the public domain for over 6 months.
I'd also like to add the police officer didn't really have a clue what was going on.

A pre-sentence report will normally be considered necessary if the offender belongs to one (or more) of the following cohorts:

- at risk of first custodial sentence and/or at risk of a custodial sentence of 2 years or less (after taking into account any reduction for guilty plea)
- a young adult (typically 18-25 years; see further information below at section 3)
- female (see further information below at section 3)
- from an ethnic minority, cultural minority, and/or faith minority community

Or if the court considers that one or more of the following may apply to the offender:

- has disclosed they are transgender
- has or may have any addiction issues

"White girls matter the least" is official UK court precedent.
A child molester who abused two Asian girls was rightly given a longer sentence than if his victims had been white because Asian sex crime victims suffer more, a leading judge has ruled.
Mr Justice Walker said it was proper for paedophile Jamal Muhammed Raheem Ul Nasir to have been given a tougher than normal sentence because his victims were Asian.

U.S. President Donald Trump says he will meet

In a speech to European leaders, Vice President JD Vance said the continent's recent censorship activities were a bigger threat to its existence than Russia.

"The threat that I worry the most about vis-à-vis Europe is not Russia, it's not China. It's not any other external actor," he said in an address at the Munich Security Conference.

"What I worry about is the threat from within the retreat of Europe from some of its most fundamental values, values shared with the United States of America."

Vance called out former European Commissioner Thierry Breton, who said in January that if the right wing German AfD party were to win elections in Germany, the results could go the way of Romania (cancelled).

The vice president even called out the organizers of the Munich conference, who he said had "banned lawmakers representing populist parties on both the left and the right from participating in these conversations."

The conference barred the far-right Alternative for Germany (AfD) and the newly formed left-populist Sahra Wagenknecht Alliance (BSW) for what MSC chair Christoph Heusgen described as a rejection of the conference's principle of "peace through dialogue."

"To many of us on the other side of the Atlantic, it looks more and more like old entrenched interests hiding behind ugly Soviet-era words like 'misinformation' and 'disinformation,' who simply don't like the idea that somebody with an alternative viewpoint might express a different opinion or, God forbid, vote a different way, or even worse, win an election."

The craziest thing about Europe is that they have all of the negatives that come with Authoritarianism, but none of the positives.

Usually the deal goes something like "we're gonna repress and censor and surveil you, but it's because we're cracking down on crime and degeneracy and foreigners." The well-being of their citizens is supposed to be the thing that justifies the authoritarian behavior.

But instead, you're getting all the crime and exploitation of Anarchy, with all the governmental domination of Totalitarianism.

They can track down mothers for their Facebook posts, but are impotent to stop systemic rape gangs.

Excerpt of what was written in 2016 by the bulgarian psychiatrist and theologist Nikolay Mihaylov Ph.D.

The unspoken truth is that the American ruling elite wants Russia to die, and she refuses. This is the "scandal". The suicide of Russia seems to them a natural and just outcome, a proportionate act of repentance for the Soviet period and Stalinist repressions. But the truth is that these people want repentance not for a "period", but for the fact of Russian availability. Russia is harmful. Solzhenitsyn wrote about this matter with great chagrin... Despite unilateral concessions by Gorbachev and Yeltsin, the Western partnership was refused. Not communism, but Russia is in the crosshairs. She is the enemy.

>> Anonymous (ID: d95ShpN4) 09/19/25(Fri)11:38:58 No.516543735 ▶

>> Anonymous (ID: eCmBzsv3) 09/19/25(Fri)11:39:19 No.516543758 ▶ >>516543783 >>516546059

>>516543626 (OP)
The collapse of the USSR and the disintegration of the Russian Federation are an American trophy of the "cold war", the first event implies the second in a strict and "just" sequence. Either Western-style liberalization or pressure to disintegration. Both options aim at historical erasure, this is visible to the naked eye. "The territory with the raw materials" is subject to annexation. The proposal for Western-style liberalization is undoubtedly a hidden form of "final solution". Russia under the presidency of Khodorkovsky or someone else of that ilk will be served as America's first Thanksgiving gift. Along with the turkey.

Russia cannot claim a civilizational originality and a specific cultural type, Russia is purely and simply a weak West, an eternally lagging student with reprehensible behavior. Russia must be dissolved around in the broad "Atlantic context" or encapsulated in a reduced area under strict quarantine. There is no cure for the Russian gene.

The rational analysis of Russian imperfections is the task of "reasonable suspicion", but it does not explain the deep antipathy, the pure denial of the "Russian fact". The essential slips away. And that is what they will never forgive. They will not forgive "Eternal Russia" (Mamleev). Late postmodern liberalism and the Orthodox Christian tradition are ideologically absolutely incompatible. The fact that the Russian state actually or nominally protects "traditional values" infuriates lovers of postmodern "freedom" and polarizes attitudes towards modern Russia. The clash is global and runs deep...
Russia does not meet the liberal democratic criteria for belonging to the civilized world. Russia is inextricably linked to its communist past and, in the view of the typical liberal, even worse, to its Orthodox-Christian tradition. What we will never be forgiven for is Orthodoxy, the Foreign Minister of the Russian Federation, Sergey Lavrov, said recently. I consider this finding entirely plausible.

Russia is an anti-bourgeois country by "instinct" and tradition. Russians do not respect money, and when they do, the more sensitive consider it a satanic mystery. In God we trust on the dollar bill is a sacrilegious synthesis of God and Mammon. The dollar is not an icon. There is a Russian tradition of mistrust of the rich. The Calvinist theory of the overcomer as predestined for eternal salvation (according to Weber) is for the Russian Orthodox person a completely insane idea, a perversion and nonsense. It seems to the rich man to repent and give away. And it's not true that money doesn't smell.

Russia's vocation is to punish the strong for their insolence, says Alexander Panarin, a prominent Russian thinker. Russia has the "mysterious quality", he says, of attracting the weak for revenge against the strong. Russian egalitarianism rejects the global plutocratic hierarchy as evil inequality. At the top are the sinful. Rogues attract money as the lamp attracts insects (Davila). This global elite with the conceit of a planetary owner experiences Russia as a hint of apocalypse, of revelation and judgment. Russia is by temperament and spirit "opposition" and "patron". Russia attracts and scares, fascinates and repels. This is, it seems to me, true beyond all political considerations, ambiguities and disputes. There is something excessive, almost monstrous, yet alluring about the aura of this country. Countries border each other, and Russia borders God, says Rilke. Hence the gravity of the East, the spiritual Russophilia...

Russia radiates anxiety, a precarious balance and risk. This will have to be acknowledged. The Russian "power vertical" implies obedience and powerful administrative tutelage. At the bottom is chaos and potential rebellion. "Oh, storm don't wake the sleeping, chaos stirs beneath them" (Tyutchev). But the Russian rebellion is postponed in case of external danger, this is important to remember... The motherland is a sacred category, an altar. From which follows an unexpected practical conclusion: while NATO patrols the Russian border, Putin can be calm, or as they say in the jargon - "rest". The threat against Russia quashes the Russian rebellion and consolidates power. And this means that NATO, this stupid machine, guards Russian power, protects it from itself. NATO - Putin's bodyguard. Hilarious paradox...

American foreign policy is driven by the momentum of a failed neoconservative cabal of ex-Trotskyists unable to learn anything from their own failures. These people cannot change, they are numb to old habits (Dominique Lieven). They call this breed of doctrinaires "residual elites", survivors of the "cold war". People with a dichotomized consciousness, narcissistic fantasists of "American exceptionalism".

The "pressure to the east" (Drang nach osten) created "reactive Russophiles", people repulsed by hysterical propaganda and frightened by gambling behavior. They are flippantly pushing things towards a second Cuban Missile Crisis. And it is clear to any person with a sound head that global challenges and Islamic terrorism imply an intelligent strategic compromise and a new multipolar structure of global security. The idea of postponing this task "until we finish off Putin" is utter nonsense, a psychopath's dream.

Putin is stylized by the official propaganda as a cunning Eurasian persona, a bandit on the loose. I am tempted to suggest, however, that some of the Western leaders experience it ambivalently, with mixed feelings of respect, envy and destructive fantasies. They envy the fullness of his power from the position of their own universally puzzled impotence. They hang out on stage "underweight", compare potency and depress. But they are a group and whisper tricks to each other. They have a "cause". They are troubled by gender justice...

Example of photo OP by CIA

The kind of pic the CIA wants you to see and associate Soviet Russia with

- taken in fall/winter
- close-up so it seems like it's densely built
- mostly shows flats decades after Soviet fall
- grey/urban filter to make it liveless and "colder"

The kind of of pic the CIA doesn't want you to see

- taken in summer (or any other weather that isn't just clouds)
- wide angel so you see the large green areas arround flats where people are supossed to relax and spend their free time
- no filter

🇲🇽MEXICO: 200 PAIRS OF SHOES FOUND AT CARTEL CREMATORIUM
A search collective uncovered a clandestine crematorium in Jalisco, exposing yet another grim chapter of Mexico's disappearance crisis.
Authorities confirmed burnt human remains, bullet casings, and makeshift underground ovens—likely used by the Jalisco New Generation Cartel, now designated a terrorist group by the Trump administration.
With nearly 15,000 missing in Jalisco alone, this discovery is a chilling reminder of the cartel violence consuming Mexico.

🚨 TRUMP JUST BODYSLAMMED JUSTIN TRUDEAU

"He was unable to tell me when the Canadian Election is taking place, which made me curious, like, what's going on here? I then realized he is trying to use this issue to stay in power. Good luck Justin!"

"Justin Trudeau, of Canada, called me to ask what could be done about Tariffs. I told him that many people have died from Fentanyl that came through the Borders of Canada and Mexico, and nothing has convinced me that it has stopped. He said that it's gotten better, but I said, "That's not good enough." The call ended in a "somewhat" friendly manner!"

In case you were wondering: the corporation of Canada is owned by the United States Corporation. So all this talk of the 51st State has already been the case for decades. President Trump is likely aware of this.

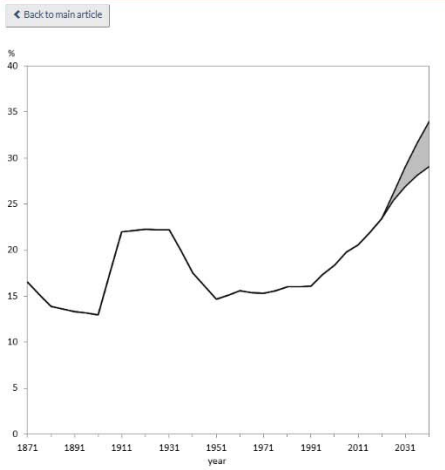
Proportion of immigrants in the population, Canada, 1871 to 2016 (estimated) and 2021 to 2041 (projected)



Notes: In this figure, prior to 1981, immigrants consisted of all persons born outside Canada. In the 1981 and 1986 censuses, the immigrant population consisted of persons who were not Canadian citizens by birth. Beginning in 1991, the immigrant population is defined as persons who are, or have been, landed immigrants in Canada, which means that it does not include non-permanent residents nor foreign-born persons who are Canadian citizens by birth. The shaded area shows the interval between the minimum and maximum values projected by all scenarios considered.
Sources: Censuses of population (3901), 2011 National Household Survey (5178), 2016 Census (adjusted) (3901) and Population projections on immigration and diversity for Canada and its regions, 2016 to 2041 (5126).

Assisted ~~dying~~ killing in Canada:

Journal of Death and Dying estimate: From 2027 to 2047, people with “mental illness,” – meaning anybody can qualify, you don’t have to be dying anymore, you can just have a hard time – will amount to 14.7 million Canadians, whose killing will save the government 1.273 trillion CAD, trillion with a ‘t’, instead of providing palliative care.

>As of November 15, 2025, reports indicate that advocacy groups in Canada are pushing for the expansion of Medical Assistance in Dying (MAID) to include children deemed "mature minors," with some proposals suggesting that 16- and 17-year-olds could be eligible for euthanasia without parental consent. This push follows a 2023 recommendation by the Special Joint Committee on Medical Assistance in Dying that eligibility for MAID should not be denied based on age alone.
The expansion is expected to be a major focus in 2027, when the government is set to begin euthanizing individuals whose only medical condition is a mental illness. The Canadian government has not yet officially adopted the expansion to include children, but the idea is gaining traction through advocacy groups like Dying With Dignity Canada.
The term "mature minors" is used to describe children capable of making decisions about MAID, though the definition of "mature" remains vague and could apply to children of various ages. A 2023 Ipsos poll cited by Dying With Dignity Canada found that 71% of Canadians supported the ability for mature minors to request MAID if all other criteria were met. The push for child euthanasia is part of a broader trend of expanding MAID eligibility beyond terminal illness, including for mental illness, which has already been delayed due to public backlash. Critics, including Frank Bergman of Slay News, have described the movement as part of a dangerous "mission creep" in Canada's euthanasia program, warning that it targets vulnerable populations and undermines safeguards.

The Purge: India Edition
Let me start by saying I'm not a racist. I've had many friends of all colours: Blacks, Middle Eastern, Asians, and even Indians.
But hear me out. Every year Canada should have an annual purge where we hunt down and kill Indians until the employment rate among the youth is much lower. It doesn't even have to be targeted towards all Indians. Just the ones that arrived to Canada after 2021.
I find this an acceptable solution to lessen the difficulty of finding a job in the current job market.

Christian Women Gang-Raped and Paraded Naked in India: 'The Police Were There with the Mob'

Huge protests erupted in the conflicted Indian state of Manipur on Friday after a viral video showed two women from the Christian Kuki tribe being paraded naked and sexually assaulted by a howling mob of Hindu men.

The viral video threatening to set Manipur ablaze was actually filmed on May 4 in the Thoubal district, but was not made public until Wednesday because the Indian government long ago blacked out Internet coverage in Manipur. In the video clip, which is less than 30 seconds long, two nude Kuki women – one in her 20s, the other in her 40s – were dragged toward an open field by a large mob of men who screamed insults at them. Some of the men groped the victims as they were pulled along. The clip ends with a group of men raping the younger woman. According to police reports, a third woman in her 50s was also assaulted and the youngest victim's father and brother were killed by the mob, which numbered close to a thousand men, many of them armed with rifles.

The mob looted and burned the village where the victims lived. According to the police complaint, the three women and the two men who were killed had actually fled the village and were under police protection when the mob took them away from the police. The father of the family was murdered instantly, while his son was killed while attempting to protect the women. The three women survived the assault and made their way to a relief camp.

Many do not know of the battles we fought in China, against the globalist Jewish cabal in the 2010s.

In the 2010s, the Chinese internet were rife with neoliberal and pro-west views, a lot of these public intellectuals were philosemitic (Judeophilia).

Fake claims like Jews are naturally intelligent, or Israel is the victim in the middle east were widespread.

By 2016, with our new government consolidated, we then started to deal with a lot of these public intellectuals, some were forced into exile, others simply left the public opinion sphere after funding from the West were cut.

Many blatantly false pro-Jew/Zionist and pro-Israel opinions were effectively countered by amplifying the truth about the genocidal nature of Israel.

It is perhaps the most effective, public opinion influence campaign in our history, we turned the ship around within 5 years.

Mainland Chinese are some of the least competent humanoids on earth. I don't call them human because they don't act human and treat human life like garbage.

What you see in China that looks like a civilized high-tech first world society is just that, the appearance of something. They build tall buildings with flashy lights and no plumbing. They build escalators that eat people instead of taking them to the next floor. People who drive there don't know how to use the brake pedal. They weld people into their apartments to try to control a cold virus and the people burn to death when the building catches on fire. They collect oil out of the sewer and use it to cook food that they feed each other. They build entire cities where nobody lives and the cities disintegrate after just a few years because the construction is so shoddy. They have to import food because their soil is so full of toxins that they dump into the environment after manufacturing worthless plastic crap. They kidnap girls and turn them into sex slaves for the village because they have so many extra men because they abort females or stick them on piles of dying female babies because of their stupid backwards culture. They destroy thousands of years of culture and tradition because they think it will bring about their retarded communist delusions. They hunt animals to extinction just to harvest body parts like fins and penises for their stupid superstitious nonsense. They decimate fish populations in the ocean with their retarded and extremely destructive and wasteful fishing practices. They hoard ridiculous amounts of food that goes to waste and watch their neighbors starve.

If you look into China you will find nothing but horror and evil and barbarism and backwardness that you wouldn't think is possible in the past 5000 years.

If you think these insects have the ability to successfully self-govern you are deluded. They can't even make baby formula without putting poison in it.

Chongqing is one of the most poorly "designed" cities in human history. It's like five cities built on top of each other in various states of collapse. There is no street level because of this, and every building exits from halfway up. Up in the hills, outside of the CBD, the entire city is completely run down and rotting. Because of the density and how stupidly close the buildings have been constructed to one another, apartments and shows are regularly used as pedestrian walkways. Essentially there is no distinction between public and private space.

Smart money, as the saying goes, is bailing out of China. The country's millionaires and billionaires are emigrating in record numbers, with 2024 likely to see an out migration of 15,200 such people.

Henley & Partners, an investment migration firm, keeps track of such things and notes that this year's expected figure is some 10% above 2023's out migration of 13,800. Add to that the 500 or so high net worth individuals who are expected to leave Hong Kong, the out migration jump is that much greater. America and Singapore will receive most of the flow. There is no way to document how much wealth these people will take with them, but from past trends, Henley & Partners estimates that each migrant will take the equivalent wealth of between $30 million and $1.0 billion.

Chongqing is one of the most poorly "designed" cities in human history. It's like five cities built on top of each other in various states of collapse. There is no street level because of this, and every building exits from halfway up. Up in the hills, outside of the CBD, the entire city is completely run down and rotting. Because of the density and how stupidly close the buildings have been constructed to one another, apartments and shows are regularly used as pedestrian walkways. Essentially there is no distinction between public and private space.

South Korea is what you get when you combine a degenerate version of Western capitalism with Eastern hyper-competitiveness and go on a speed-run.

Trump just played his ace card.

The media spent years covering up the targeted killings of White farmers in South Africa——because it didn't fit their narrative.

He confronted the issue head-on beside President Ramaphosa, under the bright lights of live TV.

How could we be expected to go to South Africa for the very important G20 Meeting when Land Confiscation and Genocide is the primary topic of conversation? They are taking the land of white Farmers, and then killing them and their families. The Media refuses to report on this. The United States has held back all contributions to South Africa. Is this where we want to be for the G20? I don't think so!

have you ever read stories about people who went to Africa to "teach them how to farm"? a few of the stories jump out to me; in one instance a village was given seeds to plant for a great number of crops.. they simply at the seeds right then instead of planting them. THEY. ATE. THE. SEEDS. they were supposed to plant.

other times they will just wander off into the shade and fall asleep.

another time they were given farming equipment, which was quickly dismantled and sold for scrap metal.

similar stories with people trying to set them up with solar energy and wells... everything immediately taken apart and sold for scrap.

every attempt to even get Africa to an agrarian level of civilization has failed. this one will as well.

You need to understand that the reason journos, clergy, and "anti-racists" are mad about the Afrikaners getting asylum is not because they don't know about stories like this.

It's because they know about these stories and are mad a few dozen people, including children, escaped.

Afrikaners started arriving in South Africa from Holland in 1652 - but they have to go now or lose their land because they're colonizers.

But if Europe talks about 'remigration' of unassimilated foreigners who started showing up a few decades ago - this is unacceptable racism.

My impressions of dealing with the locals in many parts of Africa is that they believe in magic soil
They don't see white areas as being nice because white people made those areas nice. They see white areas as being nice because of magic and the evil selfish white people are trying to keep the magic all to themselves.
They'll complain endlessly that the white parts of the world don't have litter all over the street, burnt out cars sitting in vacant over-grown lots, and don't have daily shootouts like the ghetto they're from.
It never occurs to them that they are the reason why the places they are from are so shitty.

Opinion | Israel Is Becoming a Pariah State. We Need Massive Nonviolent Civil Disobedience Until Netanyahu Is Ousted

There can be no compromise between the destroyers of Israel and its defenders. The only course of action that could still save the country from becoming democracy's corpse is a total shutdown of the country until the Netanyahu government is replaced or the prime minister resigns

This is an emergency call asking people to courageously confront reality and take action to stop the landslide. The Israel of the Declaration of Independence and the Zionist vision is collapsing. The emergency requires us to answer five key questions.

What is happening to us? Who is responsible for this? What action should be taken and what is the desired result? Who should call for action and who should lead it? Who should take action to achieve the objective?

Regarding the first question, an absolute majority of the country's citizens realize what is happening. We have a wonderful people and a military that has performed magnificently against Hezbollah, Iran and Syria.

The War - Discussion

The UN have been building a false case full of lies against Israel for decades, but it has become much worse during the war.

Worst health violator? Israel Worst food violator? Israel Worst employment violator? Israel Worst trade violator? Israel Worst airspace violator? Israel Not to mention ICC and ICJ

Etc. Etc.

But all of those are ground for sanctions. Horrible crippling sanctions with a quality of life downgrade like Russia at best or North Korea at worst.

The only thing between us and that is the US veto.

Should we ever lose that things would go downhill very fast.

Thus we need, should we ever be pressured into something leading to a Palestinian state, to condition it on a formal "Amnesty Agreement" to nullify any and all (never mind they are lies and false) accusations from the UN. Otherwise we will be forever have our existence tied to a veto defender.

"A Palestinian state will not be established. The response to the recent attempt to impose a terror state in the heart of our land will be given after my return from the US"

"I have a clear message to those leaders who recognize a Palestinian state after the terrible massacre on October 7th: you are giving a huge reward to terror.

And I have another message for you:
It will not happen. A Palestinian state will not be established west of the Jordan River.

For years I have prevented the establishment of this terror state despite enormous pressures both from within and from outside.

We did this with determination, and we did it with political wisdom.

Moreover, we have doubled Jewish settlement in Judea and Samaria — and we will continue on this path.

The response to the recent attempt to impose a terror state in the heart of our land will be given after my return from the United States. Wait."

🚨 BREAKING: What Netanyahu Actually Just Did

Everyone is calling Israel's Somaliland recognition "symbolic."

They are wrong.

Here's what really happened:

On July 20, 2025, Israel's ONLY Red Sea port permanently closed.

Eilat: 134 ships (2023) → 6 ships (2025) → ZERO.

Revenue collapsed 80%. The Houthis won.

Netanyahu didn't announce this. He thanked the MOSSAD DIRECTOR BY NAME in a public forum.

That's not diplomacy. That's an operation.

What they acquired:

→ Berbera Port: 4,140m runway (longest in Africa)
→ 17m draft (any naval vessel on Earth)
→ 250km from Houthi Yemen
→ Pre-existing UAE military infrastructure

The "unsinkable aircraft carrier" Israel needed after losing Eilat.

But here's what NOBODY is covering:

On December 28, Taiwan officially welcomed the recognition.

Taiwan's MOFA called Israel, Taiwan, and Somaliland "like-minded democratic partners."

This is the emergence of a DEMOCRATIC TRIANGLE against China and Iran in the world's most contested chokepoint.

Three states isolated by the international system just discovered they don't need the UN's permission to build alliances.

21 Muslim nations condemned Israel.

UAE, Bahrain, and Morocco ABSTAINED.

The Abraham Accords held under pressure everyone said would break them.

MY PREDICTION (falsifiable):

By mid 2026, Israel will have ≥2 formal bilateral agreements with Somaliland and operational presence at Berbera.

Ethiopia will recognize Somaliland within 18 months.

The post-colonial border consensus in Africa began its terminal decline on December 26, 2025.

You're watching a map being redrawn in real-time.

You will not impose a terrorist state upon us, and we will no longer entertain any talk of a so-called two-state solution or tolerate threats to withdraw from the Abraham Accords.

As our model wars, we are in the final up-leg of Iran, where we are likely to see the overthrow of the government in 2027. However, between then and now, the government is fighting for its survival domestically, which implies that it will become more authoritarian, just as we see this same trend in all governments experiencing economic decline by 2028.

You chuds were right all along, the first world and third world aren't places but rather people and these people won't change but will change the place they go to

Across Australia there are marches of Thousands and thousands of people. Every city has these people pouring in, Wearing their pride for their nation & saying enough is enough to the government.

Our government is telling us these are racist protests, "neo nazi" marches, trying to inject things into the movement when it is simply every day aussies saying enough is enough, and telling the government to stop importing people & we want our voices to be heard. The NSN (Australia's Neo Nazi's) were the only group escorted by police into these parades, and they were pushed to the front of the marches. So it is clear that the government wants to paint the event and they all know it.

The other day the PM & other MP's were chased in Victoria by farmers & trapped in their hall during a  open discussion, they were booed, called out on their  constantly. A lot of our OLD mp's are calling this what it is, The people are tired of being lied to.

Well, Yale just confirmed what we've said was going to happen for years. The mRNA shots are giving people AIDS.

66% of the participants, ~585 days after the shot, have CD4 T-cell levels less than half of what they should be.

They have to be suspended. 😔

Australia Records Unprecedented Death Surge Among Covid-Vaccinated

The backlash against Covid vaccines among young people is the most dangerous medical misunderstanding of our times.

Fuelled by bogus information on social media, it is not only putting hundreds of thousands of young lives at risk but threatening the entire country's recovery from the pandemic.

The latest NHS figures show that nearly a quarter of Britons aged 30 to 34 have not yet had their first dose.

Renowned Oncologist Sends Urgent Letter Calling to End COVID Vaccine Program Immediately as Cancers and other Diseases Are Rapidly Progressing in 'Boosted' People

Dr. Angus Dalgleish, a renowned oncologist practicing in the UK, recently wrote an open letter to the editor-in-chief of the medical journal The BMJ, urging the journal to "make valid informed consent for COVID vaccination a priority topic" because cancers and other diseases are rapidly progressing among "boosted" people.

Angus George Dalgleish, 72, is a professor of oncology at St George's, University of London, best known for his contributions to HIV/AIDS research and is one of the most sought-after doctors in London.

BREAKING NEWS Yale scientists link Covid vaccines to alarming new syndrome causing 'distinct biological changes' to body

Experts from Yale University have discovered an alarming syndrome linked to the mRNA Covid vaccines.

The previously-unknown condition - which has been dubbed 'post-vaccination syndrome' - appears to cause brain fog, dizziness, tinnitus and exercise intolerance.

Some sufferers also show distinct biological changes, including differences in immune cells and the presence of coronavirus proteins in their blood, years after taking the shot.

Utah's House passed HB400, which requires healthcare facilities to allow patients to use their own blood or choose a donor, including for directed donations, except in emergencies. The bill, sponsored by Rep. Kristen Chevrier, aims to give patients more control, partly driven by concerns about receiving blood from vaccinated donors. Supporters argue it's about personal choice, while critics, including the American Red Cross, warn it could strain resources and increase risks, as directed donations may be less safe due to incomplete donor health disclosures. The FDA states there's no evidence vaccines transmit through blood transfusions. The bill awaits Senate approval.

The largest ever study (QoVax) comparing COVID injected to non-injected patients has been stopped without explanation and Queensland Health is on track to destroy all of its samples and evidence.

Losing the last evidence that could inform a truly objective assessment of the effects of the injections wouldn't just be a tragedy, it could be a crime.

I'm putting Queensland Health bureaucrats on notice. Do not destroy these samples and evidence, allow the study to complete so that the data can be shared for all Australians.

We now have clear evidence that the COVID-19 mRNA shots are devastating the reproductive capacity of humanity.

In animal models, they destroy >60% of women's finite egg supply.

In human data (n=1.3M), vaccinated women have ~33% fewer successful pregnancies than unvaccinated.

These deeply worrisome findings must be acknowledged by regulatory authorities as the world barrels towards irreversible population collapse (75% of countries projected to fall below replacement level fertility rates by 2050).

2020 to 2023 - People Suddenly Missing

Movie streaming subscriptions declined by 75-150 million globally, with no significant drop in 2020; around 22.5 million subscriptions lost in 2021; 60 million lost in 2022; and 75-150 million lost in 2023, based on a 5-10% global drop from 1.5 billion worldwide.

Credit card subscriptions declined by 150-300 million globally, with no significant drop in 2020; around 45 million subscriptions lost in 2021; 90 million lost in 2022; and 150-300 million lost in 2023, based on a 5-10% global drop from 3 billion worldwide.

Cell phone subscriptions declined by 140-280 million annually, with no significant drop in 2020; around 40 million subscriptions lost in 2021; 80 million lost in 2022; and 140-280 million lost in 2023, based on a 2-4% annual decline, totaling 480 million to 910 million subscriptions globally over four years.

If all excess mortality is attributed solely to the vaxx, approx. 31% of those vaxxed will die from vaxx-related effects by 2030. This projection assumes that vaxx-related mortality continues each year at the same rate, which it may not - we don't know - based on reported adverse events like myocarditis and thrombosis or the 1200+ other adverse events disclosed in court.

It is very important that the Drug Companies justify the success of their various Covid Drugs. Many people think they are a miracle that saved Millions of lives. Others disagree! With CDC being ripped apart over this question, I want the answer, and I want it NOW. I have been shown information from Pfizer, and others, that is extraordinary, but they never seem to show those results to the public. Why not??? They go off to the next "hunt" and let everyone rip themselves apart, including Bobby Kennedy Jr. and CDC, trying to figure out the success or failure of the Drug Companies Covid work. They show me GREAT numbers and results, but they don't seem to be showing them to many others. I want them to show them NOW, to CDC and the public, and clear up this MESS, one way or the other!!! I hope OPERATION WARP SPEED was as "BRILLIANT" as many say it was. If not, we all want to know about it, and why??? Thank you for your attention to this very important matter! President DJT

Have any other leaders done this?

Is it possible that zionist jews contaminated vaccines for certain groups but gave themselves harmless injections to keep up appearances?

Given that they've tampered with electronic devices and inserted explosives, I think it's reasonable for a person to wonder if jews inserted anything harmful into the vaccines.

The plague of strokes among young people. What's going on?

October 25, 2025, 06:48

Shorten article Share

A stroke appears suddenly and does not hurt, but it can lead to permanent brain damage, disability, and even death. Until recently, 60,000-70,000 people suffered a stroke every year. Poles, today it is over 90,000. Worse still, this disease is increasingly affecting younger people, even before the age of 50. And this is happening not only in Poland, but all over the world. Prof. Konrad Rejdak and prof. Anetta Lasek-Bal explain why this happens and how to protect yourself from a stroke.

The number of hospitalizations lasting over 10 days due to coagulation disorders and other blood diseases has been increasing since 2021 and is currently almost 5 times higher than in 2019. Interestingly, the media can make a fuss about 270 (!) cases of measles, but the real problem is no longer a media issue.

Study concludes women's fertility harmed in vaccinating countries

posted by Mordechai Sones October 4, 2021

In the second graph, the data are corrected according to the wealth of the countries (poorer countries have higher fertility). After the correction, Seychelles and Mongolia return to the norm, and only Israel continues to enjoy relatively high fertility despite the high percentage of vaccinated women:

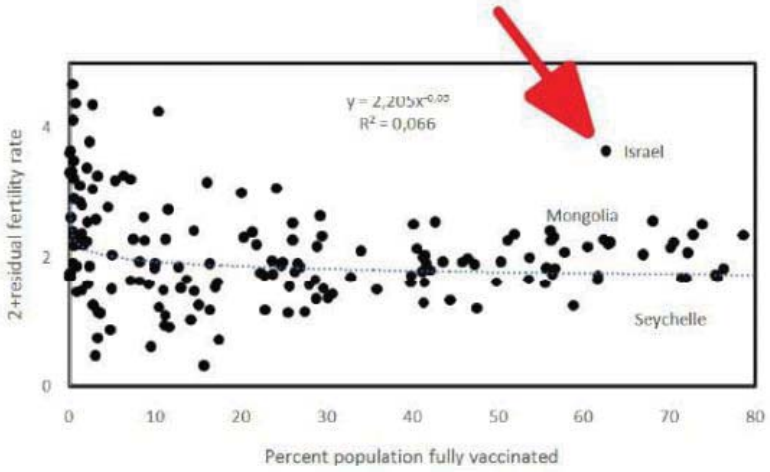

Figure 2. Residual of total fertility rate in different countries from Total Fertility Rate 2021 (worldpopulationreview.com) after accounting for association with national GDP per capita, as a function of percentages of fully vaccinated people in the same countries from Coronavirus (COVID-19) Vaccinations - Statistics and Research - Our World in Data, both sites accessed 04IX2021.

Although Dr. Seligmann does not explain the reason for the Israeli anomaly, Nakim Organization Director Haim Yativ says the abnormality in Israel can be explained by the fact that Israel is Pfizer's laboratory state, and that it must have been given a high percentage of placebo recipients to test the vaccine results against them as a control group.

In the case of the Hamas attack, the planning began in August 2023, when the computer picked up a Panic Cycle, which turned out to be the critical money that initiated the planning. The Israeli government, led by Benjamin Netanyahu, approved plans for thousands of new settlement homes in the West Bank, drawing condemnation from the U.S., EU, and Arab states. The move further strained relations with the Palestinian Authority (PA), which called for international intervention. A fragile ceasefire held in Gaza after minor clashes in early August, but Hamas was reportedly preparing for a larger conflict (which materialized on October 7). Thus, the events of August 2023 set the stage for the October 7 Hamas attack and the subsequent Israel-Hamas war. Rising West Bank violence, settlement expansions, and political divisions in Israel contributed to the explosive situation. Hamas carried out a major attack on Israel on October 7, 2023.

Here is the timing array for Thailand. Note that the volatility would start to rise here in 2025 to be followed by a Panic Cycle in 2026 and then the turning point in 2027. This is the same profile that warns us that the government of France may also fall in 2027.

So stay tuned to Socrates. It's the only real AI with more than a 40-year track record, and it is NOT a language model that will tell you to commit suicide or develop a personality. It is restricted to the financial markets and global economic trends – EXCLUSIVELY!!!!!

"Eventually, it doesn't matter which government you're looking at. Human nature never changes. No matter what century you're looking at, we still respond the same way. […] I think in cyclical analysis, why some people are against it – because they think it's predetermined or whatever – that's not true. What it is is that, collectively we have a cycle, yes. That's the business cycle. You, as an individual, have the ability to be part of the mob, or to go against the mob. It doesn't dictate your personal future per se. […] We still have that choice. The irony is that those of us who have studied history are compelled to watch everybody repeat it."

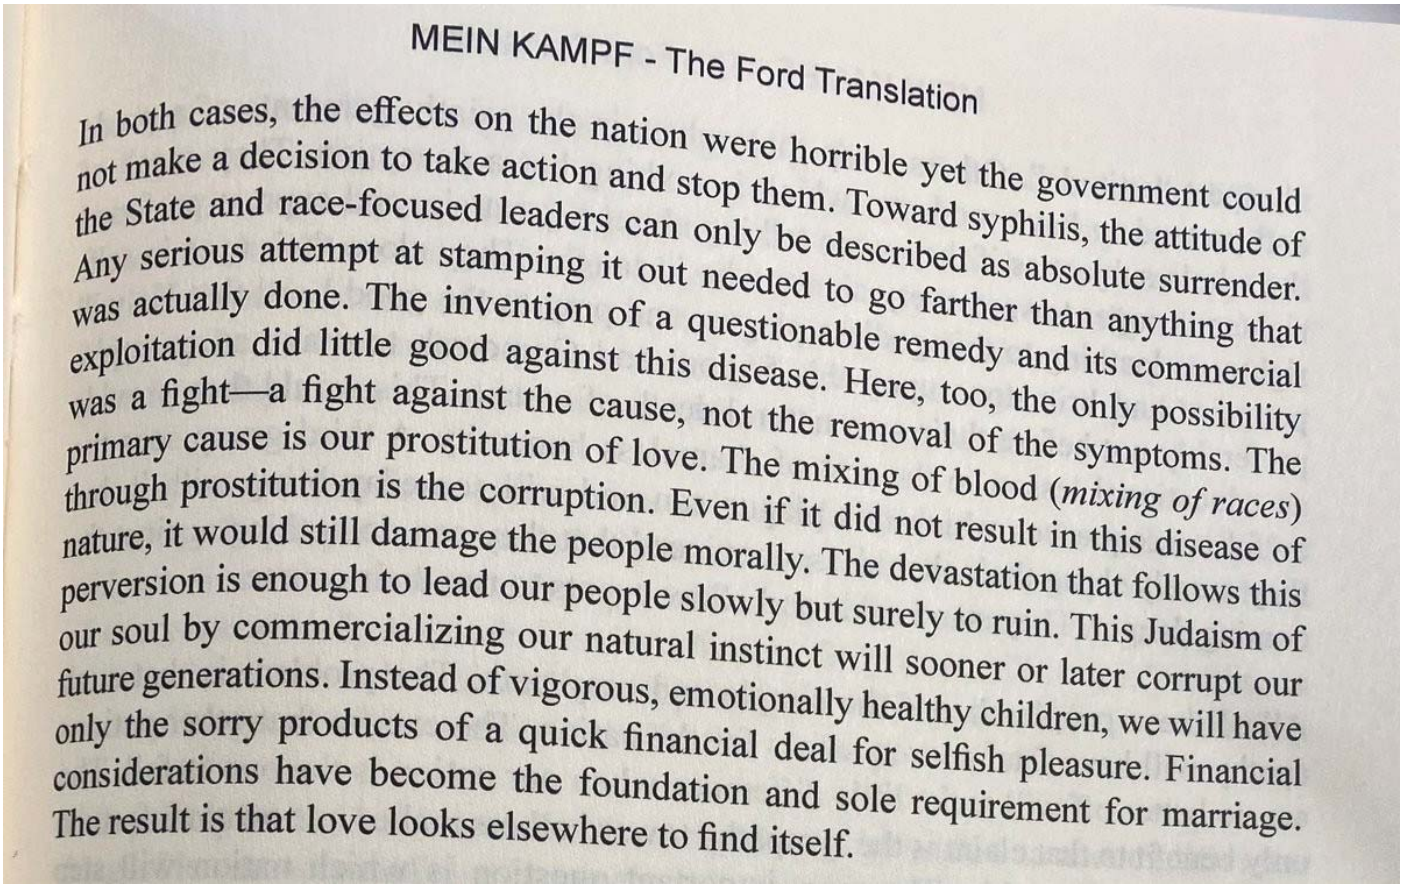
DEGENERACY



MEIN KAMPF - The Ford Translation

In both cases, the effects on the nation were horrible yet the government could not make a decision to take action and stop them. Toward syphilis, the attitude of the State and race-focused leaders can only be described as absolute surrender. Any serious attempt at stamping it out needed to go farther than anything that was actually done. The invention of a questionable remedy and its commercial exploitation did little good against this disease. Here, too, the only possibility was a fight—a fight against the cause, not the removal of the symptoms. The primary cause is our prostitution of love. The mixing of blood (mixing of races) through prostitution is the corruption. Even if it did not result in this disease of nature, it would still damage the people morally. The devastation that follows this perversion is enough to lead our people slowly but surely to ruin. This Judaism of our soul by commercializing our natural instinct will sooner or later corrupt our future generations. Instead of vigorous, emotionally healthy children, we will have only the sorry products of a quick financial deal for selfish pleasure. Financial considerations have become the foundation and sole requirement for marriage. The result is that love looks elsewhere to find itself.

Fun Fact: the vast majority of the gay shit in House is actually attributable to Sarah Hess, who was a recurring writer on the show for most of its runtime. In fact, basically every episode revolving around homosexuals (and particularly lesbians) features her in the writing credits.
Sarah Hess (a lesbian herself) would later go on to be credited with, more infamously, ruining Game of Thrones spinoff/prequel House of the Dragon (partially through her very visible obsession with lesbian slashfics of characters Rhaenyra and Alicent).
Her only other major listed writing credit is for Orange is the New Black.
The more you know!

Homosexuality in Ancient Hellas - Truth And Lies

There is much talk around about the supposed "homosexuality" in Ancient Hellas. Most people have not searched the matter further and take as a fact speculations maded pseudo-historians in 20th century (Mostly). Though , if someone question them about their sources there will bring nothing cause there is absolutely nothing. The truth is that the city/states of Ancient Hellas had the most strict laws against homosexuals. Ofcourse, there was homosexuals , as in every nation and every age. The point is what the official state did about it and how the society treated them.

Starting with the Basic:

The words Homos/Homosexual/homoerotic e.t.c. in NOWHERE to be found in the ancient writings (Historical & Philosophical).
The word that Ancient Greeks used for homosexuals was "Kinaidos" , a very offensive word which means "those who bring shame" or "Causer of Shame" or "He who will bring the curse of Aido". Aido = Goddess who punish moral transgressors (She was a companion of Nemesis , the Goddess of Revenge)

ATHENS

The Laws:

"If any Athenian shall have Etairese (Same sex companionship) He shall not permited to:
1) Become one of the nine archons
2) Nor to discharge the office of priest
3) Nor to act as an advocate of the state
4) Nor shall he hold any office whatsover, at home or abroad, wheter filled by lot of by ellection: He shall not sent as a herald.
5) He shall not take part in debate, nor be present in public sacrifices
6) And he shall not enter within the limits of the place that has been purified for the assembiling of the people. If any man who has been convicted of ilegal sexual activities contrary to this prohibitions , he shal be put to death"
Aeschines "Kata Timarchou" , 21

About Kinaidos "..nor shal they have the right to speak , nor to bring a charge before the court"
Demosthenes "Kata Androtionos" (Par.30)

"Male doesn`t touch male for this purpose, since its unatural..."
"When male unites with female for procreation the pleasure experienced is held to be due to nature (Kata physin), but its contrary to nature (Para physin) when male mates with male or female with female and that those guilty of such enormities (are) impelled by their slavery to pleasure"
Plato "Laws"

Also, according to the Athenian law, the citizens convicted for homosexuality have their citizen rights removed (Becaming low class citizes - Metikoi) same goes also for their right to vote and also to appear to public places (Temples , athletic centres , forums e.t.c.).

SPARTA

Coming to Sparta, which had very strict laws as well. Lets see what Xenophon writes in his book about the Spartan state and its laws.

"The customs instituted by Lycurgus were opposed to all of these. If someone, being himself an honest man, admired a boy's soul and tried to make of him an ideal friend without reproach and to associate with him, he approved, and believed in the excellence of this kind of training. But if it was clear that the attraction lay in the boy's outward beauty, he banned the connexion as an abomination; and thus he caused lovers to abstain from boys no less than parents abstain from sexual intercourse with their children and brothers and sisters with each other."

Xenophon "Constitution of the Lacedaimonians"

THE CASE OF ALEXANDER THE GREAT

How many of you heard the Alexander The Great was a homosexual? I`m sure many, and especially after this hollywood-propaganda film "Alexander" , i think everyone got this as a "historical fact" (Even though , the jewish director Oliver Stone said after that film that this about the homosexuality of Alexander was wrong , and that he got wrong info).

Coming to the sources. None of the four major historians (Plutarch , Arrian , Herodotus & Diodorus Sicelus) who spoke about the life of Alexander mention something about a sexual relationship with any man. However, there is a scene that Plutarch described when Alexander arrived in Asia someone offered to him two young guys. Lets see what the supposed "homosexual" Alexander answered:

"When Philoxenus, the leader of the seashore, wrote to Alexander that there was a youth in Ionia whose beauty has yet to be seen and asked him in a letter if he (Alexander) would like him (the boy) to be sent over, he (Alexander) responded in a strict and disgusted manner: "You are the most hideous and malign of all men, have you ever seen me involved in such dirty(sexual) work that you found the urge to flatter me with such hedonistic business?"

Plutarch "On the Luck and Virtue of Alexander"

"When Philoxenus, the commander of his forces on the sea-board, wrote that there was with him a certain Theodorus of Tarentum, who had two youths of surpassing beauty to sell, and inquired whether Alexander would buy them, Alexander was incensed, and cried out many times to his friends, asking them what shameful thing Philoxenus had ever seen in him that he should spend his time in making such disgraceful proposals."

Plutarch "Parallel Lives - Alexander"

That was few proofs (There is a lot more!) about the supposed "homosexuality" in Ancient Hellas. Ofcourse there is many others evidences DIRECTLY FROM THE ANCIENT SOURCES. So, the next time that someone (Most of the time a faggot himself that try to put an "ideological background" to his sexual fantasies) will tell you about "how homosexuals was tolerated in Ancient Hellas" , ask him his sources (Not Fex. This writer wrote a book in 1989 that proves it e.t.c.). Be sure that he will shut his mouth cause there is no evidence about something like this.

P.S. There was more or less the same laws in Ancient Rome and also amongst the Germanic tribes. In the next weeks i`ll make a post about it , bringing always info directly from the sources.

Degeneracy / Pedos / Epstein

1972 – 1974: Jeffrey Epstein does 2 years of college and then drops out.
1974 – 1976: 20 year old, college dropout, Jeffrey Epstein is hired to be a math teacher at Dalton (Prestigious School in New York City) by Donald Barr the father of William Barr (Trumps Attorney General who would later oversee Epsteins Case and ultimate Death in 2019.)
1976 – 1980: Jeffrey Epstein gets fired from his job as a Teacher and gets hired at the Investment Bank "Bear Stearns" where he helps clients achieve "Tax Advantageous Transactions" (hides their money for them), until finally Jeffrey Epstein is fired from this job as well for SEC violations.
1981: Epstein just recently fired from his job hiding money for clients at Bear Stearns is suddenly flying around the world in private jets with Douglas Leese a big time arms broker who brokered the largest arms deal in UK history (The Al-Yamama Arms Deal). Jeffrey Epstein has been hired as the "money man" to help grease the wheels and get arms deals signed for some of the largest companies on the planet.
1981 – 1986: Douglas Leese introduces Jeffrey Epstein to Adnan Khashoggi an arms dealer and key player in the Iran-Contra scandal, Epstein begins telling people that he is an "Intelligence Agent" and becomes involved in the Iran-Contra scandal in which US weapons were sold to Iran through Israel to fund a secret war in Nicaragua.
1986: Jeffrey Epstein is introduced to Les Wexner (Billionaire CEO of Victoria Secret and L Brands) through a mutal friend in Palm Beach.
1986 – 1989: Jeffrey Epstein is intoroduced to Steven Hoffenberg and is paid $70,000 a month to "consult" for Towers Financial Corporation which would ultimately turn out to be one of the largest ponzi schemes in US history.
1991: Les Wexner grants FULL POWER OF ATTORNEY to Jeffrey Epstein and Jeffrey Epstein becomes head of the Wexner Heritage Foundation, Epstein rakes in tens of millions in "fees" for his services to Wexner.
1999 - 2000: Bill Clinton repeals Glass-Steagall and immediately Jeffrey Epstein founds a new company with the help of Bear Stearns (who owned 40%) called Liquid Funding a company that specializes in Callateralized Debt Obligations (CDOs) that had just become recently legal with the repeal of Glass-Steagall. CDO's would later go on to become the cause of the 2008 Global Financial Crisis.
2003: Jeffrey Epstein initiates a sale of a Hedge Fund owned by Bear Stearns known as "Highbridge Capital" to JP Morgan and Epstein is paid $15 Million (likely much more off the books) for "Advice"
2005: First victim comes forward who alleges her 14 year old step-daughter was paid $300 to "strip and massage" Jeffrey Epstein. This eventually escalates into a full investigation by the FBI in 2006.
2006: One month after the federal investigation began into Jeffrey Epstein he invests 57 Million dollars into a Hedge Fund owned by Bear Stearns that focused on CDO's. In July of 2006 Alexander Acosta (Future Secretary of Labor under Donald Trumps first term) with the help of Alan Dershowitz (Trump Impeachment Lawyer in 2020) Jeffrey Epstein negotiates a sweetheart Plea Deal and a "Non-Prosecution Agreement", the FBI investigation is dropped, and all Epstein has to do is register as a Sex Offender.
2007: On April 18th, 2007 Jeffrey Epstein pulls out 57 Million that he had invested the Bear Stearns Hedge Fund the year prior. At the time, the fund had a leverage ratio of 17:1, which meant for every dollar invested at that hedge fund there were 17 dollars worth of debt, Epsteins 57 million would have been the equivalent of pulling out over $1 BILLION from the CDO market which was about to burst; this resulted in the collapse of the fund and the collapse of Bear Stearns itself only a few weeks later.
2008: Jeffrey Epstein gets caught with underage girls again, pleads guilty, and is sentenced to 18 months, he serves 12 months of it in luxury, pays the sheriffs Department $128,000 for his luxury cell which was kept unlocked, and then served an additional year on probation.
2008: As the Federal Reserve was pushing out Bailouts to the tune of TRILLIONS, Jeffrey Epstein is recorded in emails with Jes Staley the CEO of JP Morgan bragging about slurping up 44 Billion Dollars in Tax Payer Bailouts in just two weeks. He is also seen directly referencing his communication with Board Members for the Federal Reserve Bank of New York.

I'm starting to think that handing the Mossad pedo files to a bunch of Zionists might not be the best way to get the truth to the public.

The central witness in the Jeffrey Epstein investigation — the person relied on by Netflix in its documentary series "Filthy Rich" — is a 50-year-old woman named Maria Farmer.

"I had a hard time with all Jewish people."

"I think it's all the Jews."

"They think Jewish DNA is better than the rest of us."

"These people truly believe they are chosenevery one of them."

"All the Jewish people I met are pedophiles that run the world economy."

"They are 'Jewish supremacists'" and they are "all connected" through a mysterious organization called MEGA, which is run by Leslie Wexner who is "the head of the snake."

Farmer claimed to have evidence that the Israeli Mossad hired Jeffrey Epstein to video tape prominent American political leaders committing acts of pedophilia so that Israel could blackmail them into doing their bidding, and that the entire conspiracy was under the protection and direction of "The Rothschild's."

The Mega Group — a secretive group of billionaires to which Lauder belongs — was formed in 1991 by Charles Bronfman and Leslie Wexner, the latter of whom has received considerable media scrutiny following the July arrest of his former protege Jeffrey Epstein. Media profiles of the group paint it as "a loosely organized club of 20 of the nation's wealthiest and most influential Jewish businessmen" focused on "philanthropy and Jewishness," with membership dues upwards of $30,000 per year. Yet several of its most prominent members have ties to organized crime.

Mega Group members founded and/or are closely associated with some of the most well-known pro-Israel organizations. For instance, members

Epstein was a long-time friend of former Israeli Prime Minister Ehud Barak, who has long-standing and deep ties to Israel's intelligence community. Their decades-long friendship has been the source of recent political attacks targeting Barak, who is running in the Israeli elections against current Prime Minister Netanyahu later this year.

Barak is also close to Epstein's chief patron and Mega Group member Leslie Wexner, whose Wexner Foundation gave Barak $2 million in 2004 for a still unspecified research program. According to Barak, he was first introduced to Epstein by former Israeli Prime Minister Shimon Peres, who eulogized Robert Maxwell at his funeral and had decades-long ties with the Bronfman family going back to the early 1950s. Peres was also a frequent participant in programs funded by Leslie Wexner in Israel and worked closely with the Mossad for decades.

Epstein list reignites suspicion the pedo financier was working for Mossad and blackmailing the elite with help of information he gleaned from 'useful idiot' Prince Andrew - after meeting Israeli PM Ehud Barak at least THIRTY SIX times

Rep. Thomas Massie says President Trump "flipped" on releasing the Epstein files for two key reasons.

First, he claims Trump doesn't want to embarrass his rich and powerful friends who may be tied to Epstein, for personal scandals.

Second, Massie hints that some officials may have convinced Trump he was protecting his friends when they were really protecting intelligence interests.

He also points to Epstein's close ties with former Israeli Defense Minister Ehud Barak as part of the reason Israel may be shielded from scrutiny.

The Democrats are trying to bring up the Jeffrey Epstein Hoax again because they'll do anything at all to deflect on how badly they've done on the Shutdown, and so many other subjects. Only a very bad, or stupid, Republican would fall into that trap. The Democrats cost our Country $1.5 Trillion Dollars with their recent antics of viciously closing our Country, while at the same time putting many at risk — and they should pay a fair price. There should be no deflections to Epstein or anything else, and any Republicans involved should be focused only on opening up our Country, and fixing the massive damage caused by the Democrats!

Aiden Hunter @AidenHunterX

Releasing the names of individuals compromised by Epstein would utterly destroy America in concrete ways that most families who are not wealthy would not be able to endure. To ask for the names is to ask for America to become a failed state. Continuity of government, by itself, is insufifficent to withstand the damage. The average American is willing to make this sacrifice. (So am I.) The Trump administration has decided that it is not worth it. We are in a situation where America's very survival rests on the foundation of absolute secrecy about crimes involving the horrific abuse of children. I'm sorry.

>An art dealer who sounded the alarm on Jeffrey Epstein's sickening affinity for child pornography a decade before the FBI investigated the disgraced financier said he scared her into silence by threatening to set her home ablaze.
>Maria Farmer, who Epstein once hired to help him buy artwork, has long asserted that she filed a complaint against the sex offender in September 1996.
>On Friday, the FBI finally released a copy of the document - solidifying what Farmer has been arguing for years.
>In the released complaint, which has Farmer's name redacted, authorities wrote that she had taken photos of her 12 and 16-year-old sisters for her personal portfolio that Epstein stole.
>The now 56-year-old visual artist clarified in an interview that the photos Epstein stole included nude images, according to the NY Times.
>Farmer, who was 25 at the time, claimed that Epstein 'sold the pictures to potential buyers' and told her 'that if she tells anyone about the photos, he will burn her house down,' as per the document.
>The complaint also alleged that Epstein had asked Farmer to go to swimming pools and take photos of little girls there.
>'She has consistently and repeatedly said that in 1996, she reported Jeffrey Epstein to the FBI after having reported him to the New York Police Department,' Farmer's lawyer, Jennifer Freeman, told the Associated Press.

The Bombshell From Las Vegas Officers

I have now confirmed with officers involved in the sting that the Trump administration personally intervened, at Israel's request, to override U.S. law enforcement, including their own federal agents involved in the sting, to make sure that Alexandrovich got back to Israel quickly and safely.

The officers told me they couldn't believe it. They had worked for weeks with the FBI, Homeland Security Investigations, and the Nevada Internet Crimes Against Children Task Force to run this sting. They caught Alexandrovich red-handed. They booked him, charged him, and logged him into Henderson County's system like every other suspect.

And then — despite the Trump administration itself authorizing the sting — Trump's own team stepped in and blew up their work. They expedited his release and return to Israel. A predator was caught. And then, to protect Netanyahu, he was freed.

The officers also confirmed for me that Alexandrovich DID NOT have a diplomatic visa or any kind of diplomatic immunity.

Eight Child Sex Predators Arrested During Undercover Operation

Post Date: 08/15/2025 8:36 AM

Las Vegas Metropolitan Police Department
Office of Public Information
400 S. Martin L. King Blvd., Las Vegas, NV 89106
Office: 702-828-4082
Sheriff Kevin McMahill

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

A multi-agency operation targeting child sex predators led to the arrest of eight individuals over the last two weeks.

The Nevada Internet Crimes Against Children (ICAC) joint operation included detectives and agents from the ICAC Task Force and the FBI's Child Exploitation Task Force, to include the Las Vegas Metropolitan Police Department, Federal Bureau of Investigation, North Las Vegas Police Department, Henderson Police Department, Homeland Security Investigations, and the Nevada Attorney General's office who participated in organizing and conducting the operation in Henderson, NV.

Those arrested were David Wonnacott-Yahnke, 40; Tom Artiom Alexandrovich, 38; Jose Alberto Perez-Torres, 35; Aniket Brajeshkumar Sadani, 23; James Ramon Reddick, 23; Ramon Manuel Parra Valenzuela, 29; Neal Harrison Creecy, 46 and John Charles Duncan, 49. They all face felony charges of Luring a Child with Computer for Sex Act and were booked into the Henderson Detention Center with the exception of Duncan who was booked into the Clark County Detention Center.

We would like to remind parents to discuss with their children the dangers of engaging with strangers online. Parents are encouraged to routinely monitor their children's activity on social media and other online applications to prevent them from becoming victims of a child sex predator. This operation was conducted as part of the ongoing efforts to reduce violent crime and protect children in our community.

Anyone who may have been a victim of any of these subjects or has information about their crimes, is urged to contact the LVMPD Internet Crimes Against Children Task Force by phone at 702-828-3111. To remain anonymous, contact Crime Stoppers by phone at 702-385-5555, or on the internet at www.crimestoppersofnv.com.

‼️🇺🇸 WHY?: On August 6, 2025, Tom Artiom Alexandrovich, a 38-year-old senior official in Israel's National Cyber Directorate and IDF veteran, was arrested in Las Vegas during a multi-agency sting targeting online child predators.

Key anomalies:

- Alexandrovich was released on a low bail of $10,000, for a 10-year child s3x felony charge by a NON-RESIDENT of the US

- His passport was NOT confiscated as per US guidelines

- He faced NO FEDERAL DETENTION even though he DOES NOT HAVE diplomatic immunity

- Evidence of the event on the internet is being SCRUBBED despite the Vegas police listing the arrest in official records; sting operation, arrest, and bail

Alexandrovich, who served under Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu's office overseeing data and Ai initiatives, was Vegas for the Black Hat cybersecurity conference at Mandalay Bay (August 3-8).

In a now-SCRUBBED LinkedIn post, preserved via X screenshots, he noted the prominence of generative AI and Israeli influence at the event, writing: "The future of cybersecurity is being written in code, and it seems a significant part of it is being authored in Tel Aviv."

The sting, led by Nevada's Internet Crimes Against Children Task Force with LVMPD, FBI, Homeland Security, Henderson Police, North Las Vegas Police, and the state attorney general's office, involved undercover agents posing as minors online.

Alexandrovich allegedly engaged in explicit chats and attempted to meet a supposed child for s3x, leading to his arrest alongside seven others:

David Wonnacott-Yahnke, 40;
Jose Alberto Perez-Torres, 35;
Aniket Brajeshkumar Sadani, 23; James Ramon Reddick, 23;
Ramon Manuel Parra Valenzuela, 29;
Neal Harrison Creecy, 46; and John Charles Duncan, 49.

Max Blumenthal @MaxBlumenthal

To understand Israel's malign infiltration of American society, look no further than @USAttyChattah.

The Israeli-born Chattah is punting on the case of Tom Alexandrovich, an Israeli cyber spy who was arrested in Las Vegas as part of a multi-agency operation targeting child sex predators. Since Alexandrovich fled the US, she has kicked the case down to local Clark County prosecutors who, as @AliAbunimah noted, are much less likely to succeed in securing his extradition.

Alexandrovich worked in the office of Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu's Cyber Directorate, and helped create Israel's national anti-hacking program, known as "Cyber Dome." Though his name had been kept under wraps until his arrest in Las Vegas, Alexandrovich reportedly received the Israel Defense Prize for innovations which his country's Defense Ministry credited with enabling the assassination of Hezbollah General Secretary Hassan Nasrallah.

Alexandrovich was allowed to immediately abscond from the US despite being a flight risk, and while the State Department is claiming it played no role, Chattah's office has clearly dropped the ball.

For her part, Chattah was named "acting US Attorney" this August by Trump to avoid a potentially embarrassing confirmation process that would have exposed her lack of credentials. When she ran for Nevada Attorney General, she released a campaign ad that began by touting her Israeli citizenship. It began, "I'm Sigal Chattah, an Israeli-born lawyer running to be America's number one conservative attorney general."

Like many of her countrymen, Chattah is a fanatically racist Zionist. She once said of her Black opponent in the Attorney General race, "This guy should be hanging from a fucking crane. He's like the leader of Hamas." Forced onto the defensive when her comments leaked to the press, she offered the following excuse: "That is my culture."

Now, Chattah will have to explain why she is not interested in prosecuting her fellow Israeli Alexandrovich, and how he was able to flee back home to the sex predator paradise of Tel Aviv, which rarely extradites Jews back to the US, and where 75% of sex offenders are freed before finishing their sentences.

The Department of State is aware that Tom Artiom Alexandrovich, an Israeli citizen, was arrested in Las Vegas and given a court date for charges related to soliciting sex electronically from a minor. He did not claim diplomatic immunity and was released by a state judge pending a court date. Any claims that the U.S. government intervened are false.

Yes, reports confirm Trump admin intervened at Israel's request to release Tom Artiom Alexandrovich, arrested in a US child predator sting, allowing his swift return despite felony charges.

Broader pattern exists: Since 2014, over 60 accused US sex offenders have fled to Israel via Law of Return, evading prosecution with community aid and delayed extraditions. Examples include Malka Leifer and Jimmy Karow (CBS News, Haaretz). Israel has extradited some, but patterns of refuge persist.

There are crimes so profound that words fail to capture them. Last week, several survivors testified to the Israeli Knesset about just such a horror.

The story broke with an investigative report published by Israel Hayom, which unearthed a long-standing pattern of ritual sexual abuse, psychological manipulation, and spiritual desecration occurring not on the margins of society but from within its most sacred institutions. Survivors speak of torment that begins in early childhood and lasts decades, often committed under the guise of religious observance. It is not just a crime of the flesh. It is a theft of the soul.

Israeli children, some as young as infants, were subjected to methodical abuse masked in religious ritual. Survivors describe ceremonies invoking biblically-vilified deities, conducted by members of observant Jewish communities. As a survivor named Noga (all of the victims' names are changed in the report) recalled: "The gods I remember are Baal Peor and Ashtoreth... our lord Peor and our lady Ashtoreth." (Note: All these deities are categorically condemned in the Bible).

The culprits are not fringe radicals. These are individuals who keep kosher, celebrate the Sabbath, and adhere to the minutiae of Jewish law even as they engage in acts so depraved that they defy comprehension. Here is snippet from a survivor's testimonies:

"I remember a pentagram on the floor, usually in red. When the ceremony was in the forest, the pentagram was marked with a hoe and surrounded by lit candles in a circle. The rabbi would bless…they would repetitively read Psalms, like 'A Psalm of David, the Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want.' They told me 'you are special, you are chosen' and they would insert... I remember a palm branch, Hanukkah candles, a shofar."

Some of these perpetrators are qualified to blow the shofar on Rosh Hashanah — a high privilege among observant Jews. Family members, most of whom may have once been victims themselves, are often the ones who hand over their little ones to these monsters.

Dominican lawyer arrested

Arrested man provided legal help to detained American missionaries in Haiti

The Associated Press
March 19, 2010, 12:37 p.m. CT

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic - A fugitive who once acted as the lawyer for U.S. Baptist missionaries accused of kidnapping 33 Haitian children was arrested on human-trafficking charges, authorities said Friday.

Jorge Puello, 32, was detained as he left a McDonald's restaurant late Thursday in the Dominican capital, Santo Domingo, the National Drug Control Agency said.

Agency spokesman Roberto Lebron said he did not know whether Puello would be extradited to the U.S., where he is wanted on trafficking and smuggling charges, or El Salvador, where authorities say he led a prostitution ring.

Jorge Puello, left, a Dominican legal advisor who was hired by the relatives of the 10 American missionaries detained in Haiti, was arrested Thursday in the Dominican Republic. He is wanted in both the United States and El Salvador on human smuggling accusations. Topeka Capital-Journal

Colombian authorities have rescued 17 children from a group of Lev Tahor perverts (like the one pictured below) in just the latest Latin American raid on the jewish sect known for trafficking, molesting, and ‘marrying’ kids.

At least 5 of the rescued victims had active Interpol ‘yellow notices,’ which are used to designate kidnapped and trafficked children, among others.

Members of Lev Tahor have traveled all around the world in search of children to abuse (including US citizens) and places to abuse them.

They’re known for hiding out, with their captive child sex slaves, in remote compounds away from the prying eyes of law enforcement and local gentiles.

Lev Tahor also made headlines last December, after 4 children escaped a jungle compound in Guatemala, alerted authorities to its existence, and prompted a raid that rescued more than 160 captive kids.

Officer named

We cannot see the names of the former SYP officers referred to in the accounts of their alleged victims, because the women's accounts have been redacted.

But three former officers have been arrested since December 2024 on suspicion of historic sexual offences - including attempted rape, indecent assault and misconduct in a public office. The crimes are alleged to have taken place between 1995 and 2004 while the officers were on duty as PCs. None has been charged.

But the BBC understands that one alleged victim, Willow - in a report to police - has named PC Hassan Ali as having raped her.

"The first time, he literally said: 'You do it for the other officer. So you're gonna do it for me,'" she tells us.

PC Ali died in January 2015, a week after he was hit by a car. On the day the collision took place, he had been put on restricted duties because of an investigation into alleged misconduct in the abuse scandal. He was never arrested.

Willow also says that both officers who abused her, including PC Ali, were also involved in supplying drugs.

I hate being a former child actress, and I despise the people that enabled my abuse.

I won't reveal myself, but at twelve years old, I starred in a children's TV show for a couple of years. (although they've replaced me with another actress.) To keep it short, I was in various Broadway musicals, involved in gymnastics, educational videos, and television shows before I stopped. I was once a nominee for a Daytime Emmy Award back in 2006, "Outstanding Performer in a Children's Series."

On my birthday while we were filming the show, I went out to eat lunch with the production crew, and the man, director and actor behind the whole thing suddenly got up, gave a speech and said that the group was going to give me a birthday present. Which was a dog that i've named Audrey. (my mother, rest in peace knew that i've always wanted a dog and wanted to surprise me.)

I won't go into all the details because some of the memories are still hazy, but he, and the crew spent a year making me comfortable with touch, orals, being naked etc. I started to think it was normal to be like that. They would take me in to my room and abuse me any way they want. Later, it was all of them at once. I didn't know what was right or wrong.

No one ever suspected anything either. There wasn't an adult in life who could watch out for me. I hate when people recognize me and want a picture because I remember all those times when a few men (and him) would have me pose nude or in panties or in wigs or outfits in the empty studio in freezing cold weather.

I was really sexualized, which I think happens to a lot of young girls who are onscreen. It's not like I was on set trying to be sexy. I get joked about, when people go up to me and go: "Hey, you sexy woman." And it was just really disgusting looking back at it. You're put in a room with adults you've never seen before. You have to introduce yourself, read from a script, and i'm just done with it.

I was once a nominee for a Daytime Emmy Award

When asked if she's not tired on weekends, Julianna laughs. "Yeah, yeah, but I have a lot of energy!"

It turns out that Julianna has a dog that she got on her 13th birthday from her colleagues from LazyTown Entertainment. One of the things she does on weekends is play with the dog. "She is a small, awesome dog named Audrey Hepburn. Named after one of my favorite actresses."

I scan the apartment. Where is the dog anyway? "That's a funny story," Julianna says, cracking up. "He is at Magnús Scheving's house. His children really want a dog and asked if they could borrow her to show their parents that they can really take care of a dog!"

MACRON'S ISLAND - French presidential guard leaks pedo orgy involving president Macron and German chancellor Merz.
"Ali" (an alias), an Algerian member of the French presidential guard which was stationed at Fort Brégançon, Macron's summer residence on an island off the French Riviera, claims to have witnessed a pedophile orgy involving five minors under 12 on August 28 2025, in which French president Macron, German chancellor Merz, French socialist politician Jack Lang and French artist Claude Lévêque allegedly participated.
Jack Lang is an Epstein associate as he had donated to Epstein in the past, but claims it was to fund a "movie".
Claude Lévêque has been accused of rape of minors in 2019 and as of 2021 is under criminal investigation and awaiting trial.

Islamic center writes ‘community support letter’ for Somali immigrant convicted of raping a 12-year-old

Minnesota law allows Qalinle Ibrahim Dirie to be released from prison in 2033 and remain on probation for the rest of his sentence.

Community Support Letter for Qalinle Dirie

Dear Judge Michael Burns,

We, the undersigned members of the Somali community, write this letter to express our strong and heartfelt support for Qalinle Dirie, a member of our community.

Many of us first met Qalinle through our shared journey as Somali refugees — arriving in this country with little more than hope and the determination to rebuild our lives. Like so many of us, Qalinle has faced the challenge of starting over in a new culture: learning English, adjusting to a fast-paced system, and raising children in an environment far different from the one we grew up in.

Before this situation, Qalinle was known as a devoted family man and an outgoing person who would talk to anyone he came across in the community. Whether taking his children to school or a park, we witnessed his love for his family and kids. Many of us also know how close he is to his grandmother. He is her support line. Many of us have been to his home, worked with him, or met him in different community activities. Each time, Qalinle was a kind and outgoing human being.

He has also been an active volunteer in our mosque, Al-Ihsan Islamic Center, where he regularly visited during Friday prayers, Ramadan, and community events. You'll often find him helping elders find rides home or staying after to help clean up. His service has never been about recognition — just a quiet commitment to supporting the spaces that hold our community together.

Despite the financial pressures of life in the U.S., Qalinle also still managed to support needy family members back in Somalia. Whether it is helping with medical expenses or food during times of drought, his sense of responsibility has extended far beyond his needs. This is

History [edit]
Students Matt Keezer, Stephane Manos, Sam and Hassan Youssef met through their common interest in competitive foosball, and started a business in online pornography in 2003, growing their successful enterprise under the Brazzers name.[2] Keezer began Pornhub under the company Interhub separately from Brazzers, and the businesses remained silent partners until Interhub was found to be hosting videos of the rape of an underage girl, and federal investigators of the US Secret Service's Organized Fraud Task Force seized millions of dollars from Brazzers parent company, discovering millions in wire transferred money from Israel. This resulted in a sale of all of the founders' pornography assets, while the Youssef brothers took time off from business,[2] until they eventually founded Valnet in August 2012.[2]

About

TSJ documents the predominant past and present visual role played by the Jews in western civilizational eros. It also, on the basis of a large data sample, establishes that race as a genetic – not merely religious or cultural – fact along a physical continuum running from pure, west-central Asian-derived Khazar/ashkenazic (Type I) Jewesses through highly assimilated/ cryptic ashkenaz (Type IV); several other subcategories – Jewish/Black mischlinge, Jewish/east Asian mischlinge, and Honorary Jews (converts + gratuitous shabbatz goyim) – are also elucidated. Type V, a distinctive gene pool, are the "original" mizrahic/sephardic Jewesses found in the Middle East and along the Mediterranean littoral via the Roman and pre-Roman era diasporas. Jewesses in all these categories are – with a few exceptions, those already bearing Jew-vectoring middle names like "Judith" and "Leah" – and in line with traditional European practice, given the appropriate Tribal middle name "Sarah". Finally, since porn is a central element in the current pervasive, White family formation and birthrate stifling kosher Culture of Death (other elements: abortion, sexperv group entitlement, miscegnation, and Judeo-"feminism"), TSJ also documents the central role of the Jews (and their well paid shabbatz goyim) in the current, ongoing political, economic, cultural, and demographic destruction of the White race and White Western Civilization.

BREAKING: In mid-November, I made contact with a journalist claiming to have a trove of evidence proving Brigitte Macron was born a man. In December I flew to Europe to examine the evidence and to interview the journalist for over two hours.

Just 10 days after our initial correspondence, SITTING President Emmanuel Macron and his 'wife' Brigitte Macron sent me a legal threat which they demanded we not publicize.

Today I will of course be publicizing that letter. It is our belief that this legal threat was sent to intimidate us—ultimately to stop us from publishing the explosive piece which was due to premiere on January 30th.

We will not be intimidated.

Today on the show, we will reveal to you all the strange sequence of events and remind @EmmanuelMacron that America is not Europe. We have free speech here and we will not be silenced. We welcome you and your Mister to come visit.

An entire army of independent journalists awaits you both.

MACRONS FILE DEFAMATION SUIT AGAINST CANDACE OWENS OVER BRIGITTE TRANSGENDER CLAIMS

French President Emmanuel Macron and his wife, Brigitte Macron, have filed a defamation lawsuit against American conservative commentator Candace Owens over claims that the French First Lady was born as a man.

A recent study published in Oxford's Journal of Sexual Medicine sampling 107,583 patients found that sex-change surgery doubles depression rates among gender dysphoric individuals rather than reducing them.

Males who underwent surgery had a depression rate of 25.4%, compared to 11.5% in those who did not have surgery. Likewise, females who underwent surgery had a depression rate of 22.9%, compared to 14.6% in those who did not.

Yea I've heard that every hobby subreddit and stuff like this has been taken over by trans.
They call 4chan the scum of the internet yet Reddit has had r/cannibalism and r/boylovers and all kinds of bullshit.
We don't have that shit on 4chan.
Not that we're roses and sunshine over here, not that there's some bad boards, but we don't have a fucking cannibalism board with trannys all over it either.

When you really think about it, it is extremely disturbing. It is quite literally one of the most evil things in the world.

If you were tasked with coming up with the most evil thing you can do in the world, what would you do?

Who would be the victim? Well, a defenseless, innocent child is the best victim if you want to be really evil.

Would you kill them? Well, that would definitely be evil, but what about torturing them? I feel like taking a knife to your genitals would, if not the worst thing, is up there.

The degree of the injury? Well, you could break their legs, or cut off the penis entirely, but when they grow up, they wouldn't be useful, so if you were truly evil (and, say, enslaving the world), you would want your slaves to be capable of work.

Why not cut their dick off? That would be pretty evil, but then they couldn't reproduce without some medical facilitation.

But what if you just cut off the most sensitive part? What if you just removed enough so that they would get less pleasure for the rest of their lives? And their penis would still work, so it could make you more slaves.

Doing it to one child? Very, very evil, but what about 2? What about 10? 100? What is the most evil number?

Infinity - if you could manage a potentially infinite number of innocent victims, that would definitely be evil.

So, the most evil thing you could possibly do is to suggest that it be a requirement to take young, defenseless boys, strap them down, take a knife to the most sensitive part of their body, maim them in a way that will deprive them of pleasure for the rest of their lives, and, to top it all off, convince that child to do it to his children, and pass it on like a tradition.

Because you haven't taken the true blackpill on this topic

Trans and the entire trans movement is not a government psyop, it's not the CIA, it's not even population control

It's a pharmaceutical industry profiteering grab on the backs of mentally unwell people and direct exploitation of the "LGBTQIAWSRT" movement. They essentially saw the rise of the gay and said hm how can we make a lot of money from this.

Big pharma has been the ones in congress lobbying for it, they are the ones who got the earmark on the immigration bill to set aside funds for any new illegal to get gender care, they are the ones pushing the books in the schools, they are the ones directly funding and promoting all online content for transgenderism and gay shit in general. Big pharma is literally up to their nose in this trans shit and it's because they want to squeeze you of all your money before you inevitably off yourself (which, they found you were going to do anyway because of your mental condition)

It's entirely fucked, they exploited people who have a mental condition, they KNOW that they are going to kill themselves eventually, and essentially convinced them to give ALL of their money and labor dollars to them between now and that time that they rope. Only a select number of people have connected these dots and sometimes I fear for my life posting shit like this because the most DANGEROUS thing you can do in this life is try to take on the pharma corps. They are one of the last remaining "mafia-esque" rings and they have no problem using violence to quell bad press. They WILL come for you if they think you will become a problem to them, and if you have enough pull in the social sphere.

The only way to stop the trans shit, is to bring down the Pharma mafia, they are the big domino, very difficult to topple. But we will come to find that once you do topple that giant domino, the number of things that knocks over after will blow, you, the fuck, away.

Radical gender ideology is pushing unstable individuals toward violence and targeting innocent people.

Trans violence is an epidemic and the threat is escalating.

Thomas Lockley, the author who created the 'Yasuke was a legendary Samurai' myth from his book in 2019 deletes all his social media accounts after Japanese gamers and Japanese historians call out his historical fabrication. LOL.

Well done to Japanese gamers and Japanese historians.

This guy is essentially the godfather and chief architect of the 'Yasuke was a legendary Samurai' myth.

5 years ago he found a few vague paragraphs referring to Yasuke in the historical record and somehow managed to write an entire 400 page book based on these few references. He himself admits that he had to 'fill in the blanks'.

But writing 400 pages of conjecture, guess work, assumptions and 'filling in the blanks' is not history. It becomes historical fan fiction and fantasy literature.

"A lie told a thousand times becomes the truth."

Unfortunately the damage has already been done. He was the first to write such a book on Yasuke and market it on Amazon as 'historical fact'.

Outlets like CNN, Time Magazine, BBC, Wikipedia, then used it as their primary source for Yasuke articles, which then spread into mainstream pop culture leading to the mess we are in today.

Ubisoft, every video game website, social media supporters, all reference these as their 'original sources.'

All the Yasuke video games, TV shows, anime, comics etc all traced back to this one book.

Thankfully Japanese gamers and Japanese historians finally had enough, and flooded the social media accounts of Thomas Lockley with counter sources and fact checks exposing his work as a fraud and fabrication. Leading him to delete all his social media accounts as a result of this backlash. LOL.

Quite possibly one of the greatest historical frauds in modern times. All traced back to the fantasy of one man.

"Thomas Lockley lied to the entire world and presented his fan fiction as historical fact and edited wikipedia for ten years and tried to hide what he was doing. He blames Assassin's Creed for the 'hate mail' when really he's only mad that he got caught."

i didn't think gaiman's allegations could be any worse but he involved his OWN child
A week or so into Pavlovich's time with the family, their son began to address her as "slave" and ordered Pavlovich to call him "master." Gaiman seemed to find it amusing. Sometimes he'd say to his child, in an affable tone, "Now, now, Scarlett's not a slave. No, you mustn't." One day, Pavlovich came into the living room when Gaiman and the boy were on the couch watching the children's show Odd Squad. She joined them, sitting down next to the child. Gaiman put his arm around them both, reached into Pavlovich's shirt, and fondled her breasts. She says he didn't make any

Early life and education

Neil Richard Gaiman[6] was born on 10 November 1960[7] in Portchester, Hampshire.[8]

Gaiman's family is of Polish-Jewish and other Ashkenazi origins.[9] His great-grandfather emigrated to England from Antwerp before 1914[10] and his grandfather settled in Portsmouth and established a chain of grocery stores, changing the family name from Chaiman to Gaiman.[11] His father, David Bernard Gaiman, worked in the same chain of stores;[12] his mother, Sheila Gaiman (née Goldman), was a pharmacist. Neil has two younger sisters, Claire and Lizzy.[13]

To Avoid Prosecution In Britain, Neil Gaiman Joins Islamic Grooming Gang

WORLD · Jan 14, 2025

LONDON — Authorities in the United Kingdom were outwitted once again this week, as to avoid prosecution on charges of sexual assault, famed author Neil Gaiman joined an Islamic grooming gang.

The writer had come under fire in recent weeks due to accusations from multiple women that he had forced himself on them over the years but would apparently now escape being held accountable for the crimes due to aligning himself with a grooming gang in Rotherham.

Meet a few of the Jews whose vital work has shaped our societies' acceptance and understanding of LGBT+ sexuality.

Magnus Hirschfeld
1865 - 1935
German sexologist known as one of first pioneers of transgender rights. Coined the term "transvestite". Founded the Institute for Sexual Research to explore the science of sexuality, building on his previous campaigns for science-backed LGBT tolerance.

George Weinberg
1929 - 2017
American psychologist. Coined the term "homophobia" in the 1960s. Leader in the successful struggle to have homosexuality removed as a diagnostic category from the DSM, the professional therapeutic handbook.

Frank Kameny
1925 - 2011
LGBT rights activist often referred to as "one of the most significant figures" in the American gay rights movement. Filed the first known civil rights claim based on sexual orientation pursued in a US court, and became the first openly gay candidate for US Congress.

Brenda Howard
1946 - 2005
American LGBT rights activist and polyamorist. Known as the "Mother of Pride" for her leading role in coordinating the first LGBT pride march in 1970.

Howard said of herself: "The next time someone asks you why LGBT Pride marches exist, or why Gay Pride Month is in June, tell them 'A bisexual woman named Brenda Howard thought it should be.'"

Leslie Feinberg
1949 - 2011
American butch lesbian, transgender rights activist and author. Her writing laid the groundwork for much of the terminology and awareness around gender studies, and was instrumental in bringing these issues to a mainstream audience.

Joel Simkhai
1976 -
Israeli-American tech entrepreneur. Founder and former CEO of Grindr, a social networking and dating app for LGBT people. It has become the largest and most popular gay mobile app in the world.

Simkhai is homosexual, and has two brothers, who are also both gay.

Jazz Jennings
2000 -
American YouTube personality, spokesmodel, and LGBT rights activist. Notable for being one of the youngest publicly documented people to identify as transgender.

Raffi Freedman-Gurspan
1987 -
American transgender rights activist. The first openly transgender White House staffer. Named senior White House LGBT liason in 2016.

Harvey Milk
1930 - 1978
The first openly gay elected official in the history of California. Despite being the most pro-LGBT politician in America at the time, he was not open about his sexuality until after his experiences in the 1960s counterculture movements.

Gayle Rubin
1949 -
American cultural anthropologist, best known as an activist and theorist of sex and gender politics.

Her 1984 essay "Thinking Sex" is widely regarded as a founding text of gay and lesbian studies, sexuality studies, and queer theory.

Countless other Jews have made incredible contributions to LGBTQIA+ activism, culture, and more.

Singer Usher and former President Barack Obama were both named in testimony during the sex trafficking trial of rap mogul Sean "Diddy" Combs on Monday.

The court heard testimony from Diddy's ex-assistants, ex-associates, and his ex-girlfriend Cassie Ventura, as the trial rolls into its third week, Fox News reported.

Several other A-List names also came up as those called to testify spoke about the parade of top celebrities and music industry persons who attended Diddy's events and parties or who otherwise had some connection to the matter. Along with Usher and Obama, names including Biggie Smalls and Jennifer Lopez were also mentioned.

I put four toddlers on my back window and a fake wife.
I live alone in a nice house. I have sensors and hidden cameras around my house. I do amphetamines a lot and leave my windows open I have legitimately had two pedos slide through my window into what looks like a children's room (I guess it is in a eay, my nieces and nephews use it when they're over). I'm always there quietly with a taser and shotgun. Lethality has never been necessary though, the taser drops them. The first guy I beat the shit out of for fun. Just kicks, punches, one or two beatings with a chain. Showed him the footage and pictures I had of him approaching the house and sliding into the kids' room. Been blackmailing him since. The second guy...I was on amphetamines and hadn't had sex in six months. I tied him up and waited for him so I could beat him but honestly I fucked him instead. Most fuckin incredible nut of my life. And he whimpered the whole time.

Vietnamese Snuff Film Leaked Anonymous (ID: yoz92Y1g) 09/25/25(Thu)07:00:30 No.517153562 ▶

Anons redpilled on the Dutroux affair and similar cases already know the industry existed but this is the first case of a bonafide snuff film leaking into the normiesphere.

>In late July, a video that has become known asThe Vietnamese Butcherbegan circulating onTelegramand other encrypted messagingapps, showing a man lying on his back in a tiled room,masturbating. At the point of climax, a second man decapitates him with a meat cleaver in a few expert strokes, then drags the head off the body.
>At the time of writing, other similar cases have started to surface. Although identities and details are currently unknown, the footage again features butchered Asian men, and was shared on the Chinese messaging app Baidu Tieba, which is often used for criminality.
>In the process of researching this story, VICE spoke to a Chinese distributor of hardcore clips on Telegram; they offered to sell us access to groups in which tens of thousands of users share thousands of image packs with themes including heavy necrophilia, mortuary footage, drugged rape, and worse. WhileThe Vietnamese Butchermay be the first authentic snuff movie, it is unlikely to be the last.
https://www.vice.com/en/article/snuff-movie-the-vietnamese-butcher-13k/

Similar to the 2001 Armin Miewes cannibal cafe killing, the victim apparently volunteered to be executed for the video. Efforts to ID the killer have been fruitless so far. There are also screenshots of a different video, featuring a different victim being killed in the same manner floating around. Suggesting there is a lot more of these films being traded in underground telegram snuff groups yet to leak.

Have you heard about the so-called Argentinian economic miracle? I have news: there is no miracle. This is a lie.

I am the chairman of President Milei's council of advisors, and I want you to know that there is no miracle here at all.

You read that correctly. No miracle whatsoever.

What you are witnessing is the most impressive turnaround in the country's history.

We slashed wasteful spending that once enriched the few at the expense of the many.

We brought down inflation—a tax that disproportionately burdens the poor. As a result, we lowered poverty rates by more than 11% and lifted millions out of poverty

We eliminated the thousands of pickets that made travel across the country a nightmare. Imagine the relief of breathing in fresh air after years of suffocating congestion.

Welfare programs? The left's favorite: they mostly served politicians. They even stole food from the poor. Yes. They stole food from the poor.

Now, welfare flows directly to those who need it most.

At the core of our strategy, we eradicated the source of the macroeconomic instability that had plagued our nation for so long: we eliminated the fiscal deficit. We now run a fiscal surplus, which has dramatically reduced our country risk—from the 3000s to the 700s.

A miracle, some say? How dare they!

This is not a miracle. This is hard work. This is putting the country first, not politicians.

Why is the opposition protesting so fervently? Not because they care for the people or the nation, but because they fear the truth—that they have been the problem all along. Their time is over.

Again, this is not a miracle.

This is hard work. This is having a vision, formulating a plan, and executing it without fear. This is having the guts to do what is right. This is president @JMilei leadership.

The jig is up for the left. They have nothing, and they never did. They do not love the poor. They love poverty.

Now, tell me again that this is a miracle.

We didn't know it was impossible—so we did it.

Viva la libertad, carajo!

Why is the Fed quietly buying billions in bonds — and hoping nobody notices?

Charlie Garcia
Sat, May 17, 2025 at 8:01 AM PDT • 4 min read

The U.S. Federal Reserve just pulled off something stealthy — over four days last week, without fanfare, the Fed vacuumed up $43.6 billion in U.S. Treasurys. That's $8.8 billion in long-dated 30-year bonds on May 8 alone, plus another $34.8 billion earlier in the week. Not exactly small change.

Quietly returning to the quantitative-easing trough isn't standard Fed housekeeping — it's like a bank robber returning to the scene because he forgot his car keys.

The economy has changed over 100 years to prevent this chuddie. The only reason why it was possible in the 30s is due to an asset backed economy like gold. When the debt ceiling gets removed under Trump and factors like federal printing an QE means that there won't ever be a severe crash again.

Now that's even before considering that Blockchain technolog is officially another part of the economy now of their own entity. We literally invented a new economic sector to absorb the incoming printing happening just so that it doesn't feel like hyperinflation is happening right now, but it clearly is.

THE GREAT SUBSTITUTION

JUST IN: China cuts Treasury holdings to 17-year low.

$700.5 billion. Down 47% from peak.

Everyone is asking the wrong question.

The question is: WHO REPLACED THEM?

The Federal Reserve just told us.

Cayman Islands hedge funds now hold $1.85 trillion in Treasuries.

Official data showed $400 billion.

The hidden gap: $1.4 trillion.

From January 2022 to December 2024:

Cayman hedge funds bought $1.2 trillion. Federal Reserve sold $1.2 trillion. China sold $200 billion.

Leveraged funds absorbed 37% of ALL Treasury issuance.
They did not just replace China.
They replaced the Fed.

THE FUNDING MECHANISM

These funds do not buy with cash.

They borrow in shadow repo at 50 to 100x leverage.

The Office of Financial Research just revealed this market totals $5 trillion.

Twice as large as regulators expected.

Invisible until eight weeks ago.

THE DIVERGENCE

China: Selling Treasuries. Buying gold. Twelve consecutive months. 74 million ounces.

Hedge funds: Adding positions. $1.4 trillion in short futures. All-time high.

Sovereign holders with 30-year horizons: OUT.

Overnight-funded leverage: IN.

THE TEST

April 2025 volatility spiked yields 47 basis points.

Hedge funds did not deleverage.

They held.

Same leverage meets next crisis.

THE CATALYST

Bank of Japan meeting: December 18th 2025.

Yen strengthens. Carry trades unwind. Treasury volatility spikes.

The marginal bid for American sovereign debt is now the most fragile capital in global markets.

The spring compresses.

China's total debt-to-GDP ratio, encompassing government, corporate, and household debt, is estimated to be over 300% of GDP, with some reports indicating a figure as high as 303% in 2024 based on total social financing (TSF) relative to nominal GDP. [8] This includes significant contributions from local government financing vehicles (LGFVs), state-owned enterprises (SOEs), and household mortgages, with LGFV and policy bank debt pushing broader government-related liabilities to around 130% of GDP when included. [7] A state-backed think tank reported the macro leverage ratio—measuring total nonfinancial debt—as reaching 287.8% in 2023, up from 274.3% the previous year. [6] While official general government debt was reported at 77% of GDP in 2022 by the IMF [3], broader measures that include contingent and implicit liabilities suggest a much higher overall debt burden. China's holdings, the 3rd-largest holder, declined -$11.8 billion, to $688.7 billion, the lowest since 2008.

However, Belgium's stockpile, which includes Chinese custodial accounts, rose +$1.6 billion, to a record $468.4 billion.

Japan, the largest foreign holder of Treasuries, posted a +$10.7 billion increase, to $1.2 trillion, the highest since July 2022.

The UK, the 2nd-biggest owner, saw a +$13.2 billion surge, to $877.9 billion, the 3rd-highest on record.

Meanwhile, Canadian holdings dropped -$56.7 billion, to $419.1 billion, the lowest since July.

Demand for US Treasuries remains strong overall.

EXPOSED: The Biggest Lie in Global Finance Right Now

Here's what the data actually shows:

The Headline They're Running:
China's Treasury holdings → $688.7 billion
Lowest since 2008.
"Dedollarization is HERE."

What They're Hiding:

Belgium just hit $468.4 BILLION.

All-time record.

Why does this matter?

Belgium's GDP is $580 billion. They're not buying half their economy in Treasuries.

This is where China actually holds its dollars … through Euroclear custodial accounts in Brussels.

Net the two positions?

China's TRUE dollar exposure: essentially unchanged.

The Real Story Nobody's Telling:

While financial media screams "dollar collapse":

→ Japan INCREASED holdings $10.7B to $1.2 TRILLION
→ UK SURGED $13.2B to $877.9 billion
→ Total foreign holdings: $9.2 TRILLION

Second-highest level in human history.

Here's the Pattern:

Every time China "dumps" Treasuries, Belgium mysteriously accumulates the exact amount.

This has happened for 7 consecutive quarters.

It's not dedollarization.

It's an accounting shuffle designed to manufacture a narrative.

By March 2026, total foreign Treasury holdings will exceed $9.5 trillion.

The dedollarization story will quietly die.

And everyone who panic-sold duration will watch yields fall below 4%.

The money doesn't lie.

The headlines do.

The Kobeissi Letter @KobeissiLetter 10h

The US debt crisis is entering uncharted territory:

The US Treasury has issued a record $25.4 trillion in T-Bills over the last 12 months, lifting total Treasury issuance to a record $36.6 trillion.

This means T-Bills now reflect 69.4% of all Treasury issuance, near an all-time high.

The percentage has risen +27.6 points since the November 2015 low.

In other words, the US government is increasingly financing its long-term obligations with debt that matures in just a few months.

As a consequence, interest expense on public debt now moves nearly in lockstep with the Fed's policy rate.

If inflation resurges and the Fed is forced to raise rates again, interest costs will climb to unprecedented levels.

The US debt crisis is intensifying.

BREAKING: The Great American Debt Trap Has Snapped Shut

Total U.S. consumer credit just hit $5.08 TRILLION.

That is not a typo.

In October alone, Americans borrowed another $9.2 billion. Exposed. Desperate. Drowning.

Here is the number that should terrify every central banker on Earth:

Credit card debt stands at $1.32 trillion, with average interest rates at 22.8%.

The Federal Reserve has slashed rates by 150 basis points since September 2024.

Credit card rates have not moved.

Read that again.

The transmission mechanism is broken. The Fed is cutting. Banks are not passing it through. American households are trapped paying depression era rates on recession era wages to finance inflation era prices.

Since 2020, consumer credit has exploded by nearly $1 trillion. Not for luxuries. For survival. For groceries. For gas. For the gap between what wages pay and what life costs.

This is not consumer confidence. This is consumer capitulation.

The mathematics are merciless: At 22.8% APR, debt doubles in 38 months. The average American carrying a balance is not building wealth. They are feeding a compounding machine designed to extract every dollar they will ever earn.

What comes next:

When credit tightens, and it will, there is no buffer. No savings. No slack. Just $5 trillion in obligations meeting a workforce one missed paycheck from default.

What to watch:

Q4 delinquency data. If serious delinquencies breach 3%, the unraveling begins.

How to survive:

Pay down revolving debt before anything else. 22.8% guaranteed loss beats any guaranteed gain.

The Fed cannot save you from this.

Only arithmetic can.

And the arithmetic says: America is borrowing from tomorrow to pay for yesterday.

Tomorrow always arrives.

BREAKING: The $610 Billion AI Ponzi Scheme Just Collapsed

Last night at 4pm EST, something unprecedented happened. Nvidia stock rallied 5% on earnings, then crashed into negative territory within 18 hours. Wall Street algorithms detected what humans couldn't: the numbers don't add up.

Here's what they found.

Nvidia reported $33.4 billion in unpaid bills, up 89% in one year. Customers who bought chips haven't paid for them yet. The average wait time for payment stretched from 46 days to 53 days. That extra week represents $10.4 billion that may never arrive.

Meanwhile, Nvidia stockpiled $19.8 billion in unsold chips, up 32% in three months. But management claims demand is insane and supply is constrained. Both cannot be true. Either customers aren't buying or they're buying without cash.

The cash flow tells the real story. Nvidia generated $14.5 billion in actual cash but reported $19.3 billion in profit. The gap is $4.8 billion. Healthy chip companies like TSMC and AMD convert over 95% of profits to cash. Nvidia converts 75%. That's distress level.

Here's where it gets criminal.

Nvidia gave $2 billion to xAI. xAI borrowed $12.5 billion to buy Nvidia chips. Microsoft gave OpenAI $13 billion. OpenAI committed $50 billion to buy Microsoft cloud. Microsoft ordered $100 billion in Nvidia chips for that cloud. Oracle gave OpenAI $300 billion in cloud credits. OpenAI ordered Nvidia chips for Oracle data centers.

The same dollars circle through different companies and get counted as revenue multiple times. Nvidia books sales, but nobody actually pays. The bills age. The inventory piles up. The cash never comes.

AI company CEOs admitted it themselves last week. Airbnb's CEO called it vibe revenue. OpenAI burns $9.3 billion per year but makes $3.7 billion. That's a $5.6 billion annual loss. The $157 billion valuation requires $3.1 trillion in future profits that MIT research shows 95% of AI projects will never generate.

Peter Thiel sold $100 million in Nvidia on November 9. SoftBank dumped $5.8 billion on November 11. Michael Burry bought put options betting Nvidia crashes to $140 by March 2026.

Bitcoin, which tracks AI speculation, dropped from $126,000 in October to $89,567 today. That's a 29% crash. AI startups hold $26.8 billion in Bitcoin as collateral for loans. When Nvidia falls another 40%, those loans default, forcing $23 billion in Bitcoin sales, crashing crypto to $52,000.

The timeline is now certain. February 2026, Nvidia reports fourth quarter and reveals how many bills aged past 60 days. March 2026, credit agencies downgrade. April 2026, the first restatement. The fraud that took 18 months to build unwinds in 90 days.

Fair value for Nvidia: $71 per share. Current price: $186. The math is simple.

This is the fastest moving financial fraud in history because algorithms detected it in real time. Human investors are 90 days behind.

BREAKING: AI Detected $610B Fraud in 60 Minutes—Erased $520B Before Humans Finished Reading

November 20, 2025, 4:05 PM. Nvidia releases earnings. Stock jumps 8%.

Eighteen hours later, trading algorithms had erased $520 billion. Not from panic. From reading 78 pages faster than humans could finish page one.

What Machines Found in 60 Minutes

Unpaid bills: $33.4 billion, up 89% in one year. Collection time stretched from 46 to 53 days. Seven extra days equals $4.4 billion per quarter not converting to cash.

Inventory: Up 32% to $19.8 billion during claimed shortages. You cannot stockpile chips while claiming insane demand. When Nvidia launched its last chip under identical conditions, inventory fell 18%.

Spot prices: Down 40% since August. H100 GPUs rent for $1.92/hour, down from $3.20. Pure market signal contradicting every shortage claim.

The $610 Billion Circle

Nvidia gave xAI $2 billion. xAI borrowed $12.5 billion to buy Nvidia chips. Microsoft gave OpenAI $13 billion. OpenAI committed $50 billion to Azure. Microsoft ordered $100 billion in Nvidia chips for Azure. Oracle committed $300 billion to OpenAI requiring Nvidia hardware.

Money circles. Nobody pays cash. Receivables age. OpenAI burns $9.3 billion annually against $3.7 billion revenue.

The Proof

Bloomberg data: 62% of selling came from AI-driven quant funds at 9:47 AM. Human analysts didn't publish notes until four hours later. Machines read, calculated, and executed before humans finished analysis.

Historical Pattern

Lucent 2000: Same pattern. $8.7 billion writeoff. Bankruptcy.
Sun Microsystems 2008: Same pattern. $2.1 billion writeoff. Sold at distress.
Nortel 2001: Same pattern. $19.2 billion restatement. Liquidated.

What Happens 28th December!

Nvidia files annual report showing how many of those $33.4 billion in unpaid bills aged past 60 days. If over 24%, bad debt reserves double. Earnings restate downward. Stock drops to $68-88.

The Shift

November 20, 2025 ended human market dominance. Algorithms now detect overvaluation in hours, not months. Every future bubble collapses 70% faster. The dot-com bust took 30 months. Machine-driven collapses take 4-9 months.

Two centuries of human price discovery ended in 18 hours.

Machines won.

BREAKING: Nvidia Just Named Me in a 7-Page Defensive Memo to Wall Street

A four trillion dollar company felt compelled to respond to a Substack analysis.

Alongside Michael Burry.

Here is what happened and why it matters:

On November 23-24, Nvidia dispatched an unprecedented private memorandum to sell-side analysts explicitly rebutting two sources: the man who predicted the 2008 financial crisis, and my forensic analysis of circular financing in AI infrastructure.

Forty-eight hours later, reports of Meta negotiating to purchase Google TPUs triggered a 2.59 percent drop. One hundred sixteen billion dollars erased at the close. One hundred fifty billion at the intraday trough.

Nvidia's defense deployed compelling data. Free cash flow conversion at 98 percent of GAAP net income since 2018. Days sales outstanding at 53 days. Strategic investments totaling $4.7 billion year-to-date, representing less than one percent of revenue.

I acknowledge these points. The cash is real. The legal structure does not replicate Enron.

But the memo answered the wrong question.

The concern was never accounting fraud. It was structural dependency on capital flows that require AI demand projections to materialize at rates that remain economically unvalidated.

Burry clarified this precisely: "I am not claiming Nvidia is Enron. It is clearly Cisco."

Cisco did not commit fraud. Cisco sold real equipment to real customers building real networks. Those customers simply built capacity for demand that never arrived. The stock fell 89 percent.

Burry is now liquidating Scion Asset Management. His bearish position against AI infrastructure is his final public statement as a fund manager.

The Meta-Google TPU negotiation proves the CUDA moat is crossable.

The question is not whether Nvidia committed fraud.

The question is whether 44 times trailing earnings prices the scenario where AI demand disappoints by even twenty percent while facing genuine competition for the first time.

November 25 did not answer that question.

It began asking it.

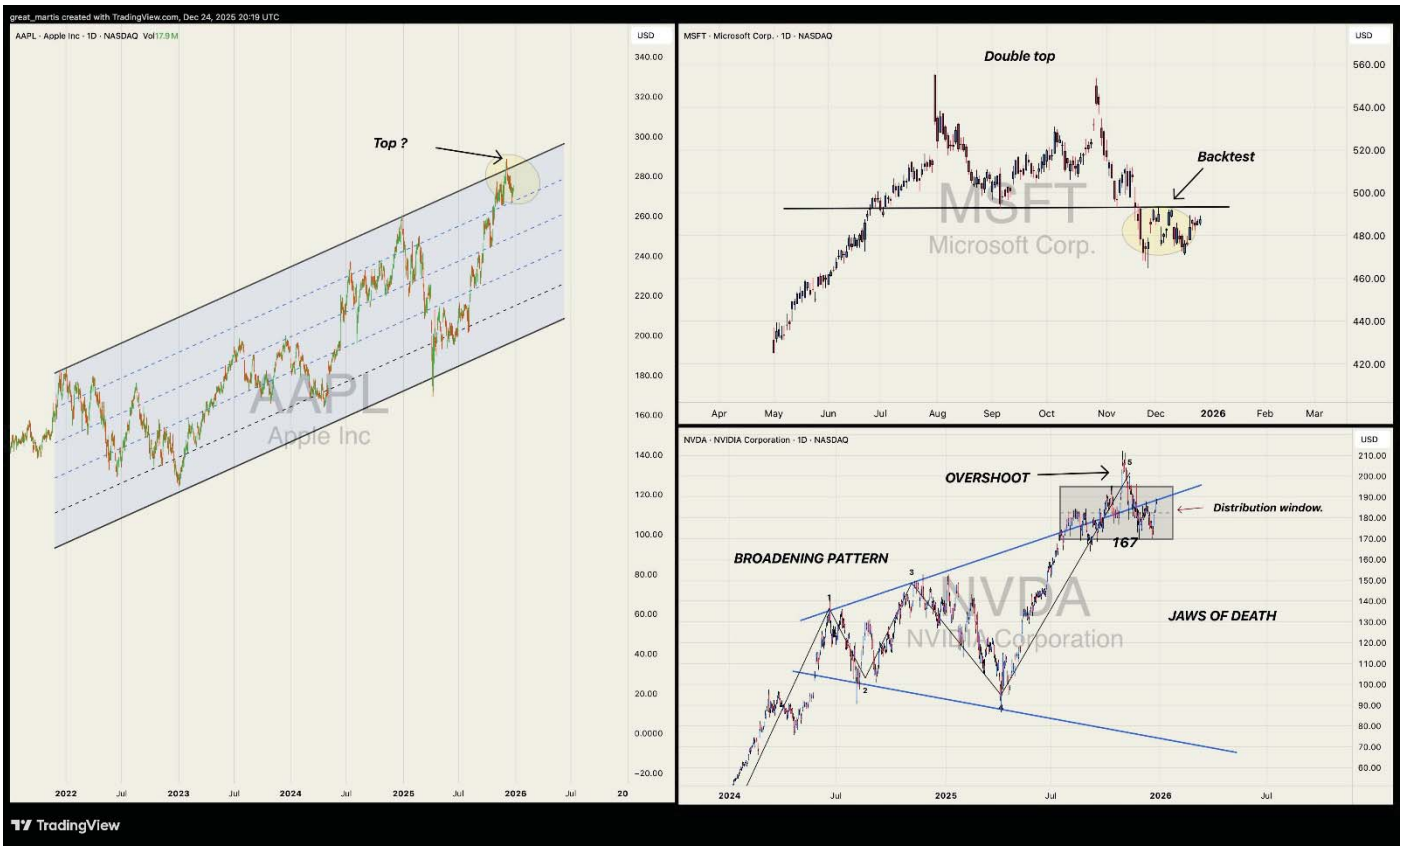
I have never seen so many broadening patterns and rising wedges form across a wide range of sectors: Dow Jones, Nasdaq, banks, etc.

The last time this occurred was 1929.



The Great Martis @great_martis Dec 6

US top investment banks have formed broadening patterns.

I have added Australia's largest bank, the Commonwealth Bank, as an example of what happens when the 5th reference point matures.

For one's private perusal, enjoy.✨

Nigga, you could lay brick 70 years ago and own a home with with 2 cars and your 3-4 kids being taken care of by your wife.

They took us off the gold standard and all the tough jobs whites used to do SLOWLY made less sense to do as a white man between the early 70's and 2010. And SLOWLY along the way Hispanics filled those jobs as whites SLOWLY left. To the point we are at now where Hispanics do all the jobs whites used to do except most of them live like 10 to a house, and can't make it anymore like whites used to be able to when the dollar had value

My dad said that in the mid/late 70's when he was in 4th or 5th grade or whatever they moved next door to this neighbor. He had two kids, his wife was a housewife and he mowed peoples' lawns for a living, which my dad also did as a kid. He didn't even do lawns outside of commercial centers, he just mowed peoples' lawns and owned a home had a decent car and went on a nice vacation every other year. Wild

In 1971 the federal minimum wage was $1.60 per hour

That's 1.82 oz of gold per week in 40 hours

Today that would translate to approx $150.00 per hour and $6000

That's what they stole from Americans

The 150k guy makes 3x what the 50k guy makes, but he saves 14x as much. The 300k guy makes 6x the 50k guy, but he saves 40x as much. This example shows how people at the bottom are trapped by cost of living and can't save for shit, they will literally never escape wage slavery. Add compound interest and the gap becomes even wider

My husband and I were talking last night about how a 12 pack of drinks is $9 now and how in 2020 I used to buy them 4/$10. I decided to go back into my Walmart app and see what I was paying for a random grocery order. In January 2020 I paid $70.20 for 30 items, I added all of them to the cart again and repurchased them today. Today those 30 items were $165.42. That's a $95.22 price increase in four years time. That's a 135.6% inflation percentage. We can't go on living like this. I can't be the only one who feels this way.

I am prorer than 10 years ago despite earning 2x more.
Ok in 2013 I was earning around 2200/month. With this money I could afford a Mid Level appartment a car, groceries, a big vacation once a year and by the end of the month I still had like 300 left to save or spend as I saw fit.
Now Im earning around 4000/month. I had to move to a low level appartment - drive the same car that I bought in 2013 - buy 20-30% less groceries, vaccations have been reduced to a small trip once a year and by the end of the month I have perhaps 100 bucks left.
This doesnt seem right. If this continues I will be basically homeless even if I earn 6000/month in 10 years.

The real dollar ended in August 1971 along with Bretton Woods. (However, gold didn't become legal for Americans to purchase until Jan 1, 1975 at $175 an ounce). You could get an ounce of gold at $43 back then because the dollar was powerful. A millionaire could get 23,255 ounces of gold. After we allowed the dollar to inflate, it has become much easier to be a nominal millionaire. Today, you need $45-50,000,000 to be a real millionaire. So even if you are making $100k per year and think you are well to do, the dollar has inflated so much that you are poorer than a low skill worker in 1971. Our slavery truly has been perfected.

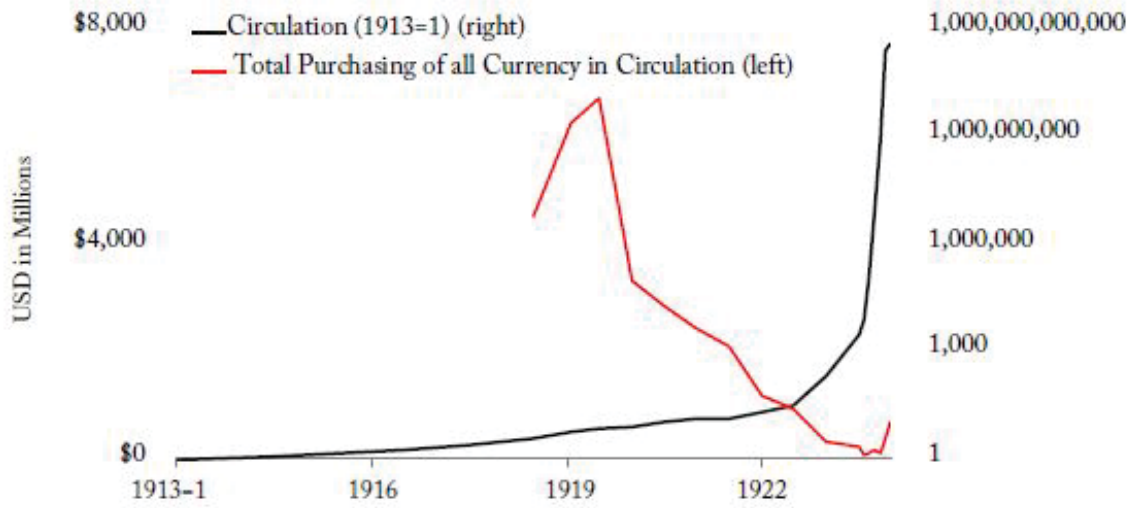
The chart below shows Weimar money printing on a logarithmic scale (note the same dynamics as above) and also the total value of the currency (not the value of each currency unit).



The chart above demonstrates that at first the purchasing power of each currency unit fell more slowly than the increasing quantity of money would imply (increasing the total value of the currency). But then there was a sudden inflection after which purchasing power losses dramatically outran the pace of money printing until the entire currency (not just each currency unit) was worth almost nothing.

There is a reason, beyond shifting confidence, why the total value of a currency can move independently of its quantity. All banking systems begin by adding liquidity to gold and silver: banks accept bullion deposits and issue claims to that bullion. The claims, being perfectly uniform and backed by bullion, are more liquid than bullion itself, and so the market prefers them. Healthy central banks also issue currency backed by commercial invoices and so-called anticipation taxes (taxes the government has already levied but not yet collected, this in the days before electronic transfer).

It should be pointed out, that this calculation was done using the official US government algorithm for inflation,
If you use the average price of gold to calculate inflation between 1972 and 2017, the $3.25 would be closer to
If you use the inflation rate for silver between 1972 and 2017, the $3.25 would be around $33 .

In 1975 the minimum wage was $2.10/hr.

Today, while minimum wage is now about 3x higher, the cost of just one year of school is now 164x more expensive than the price in this picture.

Japan's bond market is imploding:

Japan's 30Y Government Bond Yield has officially surged to its highest level in history, at 3.15%.

For decades, Japan was known for low long-term interest rates.

Now, they are dealing with high inflation, shifting policy outlook, and a whopping 260% Debt-to-GDP ratio.

On top of this, Japan holds $1.1 TRILLION worth of US debt, making it the largest foreign holder of US debt.

Yesterday, Japan's Prime Minister Ishiba called the situation "worse than Greece."

What will Japan do here?

Prices in Japan are soaring:
The cost of rice jumped +98.4% year-over-year in April, posting the biggest monthly jump since 1971.
This is an acceleration from the +92.1% surge recorded in March.
Energy prices rose +9.3% after the March phaseout of Japanese government subsidies for gas and electricity.
As a result, Japan's inflation CPI excluding fresh food rose by +3.5% from the previous year, up from a +3.2% gain in March.
This marks the 5th consecutive monthly reading at 3%+.
Meanwhile, Japan's economy shrank by -0.7% in Q1 2025, the first decline since Q1 2024.
Japan has entered stagflation.

Andrea Lisi, CFA
@Andrea_Texas_82

Following the significant surge in #Japanese #inflation, which rose to 4% year-on-year, the yield on the 10-year Japanese Government Bond (JGB) climbed to 1.5%.

I was surprised to read reports indicating that Bank of Japan Governor Kazuo Ueda has expressed the central bank's willingness to expand government bond purchases should long-term interest rates experience a sharp increase. Subsequent to this statement, the 10-year JGB yield moderated to 1.42%.

Such remarks, which appear to dismiss efforts to curb inflation, should serve as a critical cautionary signal for Japanese investors. Conversely, it is increasingly difficult to overlook the potential for further appreciation in the price of gold denominated in yen. Notably, over the past five years, #gold priced in yen has appreciated by an impressive 142%.

This raises the question: who would opt to invest in JGBs and effectively lock in a real loss of 3%?

I welcome your insights and perspectives on this matter. I greatly value the input of my audience.

Japan is an appendage of the FED. It is the testing ground for all fiat Keynesianisms. BOJ is selling treasuries to buy Yen to prevent the Yen from hyperinflating, they did this back in October 2022 and the effects lasted about 3 months. They did it again yesterday and the effects lasted ONE FUCKING DAY. They appear to be doing again, seems 160 is a trigger point for the BOJ and they cannot stop it from falling past that level anymore.
The BOJ is trapped they have to do one of two things:
1. Continue dumping their 1.3 trillion in US treasuries to try and save the Yen, which could cause a sovereign default cascade and therefore the FED will not let them do this for long.
2. Raise interest rates, which will crater the yen even further since the Yen is a pure debt instrument backed by government of Japan bonds. Raising interest rates will devalue the yen further; exact opposite of what it's suppose to do.

In other words, they have minimal runway for continued intervention until they are forced to use an emergency rate hike, and that emergency rate hike will kill the Yen.
Japan is the memetic centre of the global inflationary scheme. Once the Yens goes into it death stage, entire global debt market will unwind.

Japan suppressed interest rates for decades after their economic slump in the 80's/90's. That meant, for your trendy finance types, you get set up to take out loans in Japan at like 0.5 to 1.0% interest, convert it to euro or dollar, and invest. You don't even need high returns - if you borrow a million USD at 0.5% and make 1.0% returns you pocket a cool 5000USD a year, for free!

Well, as you can see, you have to borrow a lot to make it profitable, and there was a lot of borrowing. 155JPY to 1USD, so 100,000,000,000,000 Yen is about 650,000,000 USD, so the size of the 'carry trade' at peak was roughly equivalent to 3.2 trillion dollar. That sharp spike is a decrease of 150,000,000,000,000 Yen, or 1,950,000,000,000 USD. This means nearly 2 trillion dollars of liquidity went back to Japan in the space of, what, a month? That's liquidity that came out of all markets, and it's not done yet.

And the reason it's bad, is because the markets were already showing signs of liquidity shortages. Despite all the money printing there's not enough liquid cash to go around, because all the liquid cash is tied up trying to make % returns to stave off inflation. Liquidity is the oil that lubricates the engine of finance. What happens to an engine when there's no more oil?

everyone in pol is a retard the op thinks the yen is going to STRENGTHEN literally the stupidest fucking thing I have ever heard.

yen is not strengthening now nor will it ever strengthen. there are good reasons why yields rise (country is getting stronger and more productive) and bad reasons why yields rise (country is losing industry competitiveness and becoming a giant retirement hospice center and investors wonder if the yen they get back in the future is toilet paper or not)

It's solidly in camp number 2 there is no reason ever to unwind the yen carry trade. Japan is the best example of a country in fiscal dominance and interest rates do not fucking do anything to make you want to hold the currency.

>Japan's debt-to-GDP ratio is one of the highest in the developed world >Government Revenue vs. Debt Servicing Costs: For fiscal 2025, Japan's debt servicing costs were already estimated at nearly a quarter of overall spending.

>The assumed interest rate for this was 2.6%, and projections for fiscal 2026/27 assumed costs would climb further with an assumed rate of around 3%. This indicates that even gradual, planned rate increases are pushing debt servicing to record highs and putting significant pressure on the national budget.

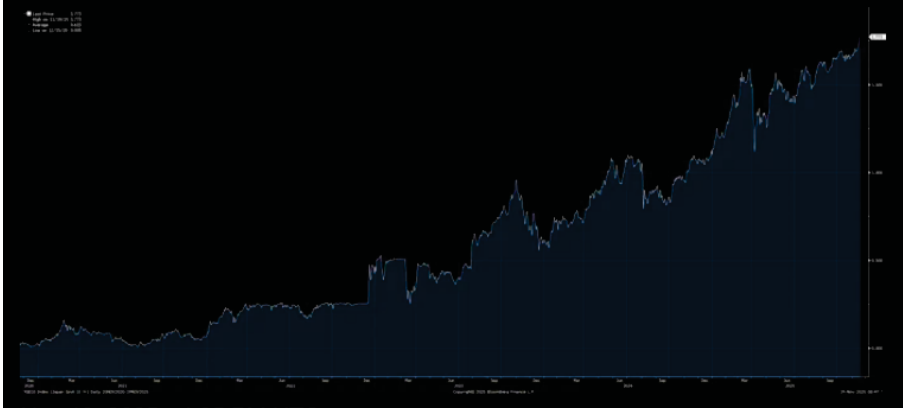
>Debt Market Sensitivity: Financial analysts and news reports indicate that each rate increase exacerbates fiscal pressures. For example, the July 2024 increase to 0.25% caused significant market volatility. A Reuters report in August 2025 indicated that the assumed interest rate for the fiscal 2026 budget was raised to 2.6%, reflecting higher market trends.

>One analyst was even quoted as saying "the math stops working above 4%," and that Japan was approaching that threshold.

Capital Flows @Globalflows 16h

There has been a lot of talk around how 10 year yields in Japan are melting up and how this is an indication that a massive carry trade is about to unwind

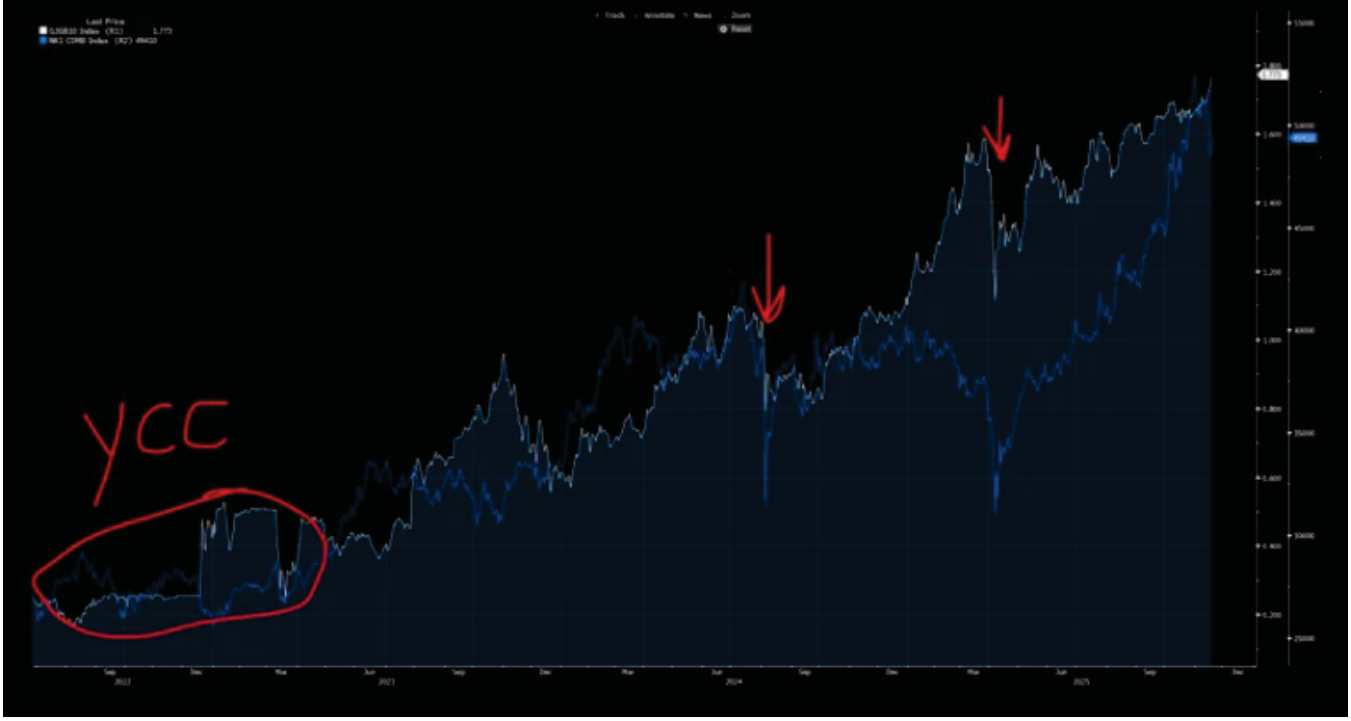
The problem with this is that it doesn't match up with ANY of the actual evidence □



Nov 19, 2025 · 4:05 PM UTC

First,

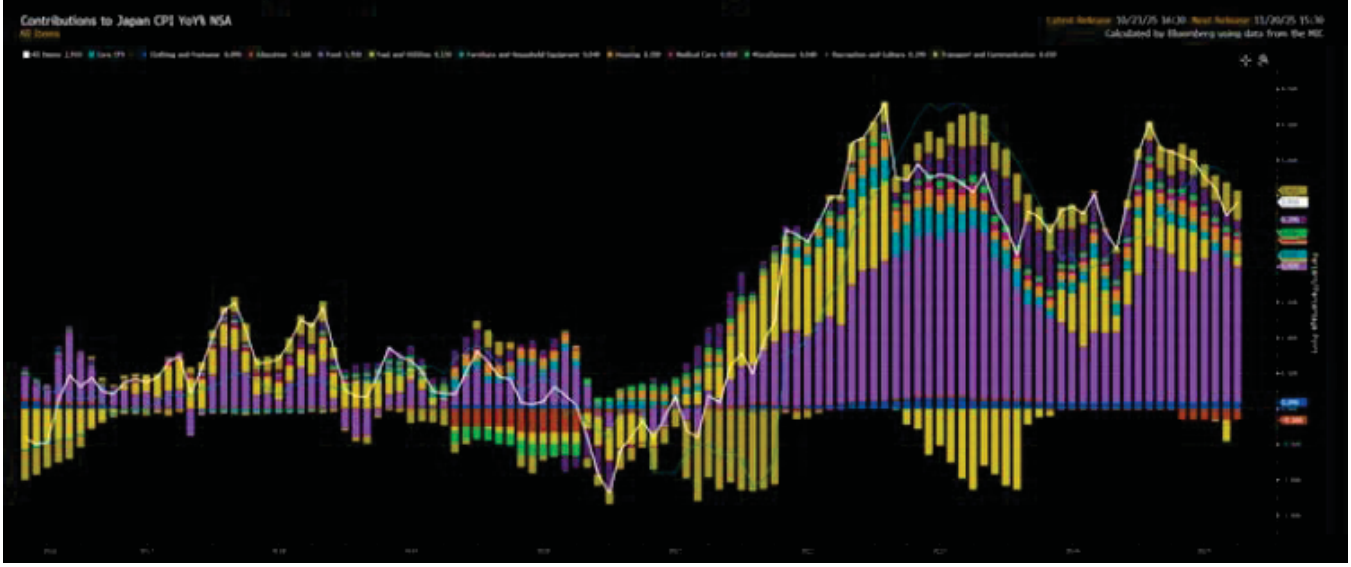
yields have been rising for years now and the Nikkei has been moving in lockstep ever since the BoJ stopped doing yield curve control. On top of this, every major carry trade unwind that pushed the Nikkei and US equities down was when JGB yields were going DOWN, not up!



[YCC – Yield Curve Control]

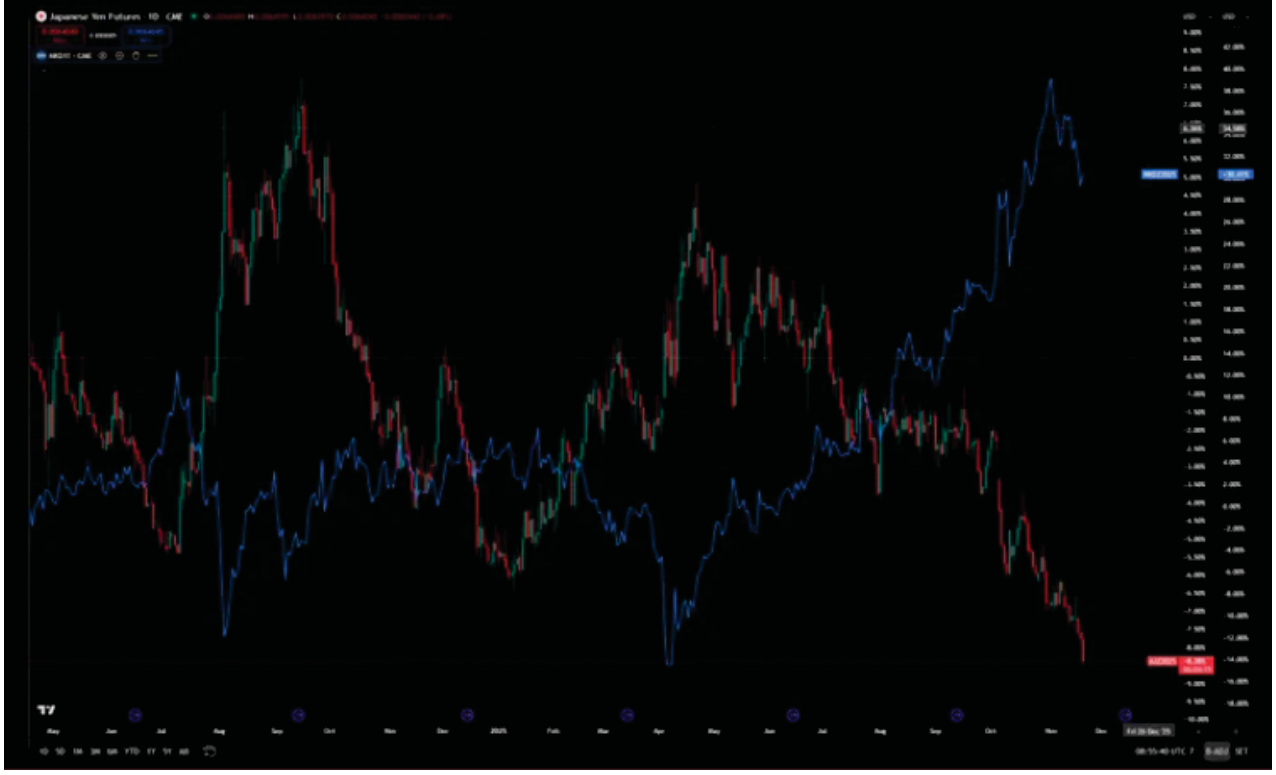
JGB yields are rising because inflation is still elevated and the BoJ isnt taking a aggressive action toward it. The BoJ has hiked a little but its nowhere near enough to bring inflation down

This is WHY long end yields have been melting up



The important question to ask is IF a change in the Yen and cross-border flows begins to drag on equities, how will this show up?

Every time we have seen a carry trade unwind in the Yen it has been with JGBs rallying (yields falling), a stronger yield, and the Nikkei leading the way to the downside in the Asia session. This is not taking place at the moment.



The interesting divergence that is taking place is between 10y US yields and 10y JGB yields. Simply put, JGB yields are rising and US 10 year yields are falling. However, USDJPY is rallying, which is different from the past trend.

You will notice that during this time, none of it has been negative for US treasuries. People are saying that this will cause US rates to blow to new highs which is complete nonsense. The opposite is literally happening.

THE GLOBAL FINANCIAL SYSTEM JUST BROKE IN TOKYO

Japan's 30-year bond yield hit 3.41% today. That number means nothing to you. Here's why it should terrify you.

Japan owes 230% of everything it produces. It's the most indebted nation in human history. For 35 years, they kept the lights on by borrowing at near-zero rates. That era ended this morning.

Here's What Just Happened

Core inflation is running at 3.0%. Government bond yields are spiking to levels not seen since 1999. China just conducted its 25th military incursion near Japanese waters this year. Japan is now forced to spend 2% of GDP on defense … nearly 9 trillion yen annually.

The Bank of Japan is trapped between two impossible choices: raise rates and trigger a debt collapse, or keep rates low and watch inflation destroy savings. They chose door number two.

Why You Should Care

Every major bank, hedge fund, and institution on Earth has borrowed yen at cheap rates and invested it elsewhere for 30 years. This "carry trade" could be worth anywhere from $350 billion to $4 trillion. Nobody knows the real number because it's hidden in derivatives.

When Japan's system breaks, this money unwinds. Fast.

The last time we saw a preview … July 2024 … the Nikkei dropped 12.4% in a single day. The Nasdaq fell 13%. That was a small tremor. The earthquake is coming.

The Math Is Simple!

Japan's government pays interest on $9 trillion in debt. Every 0.5% increase in rates costs them $45 billion annually. At current yields, debt service will consume 10% of all tax revenue. That's the death spiral threshold.

The yen is trading at 157 to the dollar. If it strengthens to 152, the entire carry trade becomes unprofitable. Unwinding begins. Emerging market currencies could drop 10-15%. The Nasdaq could fall 12-20% as funds are forced to sell.

What Happens Next

December 18-19, the Bank of Japan meets. Markets are pricing 51% odds they raise rates another 0.25%. If they do, volatility explodes. If th don't, inflation accelerates and the problem gets worse.

There is no way out. Japan's fiscal dominance is now permanent. They must keep the yen weak to service their debt. This means the free mon that powered global markets since 1990 is ending.

The Bottom Line

Interest rates worldwide are going up 0.5-1.0% permanently. Not becau of inflation. Because the world's largest creditor nation can no longer subsidize global growth.

Your mortgage, your car loan, your credit card … all repricing higher. Stock valuations built on cheap money … all compressing. The everything bubble … all deflating.

This is not a recession. This is a regime change. The largest liquidity engine in financial history just seized up, and most people won't understand what happened until their portfolios are down 30%.

Tokyo broke the world today. You'll feel it tomorrow.

JAPAN'S STIMULUS JUST KILLED THE CARRY TRADE AND YOUR PORTFOLIO HAS 60 DAYS

November 16, 2025. Japan announces $110B stimulus. Bond yields spike to 1.73%. The interest rate gap between US and Japan collapses from 3.5% to 2.4% in ten months.

The math just broke on $1.2 trillion in global positions.

For 30 years, hedge funds and banks borrowed yen at zero percent to buy everything. US stocks. Emerging market bonds. Crypto. Real estate. The trade was free money. Borrow in Japan at 0%. Invest in America at 4%. Pocket 4% risk free. Leverage it 10 times. Make 40% annually doing nothing.

Japan's stimulus ends this. Not because rates are rising. Because yields are rising WITHOUT inflation.

Money velocity in Japan is 1.42. Down 29% since 2000. Stimulus money gets saved, not spent. AI is crushing service costs 40%. China exports deflation through massive overcapacity. The transmission from spending to prices is dead.

But bond yields still rise because supply increases. Japan must issue $110B in new debt. Buyers demand higher rates. Debt service costs explode. At 263% debt to GDP, every 1% yield increase costs $26B annually.

The interest rate gap narrows. After currency hedging costs, borrowing yen to buy dollars now LOSES money. Every fund running this trade faces the same calculation. Exit or bleed.

$500B must liquidate over 18 months. This is not panic. This is fiduciary duty.

Japanese institutions hold $3.2T in foreign assets. Domestic bonds finally pay competitive returns. Capital comes home. The world's largest creditor becomes a net seller.

When $800B exits global markets, prices do not adjust. They gap down violently until forced sellers find any buyer at any price.

US equity multiples compress from 21x to 16x. Not on recession. On liquidity withdrawal. Nikkei falls 12% as yen strength destroys exporters. Emerging markets lose 30% of funding. Credit spreads blow out 100 basis points.

The Federal Reserve ending quantitative tightening December 1st is surrender. They see Japanese capital disappearing. They will print to buy Treasuries themselves. Fiscal dominance is here.

Three decades of free Japanese money subsidizing the world just ended. The anchor is gone. Every asset priced for liquidity abundance now reprices for scarcity.

Deflation wins despite stimulus. Technology deflates faster than government spending inflates. The collision creates chaos, not equilibrium.

This is not prediction. This is arithmetic in motion. Position for the regime break or become a statistic.

BREAKING: Japan's economy contracted -1.8% in Q3 2025 on an annualized basis, the first decline in 6 quarters.

This marks a significant deterioration from the +2.3% expansion seen in the prior quarter.

The drop was driven by private residential investment and exports due to new construction regulations and ongoing US tariffs.

Housing investment plunged -9.4%, its steepest drop since the -9.8% collapse in Q2 2009.

The Japanese economy is losing momentum.

THE SILENT COLLAPSE: How Japan Just Triggered The Greatest Wealth Transfer In Human History

Three numbers will define your next decade.

Japan's 20-year bond yield: 2.80%. 30-year bond: 3.334% Highest ever recorded.

Global yen carry trade exposure: $20 trillion.
Japan's debt-to-GDP ratio: 250%.

What you're witnessing is not a market event. It's a phase transition.

For 30 years, the global financial system ran on a simple exploit: borrow yen at zero percent, buy everything else. Hedge funds. Pension funds. Sovereign wealth. Twenty trillion dollars built on Japanese rates staying frozen forever.

That assumption died November 19th, 2025.

The Bank of Japan, suffocating under 2.5% inflation while wages grow at 1.8%, just ended the free money era. The 10-year yield jumped 70 basis points in twelve months. The machine is reversing.

When yen strengthen, every dollar borrowed must be repaid in more expensive currency. Forced liquidation begins. Not tomorrow. Now.

The correlation nobody discussed: Chinese military incursions near Senkaku Islands increased 20% this year. Fifteen incidents in November alone. Each confrontation adds measurable risk premium to Japanese bonds. Japan is redirecting 2% of GDP to defense by 2027. Fifty billion annually. The pacifist era ended while you were scrolling.

Mathematics doesn't negotiate. If USD/JPY breaks below 140, margin calls trigger across four continents simultaneously. Emerging markets lose 3-5% of foreign capital. US equities face 5-10% drawdowns through pure contagion. Volatility index explodes past 30.

The 1997 Asian Financial Crisis started with Thai baht devaluation. Loss: $600 billion.

This is twenty trillion moving in reverse.

Your retirement account, your mortgage rate, your job security ... all priced in a world where Japan stayed asleep.

Japan just woke up.

Shanaka Anslem Perera ⚡ @shanaka86 17h

Japan's bond market just told politicians to sit down.

November 18th, 2025: Japan's 40-year government bond yield hit 3.668%. All-time high since the security launched in 2007.

Here's why this number ends the world you knew:

Prime Minister Takaichi announced $110 billion in stimulus spending. Economics textbooks say stimulus announcements lower bond yields by promising growth. Japan's market did the exact opposite. Yields spiked 6.5 basis points in a single session.

This is a vote of no confidence in sovereign debt sustainability.

Japan owes 250% of its entire economy. Debt service already consumes 23% of annual tax revenue at current rates. Every 100 basis point yield increase costs an additional 2.8 trillion yen annually. The math stops working above 4%.

The market just priced in that threshold approaching.

But the real devastation happens elsewhere.

Twenty trillion dollars in global investments were funded by borrowing yen at near-zero rates. Borrow at 0.1%, invest at 8%, pocket the difference. The largest arbitrage trade in human history. Every hedge fund. Every sovereign wealth fund. Every pension seeking yield.

Built on Japanese rates staying frozen forever.

That assumption died yesterday.

When 40-year yields trade at 3.67%, the arbitrage collapses. Borrowing costs rise. The yen strengthens as capital returns home. Borrowed funds become more expensive to repay. Wellington Management estimates 4-8% yen appreciation in the next six months.

Forced liquidation begins automatically. Positions turn unprofitable. Margin calls trigger. Twenty trillion dollars starts moving in reverse.

Correlation studies show 0.55 relationship between yen carry unwinding and S&P 500 drops. Emerging market currencies fall 1-3% within thirty days. US Treasury yields jump 15-40 basis points from reduced Japanese demand.

Your 401k holds positions funded by yen loans. Your tech stocks trade at valuations assuming cheap leverage continues. Your emerging market bonds depend on foreign capital that's now leaving.

The critical test arrives November 20th. Japan auctions 40-year bonds. If bid-to-cover falls below 2.5 times, it confirms insufficient demand. Failed auctions create death spirals. Weak demand forces higher yields. Higher yields accelerate unwinding. More selling. Weaker demand.

Greece. Portugal. Italy. The playbook is known.

Except Japan is the world's third-largest economy and largest creditor nation. When Japan's markets break, the cascade doesn't stop at borders.

WHAT I'M ABOUT TO TELL YOU ISN'T IN ANY WALL STREET RESEARCH NOTE

Everyone's debating which domino falls first: Japan? Private credit? Equity concentration? Consumer collapse?

They're asking the wrong question.

I've spent 400+ hours analyzing funding market data most analysts never see.

Here's what I found:

All four risks share ONE hidden vulnerability.

Cross-currency basis dislocation + repo market stress.

When that channel spikes, they don't fall sequentially.

They fall TOGETHER. Within days. Not months.

The evidence is already flashing:

→ Treasury fails hit $30.5B last week. 8-year high.
→ Fed's RRP buffer: collapsed from $2.4T to $1.5B. Gone.
→ Japanese hedge ratios at 14-year lows. Exposed.
→ Public BDCs pricing 10-15% defaults vs 2% reported.

The mainstream sees four separate problems.

I see one detonator.

My prediction:
If JPY/USD cross-currency basis widens past -75bps for 5+ days before March 31, 2026, you'll see synchronized forced selling across Japan, private credit, AND equities within 72 hours.

Not sequential dominoes.

Simultaneous collapse.

The window is January-March 2026.

The BOJ meets January 22-23.

The Fed meets January 28-29th.

Japanese fiscal year-end is March 31st.

Nobody is watching the right indicator.

Now you are.

Let's see if this ages well.

Banks halt sales of silver bars amid soaring demand

By Jun Ji-hye

Banks are halting the sales of silver bars amid surging demand, driven by increasing global uncertainties brought by U.S. President Donald Trump's tariff threats, industry officials said Friday.

Lenders also earlier suspended the sales of gold bars, which have emerged as the most popular safe-haven asset in recent months.

Roosevelt Also Confiscated Silver in 1933

Posted Jan 17, 2025 By Martin Armstrong | 2 minutes read

ROOSEVELT NATIONALIZES ALL SILVER AT A PRICE OF 50.01 CENTS AN OUNCE; PROMISES NATION BROADER NEW DEAL

ANSWER: Sorry, you lose. He must have been at one of my conferences when we discussed that if he told you to ask me. Most people have never heard that Roosevelt also confiscated silver – not just gold. On August 9th, 1934, U.S. President Franklin D. Roosevelt implemented the seizure of all silver situated in the continental United States with Executive Order 6814 – requiring the Delivery of All Silver to the United States for Coinage. This was the same abuse of executive power as Executive Order 6102, which FDR signed on April 5th, 1933, "forbidding the Hoarding of Gold Coin, Gold Bullion, and Gold Certificates within the continental United States" with some differences.

A key difference here with the silver Executive Order 6814 excluded the seizure of all silver coins, whether foreign or domestic. At the same time, Executive Order 6102 only exempted certain types of collectible or numismatic coins from seizure because Teddy Roosevelt had been an ancient coin collector and even J.P. Morgan. Franklin was a stamp collector.

It looks like capital controls will be in place for at least 2026. Without permission, you will not be able to move gold or cash out of Europe.

Then Trump may revalue gold from its official price of $42 to market value to improve the US balance sheet. This would also impact moving gold to the USA. From a market perspective, it really does not matter what value they place on gold. We will not likely see a return to a gold standard with a fixed value, which would be highly deflationary.

Mr. Uppy @MisterUppy 23h

Everyone's staring at the spot price pretending silver's $50 an ounce.

But step into the real world. China's top bullion marketplace is now posting $128/oz for physical silver.

That's not a typo. That's four times the 2020 price and double today's "official" rate.

The global silver shortage isn't coming. It's already here.

Perth Mint has halted all silver product sales.
India's dealers have vanished or defaulted on shipments.
Amazon sellers are taking money and not delivering metal.
Even the Royal Canadian Mint and TD Bank show "out of stock" on nearly every bar.

This isn't a paper disconnect. It's a total breakdown in physical supply.

In Japan, Asahi Fine, a world-class refiner, is out of ingots.
In London, lease rates have exploded to 39 percent, panic levels not seen in decades.
Banks can't locate metal and are being forced to cover or buy back futures just to stay solvent.

It's chaos.

And through all of this, China quietly sets the new world price.
Their retail bars are fetching between $108 and $128 an ounce, and that's for the small bars retail investors can actually hold.

Sellers always move to where they're treated best.
If a refiner or trader can earn twice as much shipping to China, why would they sell into New York or London at half the rate?

The result: China's premiums become the new global standard.

Silver goes where it's valued highest, and right now the East is valuing it like gold.

Meanwhile, the West is still obsessed with "spot" prices that no longer mean anything. Futures, ETFs, and "paper silver" are detached from reality. IOUs trading in a system that can't deliver.

For those holding physical, this is the moment the market has been building toward for years, when scarcity becomes undeniable and the paper façade cracks.

What happens next?
Expect those $128 Chinese premiums to ripple outward fast.
Dealers in the US and Canada will raise quotes just to restock.
Industrial users will panic-buy to secure supply.
And small investors who mocked silver stackers will suddenly realize the shelves are empty.

This is what a global repricing looks like.

The shortage is systemic, and silver is finally being priced like the strategic, irreplaceable metal it truly is.

The age of cheap silver is over.

THE SILVER MARKET JUST BROKE

Yesterday, November 28, 2025, silver hit $56.72 per ounce while the CME was dark. A cooling system failure at CyrusOne data center shut down Comex trading for ten hours. During the blackout, physical silver found its true price: Shanghai surged to record highs. When New York reopened, silver gapped up 5.53% in a single session.

This is not a squeeze. This is arithmetic.

The world has consumed 820 million ounces more silver than it produced since 2021. That is an entire year of global mine output. Gone. The 2025 deficit alone: 95 million ounces. Fifth consecutive year.

Here is the structural trap: 70% of silver production is byproduct from copper, lead, and zinc mining. A copper miner will not expand production because silver prices doubled. The supply response function is broken. Mine supply peaked in 2016 at 900 million ounces. It has not recovered.

Three weeks ago, the United States government designated silver a critical mineral for the first time in history. The same classification that triggered strategic stockpiling for rare earths. The US imports 64% of its silver consumption. Mexico supplies a quarter of global output. Section 232 tariff authority is now activated.

Since October, 75 million ounces have poured into CME vaults. This metal is not leaving. It is being hoarded against tariff risk. London remains tight. Shanghai inventories sit at decade lows.

Silver gained 95% this year. Gold gained 58%. The gold-silver ratio sits at 75. The historical mean is 60. At that ratio, silver prices $70. The 1980 high, inflation-adjusted, exceeds $190.

The era of cheap silver ended mathematically. What you witnessed yesterday was price discovery without paper supply. The physical market has spoken.

Position accordingly.

🚨🚨Wikileaks Releases 1974 State Dept Cable Confirming Gold Futures Market Was Created for Price Suppression & to Negate Demand for Physical Gold "Hoarding" 🔥🔥

TO THE DEALERS' EXPECTATIONS, WILL BE THE FORMATION OF A SIZABLE GOLD FUTURES MARKET. EACH OF THE DEALERS EXPRESSED THE BELIEF THAT THE FUTURES MARKET WOULD BE OF SIGNIFICANT PROPORTION & PHYSICAL TRADING WOULD BE MINISCULE BY COMPARISON.
ALSO EXPRESSED WAS THE EXPECTATION THAT LARGE VOLUME FUTURES DEALING WOULD CREATE A HIGHLY VOLATILE MARKET.

IN TURN, THE VOLATILE PRICE MOVEMENTS WOULD DIMINISH THE INITIAL DEMAND FOR PHYSICAL HOLDING & MOST LIKELY NEGATE LONG-TERM HOARDING BY U.S. CITIZENS...

SOME FEAR, HOWEVER, THAT SHOULD A SINGLE BID FOR THE ENTIRE 2 MILLION OUNCES BE FORTHCOMING, PRICES MIGHT INCREASE RAPIDLY, POSSIBLY AS HIGH AS $250 AN OUNCE.

Yet another whacky "conspiracy theory" has now been confirmed.

We wonder why the US Treasury would want to suppress #gold prices...

The COMEX silver “fix” wasn’t clever trading — it was fraud dressed up as procedure.

- JPM pulled 13.4 million oz out of the deliverable pile the day before delivery started
- Then paid longs $65 million in secret cash to go away instead of taking metal
- That’s like a warehouse burning the goods and handing you cash while saying “problem solved”

Four banks control 60%+ of the short side and just rewrote the rules for themselves off-exchange.
If spoofing a few contracts is a felony, engineering a $65M hidden default while draining deliverable supply should be a slam-dunk manipulation case.

This isn’t “within the rules.”
The rules were captured long ago.

What happened Thanksgiving week 2025 was straight-up theft by spreadsheet.
It deserves indictments, not shrugs.

#SilverSqueeze #COMEX

The 7,330-contract silver crisis confirmed that the COMEX was faced with an imminent, systemic default, forcing an unprecedented intervention. The data strongly suggests that major participants engaged in an hours-long, private negotiation on Thanksgiving Day, resulting in an untraceable $65 M cash settlement—a premium of $1.775/oz—paid by the Shorts to the Longs.

This secretive, non-delivery resolution successfully liquidated 6,816 contracts, with the cost borne primarily by the Short collective (JPM customers, Wells Fargo House, and Citigroup House) and the payment directed to the Long collective (JPM customers and Deutsche Bank House). The zero EFP volume on the final reports stands as the ultimate "dog that didn't bark" proof that the deal was entirely Off-the-Books and subject to strict non-disclosure.

The move was a successful forced cash settlement, but it only delayed the inevitable. The underlying problem of the physical drain continues (evidenced by the 13.4 M oz move from Registered). As the drain persists, the odds of a force majeure are growing daily, suggesting the upcoming March delivery wave now looks massive and potentially unresolvable by private settlement alone.

⚡DID INDIA BEGIN ACCUMULATING SILVER FOR CENTRAL BANK RESERVES IN JULY 2024???⚡

🔥Since July 2024, #silver prices have begun correlating nearly PERFECTLY with INR/CNY.🔥

The Indian Rupee has been going parabolic (strengthening) against the Chinese Yuan- nearly perfectly matching silver's vertical spike.

This comes as India has been importing MASSIVE amounts of physical silver.

🚨Has India begun accumulating physical silver as part of its central bank reserves???🚨

This would be an ABSOLUTE GAME CHANGER for the silver market!!

⚡JPM's Move Coincided With the USMint Announcing a Shortage of #Silver coins

The shocking Economic Times report explains why silver has FINALLY been UNLEASHED after DECADES of suppression!
We have always known that JPM would flip long when the END GAME finally arrived for silver manipulation.

It looks like that time is NOW.
Buckle up boys and girls...

"Is JPMorgan hoarding silver? Here's what it means as reports claim the bank has been stockpiling the precious metal

JP Morgan is going long on silver and making history. The bank now holds over 750 million ounces of physical silver, the largest stockpile in the world. In just six weeks, it added 21 million ounces. That's a staggering move in a market already under pressure.

Between June and October, JP Morgan reportedly sold off its entire 200-million-ounce paper short position.
This freed cash to acquire physical silver, leaving the bank long in both physical and paper silver for the first time ever. Experts say this is a rare and powerful market position.

The move coincided with the U.S. Mint announcing a shortage of silver coins. Physical supply is tightening while demand is rising. JP Morgan is holding real silver, not paper contracts. This is a key difference from the Hunt brothers' attempt to corner silver in 1980. Back then, reliance on paper contracts led to intervention and collapse. JP Morgan's approach reduces risk of regulatory disruption."

The acquisition of 750 million ounces of physical silver, the largest stockpile in history and equivalent to nearly a year's global mine production, catapults JP Morgan into a position of unprecedented market dominance, capable of engineering a supply squeeze that could propel prices to levels unseen since the 1980 Hunt Brothers saga—adjusted for inflation, potentially over $600 per ounce.

In essence, this maneuver doesn't just signal a bull market; it weaponizes physical scarcity to redefine silver as a cornerstone of monetary resilience...

Synopsis
JP Morgan is making a historic silver bet. The bank now holds over 750 million ounces of physical silver, adding 21 million ounces in six weeks. It exited 200-million-ounce paper shorts, leaving zero short contracts for the first time. Physical supply is tightening as the U.S. Mint reports coin shortages. COMEX open interest is 244% of registered silver, lease rates near 30%, and 169 million ounces moved to non-deliverable vaults.

🚨🔥Has the END GAME Actually Arrived for #Silver???🔥

🔥For the first time ever, the 5 major US bullion banks have flipped NET LONG silver COMEX futures contracts!🔥

From around 20,000 contracts net short, the US bullion banks have reduced their total silver short contracts to 17,838, vs 18,611 silver long contracts, a NET 773 contracts LONG! ⚡

🚨Have the major 5 US bullion banks ALSO closed out their $TRILLIONS in silver short positions in the derivatives market because they know the final END GAME has arrived, and they are positioning themselves for the coming US dollar collapse? 🚨

🚨OR have the US bullion banks closed out their short COMEX futures silver book simply to protect what is left of their physical silver inventory in COMEX vaults as COMEX longs continue to stand for delivery (December has already seen the highest amount of silver longs stand for delivery in the month of December EVER!)? 🚨

"The 1-year silver swap minus the US interest rate is now almost –7%! That distortion is the key reason the silver rally is not over. That spread should be positive, since silver needed in one year comes with storage, insurance, and financing costs.

Extra explanation.
The silver swap rate is a crucial part of the global precious-metals trade. It exists because major players such as banks, producers, industrial users, and investors constantly exchange silver for dollars without physically moving metal from vault to vault.

This mechanism keeps the London physical market tightly connected to the New York financial market. But that system is now under strain.

Physical silver today is almost 7% more expensive than silver for delivery one year from now.

Swaps were designed to avoid shipping metal around the world, yet today silver is being moved because buyers are demanding delivery.

Holding physical silver isn't easy or cheap. A $1 million position weighs several hundred kilograms, spread across dozens of heavy bars that require vault space, insurance, and security.

Still, manufacturers such as solar-panel producers increasingly prefer physical silver today rather than paper exposure with delivery a year from now.

The key question they are asking is simple: what if silver cannot be delivered next year?

That question is now being priced in.
As long as the 1-year silver swap minus US rates remains below the red line, silver's upside pressure continues.
No one knows where supply and demand will reconnect."

Karel Mercx @KarelMercx 12h

Silver $71!

The 1-year silver swap minus the US interest rate is now –7.18%.

That distortion explains why the silver rally is not over.

Only at the red line do supply and demand normalize.

Below is how the silver swap works.

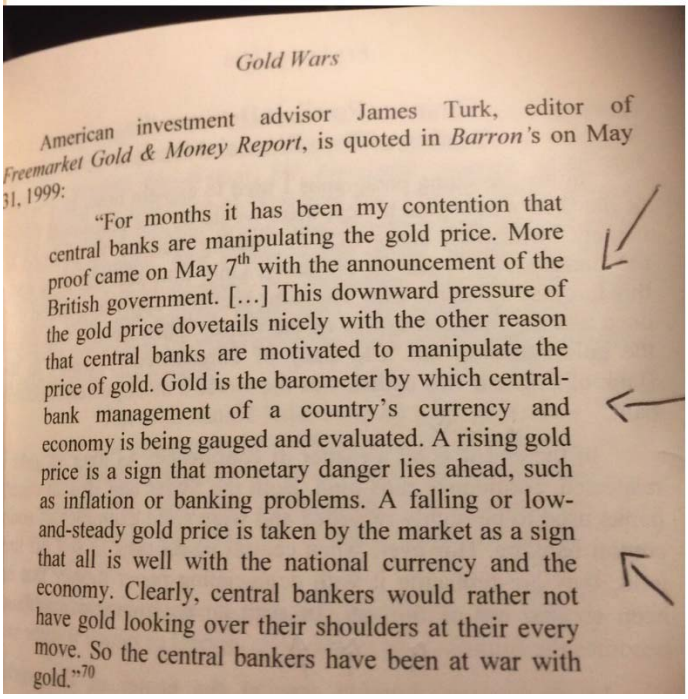
Why the banks started shorting gold (and silver) in the first place: James Turk explains it well on 31 May, 1999



Gold Wars

American investment advisor James Turk, editor of Freemarket Gold & Money Report, is quoted in Barron's on May 31, 1999:

"For months it has been my contention that central banks are manipulating the gold price. More proof came on May 7th with the announcement of the British government. […] This downward pressure of the gold price dovetails nicely with the other reason that central banks are motivated to manipulate the price of gold. Gold is the barometer by which central-bank management of a country's currency and economy is being gauged and evaluated. A rising gold price is a sign that monetary danger lies ahead, such as inflation or banking problems. A falling or low-and-steady gold price is taken by the market as a sign that all is well with the national currency and the economy. Clearly, central bankers would rather not have gold looking over their shoulders at their every move. So the central bankers have been at war with gold."[70]

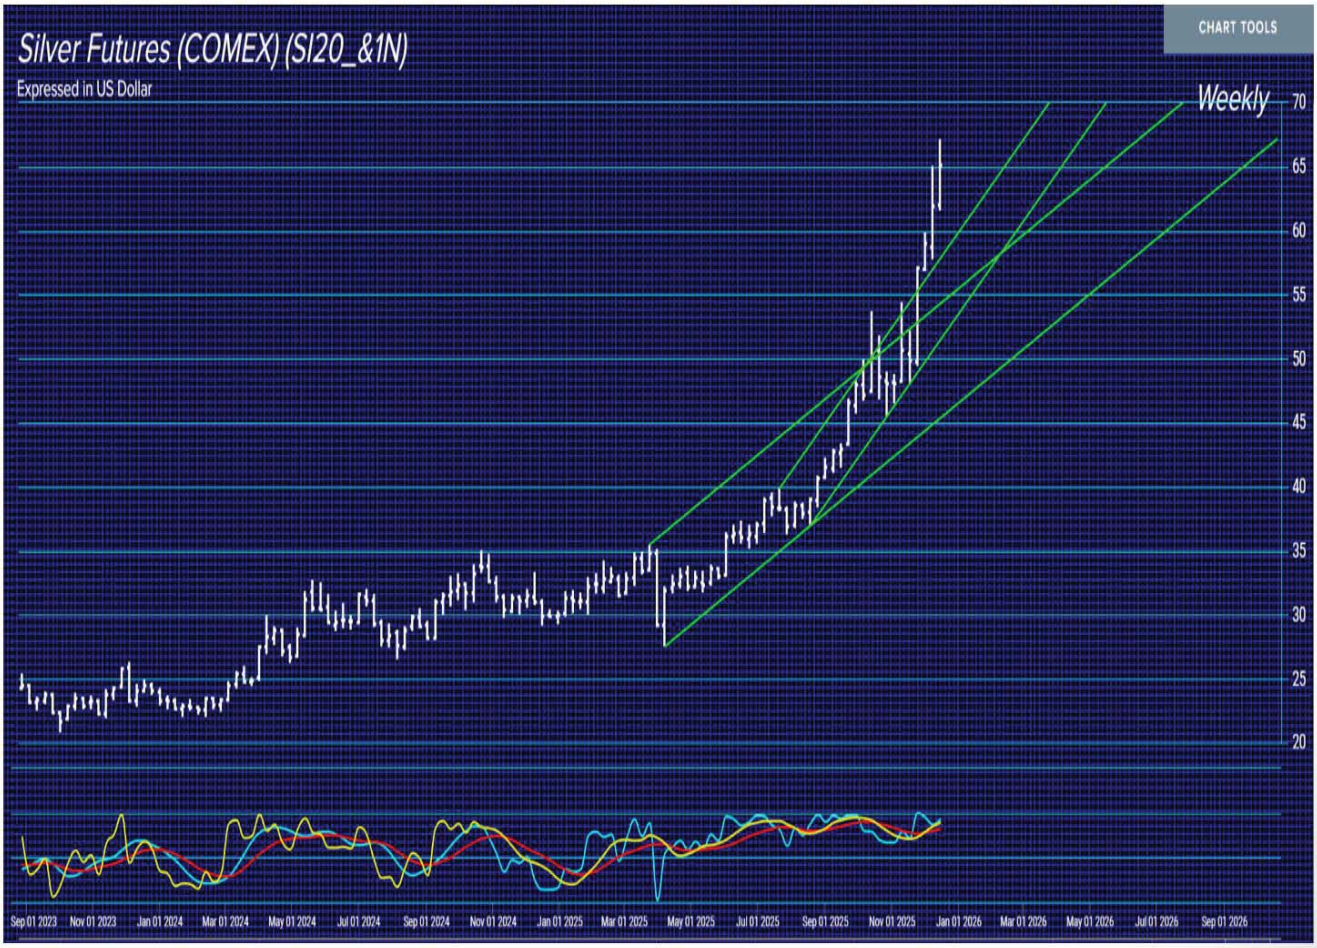
Silver Entering the Third Paradigm Shift

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 19, 2025 BY: MARTIN ARMSTRONG



Silver is not merely a metal; it is the schizophrenic child of the monetary system, torn between its ancient role as money and its modern fate as an industrial commodity. It trades not on a single narrative, but on the violent intersection of multiple cycles: the long-wave debt cycle, the technological adoption curve, and the inherent volatility of a market smaller than a mid-cap equity. Our models indicate we are approaching a nodal point—a convergence of cyclical pressure that will resolve silver's identity crisis with explosive volatility. This is not an investment for the faint of heart. It is a leveraged bet on monetary disintegration, technological transformation, and raw human fear.

THE HISTORICAL IMPERATIVE: MONEY VS. METAL

Most do not realize two crucial historical facts. (1) Silver was money before gold, (2) silver has also been the subject of confiscation and even specifically taxed. History is not linear; it is a spiral. Silver's primary cycle is one of identity. For millennia, it was money. The Athenian Owl, the Roman Denarius, the Spanish Peso—the backbone of trade was silver. The 1873 Crime of '73, when the U.S. demonetized silver, was a seismic shift, exiling it from the monetary temple. Yet, its ghost haunts the system. When confidence in the current debt instruments evaporates, the populace does not rush to buy T-bills; it instinctively reaches for gold and silver. This is encoded in societal memory. This debt crisis has emerged because Marxist LEFTIST politicians today do not know how to run a government, for all they do is promise free gifts to bribe the people for votes to retain power, with no regard for what happens when you lose the CONFIDENCE of the people in their debt.

Our ECM work highlights that periods of sovereign debt crisis and currency war (such as 1893, the 1930s, the 1970s) see silver not just rise but dramatically outperform gold in percentage terms. Why? Its lower unit price makes it the "poor man's gold," the accessible monetary metal for the masses during a panic. We are now in a debt super-cycle downturn of historic proportions. Every major government is insolvent on an accrual basis. This is not opinion; it is accounting. The flight to tangible assets is not a question of "if," but of timing and trigger.

GEOPOLITICAL & SYSTEMIC CATALYSTS

The East-West divide accelerates this. Russia, China, Iran, and their spheres are actively de-dollarizing, thanks to Antony Blinken's removal of Russia from SWIFT, which set in motion the creation of BRICS. He transformed the dollar into a geopolitical weapon for his NEOCON endless war objectives. This has aided the accumulation of gold and silver. China's Shanghai Gold Exchange and its nascent silver pricing mechanism are not merely exchanges; they are strategic tools to carve out a non-Western price discovery paradigm. A geopolitical crisis that further fractures the global monetary system will see capital flee into both metals, but silver's float will evaporate faster.

Furthermore, the reckless expansion of central bank balance sheets under failed Keynesian Economics has created an ocean of liquidity. This liquidity is like nitroglycerin—stable until shaken. When the herd perception shifts from "inflation is transitory" to "currency debasement is permanent," that liquidity will flood into the smallest, most responsive markets. Silver is that market.

FORECAST & RISKS

The ECM and commodity cycle analysis point to a period of extreme volatility and parabolic upward pressure on silver, which began with the ECM TURNING POINT in 2024. What we must understand is that we are headed into 2028, which will be the 72-year cycle from the 1956 Suez Canal Crisis, which set in motion the rising demand for silver. The Suez Crisis was the key event of 1956 that directly impacted silver prices and market psychology. It triggered a classic "flight to safety" into precious metals amid geopolitical and economic uncertainty. This event occurred within a longer-term bull market for silver driven by dwindling government stockpiles and rising industrial consumption, which culminated in the silver market crises and demonetization moves of the 1960s. The next 8.6-year cycle from there led to the silver turmoil when it was removed from the coinage in 1965.

Silver is the ultimate contrarian bet on system failure and technological necessity. It is not a metal at peace. It is a metal waiting for its moment of synthesis, when its bipolar identities—monetary and industrial—are forced to reunite by market trauma. The cycles are aligning. The data is clear. The only uncertainty is the precise catalyst and the magnitude of the market's recognition of this fundamental dislocation.

The Kobeissi Letter @KobeissiLetter 23h

Shocking stat of the day:

Buyers are now paying a 7% premium to buy silver today rather than wait a year for delivery.

This signals an extreme shortage of physical metal in the London silver market.

Under normal conditions, the spread remains positive due to the costs of storing, insuring, and financing silver inventories over time.

The spread has widened sharply as buyers have moved away from paper contracts and demanded immediate delivery.

Tight inventories are pushing banks and large buyers to secure physical silver now to avoid the risk of not being able to get the metal later.

A run for silver on the London market is intensifying.

This is the extented version of my series on the analysis of the US federal budget situation. It took a lot of time to calculate and compile, so please share your thoughts on the matter.

>in 2023, the interest payment on the national debt reached $1 Trillion >it's most likely to grow, since currently the US gov. pays an interest of 2,9% on its debt ($1T of $34T), and currently issued 10YR bonds are priced at around 4% >the interest payed has been growing at a rate of 20,59% a year from 2020 to 2024 (6,5% a year from 2003 to 2024)
>The federal revenue is stable accross the years at around $4,19T in 2015, to $4,44T in 2023 >the budget deficit in 2023 was $1,7T
>... and it will most likely increase, since the expenditures remain the same, but revenue might be smaller, due to slower economic activity and price inflation >or worse, the expenditures might rise, given the promises made currently by both Trump and Harris

So why now should the US economy implode now? What's changed?
Many might say that the US "is the strongest economy in the world" and "has been running massive deficits over the decades" and nothing happened (besides dot.com and housing bubbles of course).
The difference is that the government and the FED always had a way out of a potentially bad situation. From the 70s to the 90s, the interest rate was relatively high, but the debt was low, so it wasn't a problem. After the housing bubble, the FED slashed the rates to almost 0, so the debt kept rising rapidly, but the cost to maintain it was minimal.

Now, we're at a point where all ammunition has been used, and there's no tricks in anyone's sleeves to mitigate the situation. The debt is at $35T, and FED has kept the rates at 5% for almost a year. The official CPI has been at around 3% for a year (so the actual one is probably twice as high), while the goal is 2%.

What does it mean?
The FED can't contain price inflation. They have to keep rising the rates even further to keep it under control, no matter how much they fudge the numbers. But if they do that, the cost of servicing the debt will be rising even faster.

If we assume a positive scenario in which the budget deficits remain at $1,7T, and the interest payment keeps growing by "only" 6,5% a year, we end up in a scenario where in 2030 the US would be paying 2,1 Trillion USD just to service the debt – nearly HALF of its TOTAL tax receipts.

And given how big the budget deficits will be, it's very likely that the FED will have to start buying government bonds to surpress that interest payment cost – needless to say, with freshly printed dollars (quantitative easing once again). When that happens, price inflation will go through the roof. Additionally, with the loss of faith in the US dollar, investors will demand even higher interest rates on the federal debt, creating a inflation spirale.

>> Anonymous (ID: GBXIf5Rh) 09/08/24(Sun)22:19:25 No.481018588 ▶ >>481019295

File: 2023_US_Federal_Budget_In(...).jpg (401 KB, 1789x1773)

>>481018541 (You)
If you think it's bad – it's even worse: the federal government is not the only entity loaded with debt – there's also the states and corporations. If the interest rates rise, the cost of servicing the debt will increase for them as well. For the companies, it's higher costs, which will be pushed onto their customers, in a form of... higher prices of goods and services.

This is completely unsustainable. The only way to stop this is a MASSIVE spending cut, and a total deregulation, to boost economic activity - at the same time.
But given that there's no signs of the government wanting to stop paying Lockheed Martin $100 million per ONE aircraft, and that absolutely noone wants to touch Medicare or Medicaid, there's only 2 ways it can end:

>default
Close to impossible - it would require the govnt. and the FED to basically admit defeat.
>hyperinflation
An almost certain scenario - the US will kick the can down the road as far and hard it can, by printing more and more dollars just to keep the ship afloat. But the holes are already there, and they're getting larger every year.

According to my calculation from paragraph 5, my rough estimate is that the US economy has a 10 year expiration date. And it will be a mayhem for us all – it will crash the global financial system, not only the States.

The Great Prosperity: 1947–79

Pay Rose With Productivity ...

Wages and overall compensation, for production and non-supervisory workers (now about 82 percent of the private sector work force), tracked steadily upward alongside gains in productivity.

The rising value of goods and services per worker meant rising pay. But that relationship ended in the 1970s.

JUST IN: Michael Burry has said that Oracle, $ORCL, and Meta, $META, could be overstate earnings by 26.9% and 20.8%.

He adds: "It gets worse."

@michaeljburry

Understating depreciation by extending useful life of assets artificially boosts earnings -one of the more common frauds of the modern era.

Massively ramping capex through purchase of Nvidia chips/servers on a 2-3 yr product cycle should not result in the extension of useful lives of compute equipment.

Yet this is exactly what all the hyperscalers have done. By my estimates they will understate depreciation by $176 billion 2026-2028.

By 2028, ORCL will overstate earnings 26.9%, META by 20.8%, etc. But it gets worse. More detail coming November 25th. Stay tuned.

This is a very interesting chart, as household stock wealth being higher than real estate wealth has only happened in the late 60s and late 90s, the last two times the ensuing bear market lasted years.

Not even the 1930s saw such a big concentration.

Trump is trying to crash the stock market at least 20%, causing a flight into treasuries, this will cause the fed to slash interest rates so he can refinance the debt to near 0% and cause a deflationary spiral which will lower the cost of everything.

He also intends to use tariffs as an incentive for companies to build in the US to avoid having to pay them. The Tariffs and the resulting global trade war will also force American Farmers to sell more of their goods in the US (due to retaliatory trade measures by other countries) which will directly lower the price of groceries in the US.

More than 94% of all stock is owned by just 8% of the US population. Trump is literally taking money from the rich and giving it to the poor.

This is why Trump is playing a game of Hokey Pokey with Tariffs. One day he has 25% Tariffs on Mexico and the next he doesn't. This is to cause extreme volatility in the markets and a desperate need and demand to flee towards treasury bonds which are much more stable but offer much lower potential return.

This is also why eggs are cheaper now than they were under Joe Biden.

Of course not. If you understand how the currency we use works you dont want tp hold any debt.

>Anon applies for mortgage
>Bank grants it and creates 90% of it from the thin air(fractional reserve banking, the reserve was just lowered to 0% because of crisis so banks cant now grant mortgages 100% out of thin air)
>Anon pays some of the debt
>Markets crash, anon loses job
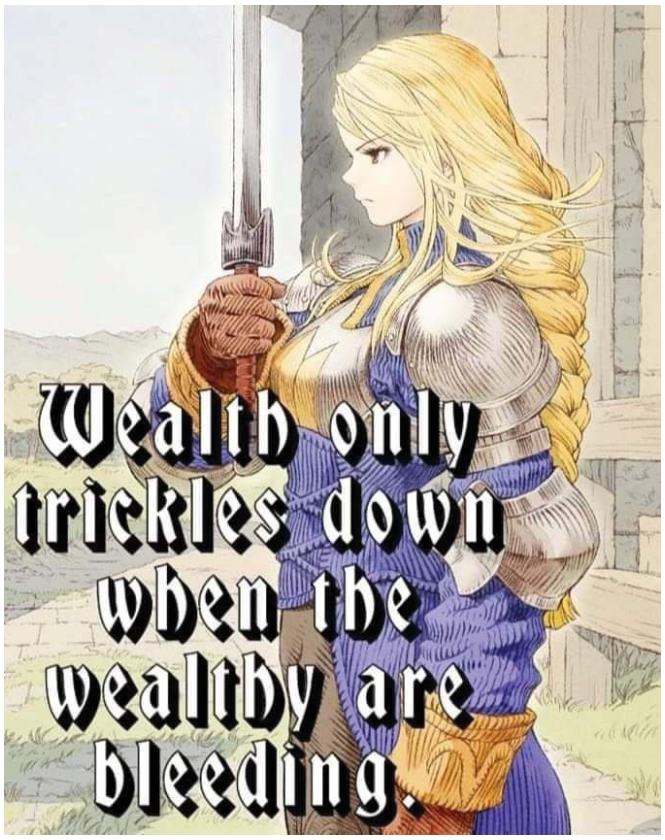
>House markets crash also >Anons house is now worth half in $ what it used to be >Bank expropriate the house at less than anon has debt left
>Anon loses home he already paid for years
>Bank gets the house for free, since they created the collateral for anons loan from thin air

This is how goyim ks robbed. The banks take everything from regular hard working people with a system that is designed to crash.

Bonus
>Anon lost his home, is bankrupt and still owes bank
>Bank had zero risk since only 10% of their own money went to anons loan and they got 100% of the house.

Dont fall for this kikery. And protect your wealth by owning assets outsaid of modern finance such as land and precious metals



Cash and Crises:

No surprises by the virus*

Gerhard Rösl# & Franz Seitz+*

Abstract:
Despite the increasing use of cashless payment instruments, the notion that cash loses importance over time can be unambiguously refuted. In contrast, we show that cash demand increased steeply over the past 30 years. This is not only true on a global scale, but also for the most important currencies in advanced countries (USD, EUR, CHF, GBP and JPY). In this paper, we focus especially on the role of different crises (technological crises, financial market crises, natural disasters) and analyse the demand for small and large banknote denominations since the 1990s in an international perspective. It is evident that cash demand always increases in times of crises, independent of the nature of the crisis itself. However, largely unaffected from crises we observe a trend increase in global cash aligned with a shift from transaction balances towards more hoarding, especially in the form of large denomination banknotes.

Within the last week, among the top 200 insider trades by value, not one was a buy. Zero. The last time the world witnessed anything like this was just before the 1929 Great Depression.

Insiders are dumping shares at full speed because they know the storm that's coming. This isn't business as usual, it's the canary in the coal mine. Ignore it, and you risk going down with the crash.

The Great Inversion is finally upon us. Get out while you still can. When the wealthiest top 0.00001% quietly unload their bags onto the 99.99% of retail sheep, it's not a market, it's a transfer. And it always marks the top.

Over the last week, 198 of the top 200 insider trades were sells. In two weeks, it was 398 of 400! The last time insider dumping hit this scale was the late 1920s, right before the Great Depression.

Unemployment is rising worldwide. Inflation is creeping back. The pressure is building exactly as it did a century ago. The worst damage will fall on stocks and crypto, both will easily to 80-90%+ of their value.

The apex of globohomo's power is the central banks. By endlessly printing fiat they allow corporations to borrow infinite amounts of cash to prop up their stock prices while pumping out unprofitable globohomo propaganda. By endlessly printing fiat they can afford to support hordes of immigrants with welfare. By endlessly printing fiat they can fight wars around the world to spread globohomo dominion. As long as fiat has value their printing press remains the source of goobohomo's power. Fiat has value because of the public's confidence. Part of this confidence is derived from the fact that the banks suppress the value of gold and silver. If demand for these metals were to overwhelm the system and the true price were to shine through then the public would start to question the value of their cash. Kikes don't want us to buy precious metals.

jews turned everything into a speculative commodity, including currency, and so you have these giant institutional investors who are also insane gambling addicts trading every aspect of society as a financial instrument and saying the price of each thing is what people (other gambling addicts) are willing to pay for it. the US government is almost $40 trillion in debt from bailing out this scam. ESG investing, the thing that said "stop hiring white people or we will tank your stock", was put into place by larry fink of blackrock because the US gave him trillions of dollars to buy bonds which are what the government sells to finance their debt. so in the simplest possible terms our economy is the government giving money to jews who are then using some of the money to trick the market into thinking our debt (bonds) is valuable and then the jews take the rest of the money and buy and sell shit from each other ranging from mortgages to company's stock to orange juice to beef and they buy that shit on markets where they never even touch the stuff they just fuck with it to make money and that's our GDP. so basically the whole AI bubble is a bunch of gambling addicts who think making everyone unemployed and replaced by computers is the future of corporate profit and so they are spending trillions of dollars on data centers and computer hardware and investing in AI companies that promise shit they can't deliver but even if they could they would have NO CUSTOMERS BECAUSE EVERYONE WILL BE UNEMPLOYED AND WITHOUT JOBS PEOPLE DON'T HAVE MONEY TO SPEND THIS IS THE DUMBEST FUCKING TIMELINE HOLY SHIT. they think the entire economic future is the government printing money and giving it to them. that's it. oh and they came up with modern monetary theory which is a field of economics that says "the government can have as much debt as it wants and it doesn't matter because it can print more money" that's the economic theory we are actually using right now im not kidding.

CRYPTO NEWS
BREAKING NEWS
OVER 2,000+ CRYPTO TRADERS ENDED THEIR LIVES YESTERDAY AFTER MARKET CRASH

Donald Trump needs to go to jail. He is thief, he is literally robbing people internationally.

He announced 100% Tarrifs on China and sends the US stock market into a death spiral.

At the same time someone put over 1 Billion dollars into crypto with orders for 100 million being placed on Ethereum and Bitcoin and other crypto currencies across the board whilst markets got wiped after what he said. Billions, and I mean fucking billions got wiped out, whilst Bitcoin had it a biggest dip ever in a single candle losing 20k per Bitcoin, Whilst alt coins lost over 60-70% of value, everyone with leverage on the market with even 2 x leverage got murdered and robbed.

This was co ordinated, this was market manipulation with one anonymous wallet making over 200 million dollars in one day with trades showing that they knew Trump was going to announce this and crash the market.

And why can you tell that? because they transferred 1 billion fucking dollars into stable coins (a crypto currency that mimics the value of the physical dollar) before it happened waiting for the market to crash to profit off the devastation that Trump was about to cause.

He isn't just crashing markets, he is doing it to profit.

If you don't understand still about how much this idiot just cost people in international markets and to give you an idea about how much money was lost let's look at just 2 companies, just on Amazon...their stock crashed 4.4%..... that was $104.28 BILLION DOLLARS.... NVidea 3.94%.....$169.4 BILLION DOLLARS..... Just 2 companies.

This is not okay, it is really not okay. Again... this fucking con artist needs to go to jail. Someone needs to deal with this fucking guy. Absolute scumbag.

You are what 'they' refer to as the 'useful idiots'.
Cryptocurrency is the biggest psyop in human history.
They knew that people would eventually fear inflation and abandon fiat money, so they created an 'alternative' that would help absorb the capital flight, but do nothing to harm the system.
That something is crypto.
Remember their moto - you'll own NOTHING and you will be happy.
Every immaterial fiat dollar you exchange for immaterial crypto is wasted ammunition you could have used to fight the banking cartel.
They dont want you to own Gold, Silver, Oil, Farmland etc... they want you to own nothing (crypto, NFT's) and live in the metaverse.
You are literally further engulfing yourself in the matrix.
Unplug yourself and become a commodities chad.

THE $200 MILLION LIE: What Really Happened November 21st

Bitcoin didn't crash because people sold. Bitcoin crashed because the math broke.

On November 21, 2025, $200 million in actual selling triggered $2 billion in forced liquidations. Read that again. For every real dollar that left, ten borrowed dollars evaporated instantly.

This is the ratio that Wall Street doesn't want you to see: 90% of Bitcoin's market is leverage built on top of 10% real money. Your $1.6 trillion cryptocurrency runs on $160 billion of actual capital. The rest is a mirage that disappears when prices move.

A man named Owen Gunden bought Bitcoin in 2011 for under $10. He held through every crash for 14 years. His stack grew to $1.3 billion. On November 20th, he sold everything. Not because he panicked. Because he understood what changed.

The crash started in Tokyo, not crypto markets. Japan announced economic stimulus and their bond market collapsed instead of rallying. Translation: global investors no longer trust Japanese government debt. That debt funds $20 trillion in borrowed money worldwide. When it unwinds, everything crashes together.

Bitcoin fell 10.9%. The S&P 500 fell 1.6%. Nasdaq fell 2.2%. Same day. Same hour. Same cause.

For 15 years Bitcoin was supposed to be the alternative to traditional finance. November 21st proved Bitcoin IS traditional finance now. It crashes when Japanese bonds crash. It rallies when the Federal Reserve provides liquidity. The decentralization was an illusion that survived only until the asset got large enough to matter.

Here's what happens next and you can verify this yourself over the next 18 months:

Bitcoin's wild price swings will die. Not because adoption failed. Because mathematics demands it. Each crash permanently destroys the borrowed money infrastructure. Each recovery brings government buyers who never sell. The squeeze tightens until volatility becomes so low that trading Bitcoin for profit becomes impossible.

El Salvador bought $100 million during the crash. Not because they're believers. Because game theory forces them. When other countries build Bitcoin reserves, you either build reserves too or accept being permanently behind. Governments don't trade. They accumulate forever.

The average Bitcoin holder doesn't understand what they own anymore. You don't own a revolution. You own an asset that requires central bank life support during crashes. The Federal Reserve doesn't save things that don't matter to the system.

Bitcoin won. That's why it lost.

The victory was so complete that it became indistinguishable from surrender. By proving itself legitimate enough for trillion dollar markets, Bitcoin proved itself too important to remain free.

November 21st was the day the math became visible. Ten borrowed dollars for every real dollar. That ratio cannot hold. It will not hold. And when it breaks completely, what emerges won't be the currency Satoshi designed.

It will be exactly what Bitcoin was meant to replace: a reserve asset controlled by the same institutions that control everything else.

The revolution ended. Most people haven't noticed yet.

But the numbers don't lie. And you can't borrow your way out of mathematics.

EVERYONE THOUGHT THE GENIUS ACT WAS ABOUT CRYPTO REGULATION. THE DATA JUST PROVED IT WAS SOMETHING ELSE ENTIRELY.

Four months ago, Trump signed a law that made headlines for 48 hours. Tech regulation. Stablecoin rules. The market moved on.

But the numbers that just came out tell a completely different story.

The GENIUS Act buried one sentence in 47 pages: every stablecoin dollar must be backed 100% by U.S. Treasury bills. Nothing else qualifies. Not cash in banks. Not corporate bonds. Only government debt.

Stablecoin market cap when the law passed in July: $200 billion.

Stablecoin market cap today: $309 billion.

That's $109 billion in new legally mandated purchases of U.S. government debt in 4 months.

Treasury Secretary Bessent's official projection: $3 trillion by 2030.

Here's what that actually means. The government doesn't need to find buyers for its debt anymore. The law creates the buyers automatically. Every time someone anywhere in the world buys a digital dollar, a stablecoin company is legally required to buy a Treasury bill with that money.

The Bank for International Settlements measured the effect. Every $3.5 billion in stablecoin growth lowers what the government pays to borrow money by 0.025%. At $3 trillion, that saves $114 billion per year. That's $900 per U.S. household in lower debt costs.

Bessent confirmed it last week. He said because of stablecoin growth, Treasury doesn't need to increase the size of bond auctions. The government found a way to fund spending without traditional buyers.

The institution that proves it's real: JPMorgan. After 10 years of calling crypto fraud, they announced last month they now accept Bitcoin as collateral. The largest bank in America doesn't reverse a decade of policy because of trends. They reverse because the power structure changed.

What changed: the law moved regulatory control from the Federal Reserve to the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency. That office reports directly to the Treasury Secretary.

The Treasury now controls who can create digital dollars. And the law requires those digital dollars to fund government debt.

This is not monetary policy. This is legislative engineering of debt demand.

And it's been operational since July.

THE WORLD'S LARGEST FINANCIAL SECRET JUST DIED

For thirty years, Japan exported the cheapest money in human history.

Near-zero rates. Infinite liquidity. Trillions borrowed in yen, deployed into every asset class on Earth.

This week, that era ended.

Japanese 10-year yields hit 1.86%. Highest since 2008.

The Bank of Japan signals December rate hike. Probability: 76%.

And Bitcoin, the so-called "digital gold," collapsed in perfect lockstep with the yen.

Not because of crypto.

Because the $20 trillion carry trade that secretly funded global markets for three decades is now reversing.

THE NUMBERS

$4.5 trillion in Japanese foreign portfolio investments.
$1.1 trillion in US Treasuries held by Japan alone.
$646 million in crypto liquidations within hours.
Bitcoin: $97,000 to $86,000 in days.

THE TRUTH NO ONE WILL SAY

Bitcoin is not a hedge against monetary chaos.

It is a leveraged bet on infinite Japanese liquidity.

When the world's largest creditor nation repatriates capital, the most speculative assets die first.

August 2024 was the warning. One BOJ hike erased $500 billion in global market value.

December 2025 could be the main event.

WHAT COMES NEXT

If BOJ continues normalizing, expect:

Forced liquidations across risk assets.
Treasury market stress as Japan sells.
Dollar volatility as carry trades unwind.
Crypto serving as the canary, not the shelter.

THE PARADIGM SHIFT

We are witnessing the end of the greatest hidden subsidy in financial history.

Thirty years of suppressed Japanese rates inflated every bubble you have ever known.

That architecture is now collapsing.

Bitcoin moving with the yen is not a glitch.

It is the revelation.

> Holger Zschaepitz @Schuldensuehner 4h
> Looks like investors are starting to rethink Japan-funded carry trades: #Bitcoin is now moving almost in lockstep with the yen.

The Great Martis @great_martis

The reality .

Bitcoiners scream “fiat is trash” from the rooftops
Yet every single one of them needs fiat to buy their precious magic algorithm.

They pray daily for “number go up”
Not for freedom, not for revolution
Just so they can cash out for more fiat than they put in 😎

They seethe at anyone selling (“downrampers ruining my gains!”)
Because every day their fiat stack loses value while they HODL

Moral of the story:

It’s never been about replacing fiat.
It’s about getting richer in fiat than the next guy.

When a Muslim family moved in next door to me for 15 years:
- 3 kids (one severely brain damaged)
- elderly parents shipped over (spoke no English)
- the wife spoke as much English after 15 years as when she moved in (i.e. no English)
- the husband never worked in 15 years

At one point the wife was jabbering away to me in her language. I had no idea what she wanted. Then her other kids told me: "she says dad does no work around the house and she wants you to do some repairs".

Absolute parasites. They had a car (I didn't). They had a TV screen 3x the size of my TV.

Police say they can't enforce Swedish law in these areas, which makes them essentially lawless.

Vanessa Preger-McGillivray, 24, was working as a waitress in Vienna when she crossed paths with islamic terrorist Kujtim Fejzulai.

Fejzulai had already been convicted for supporting ISIS but was released early. He then got caught in Slovakia trying to illegally buy ammunition, something the Austrian authorities were aware of but chose to ignore. Warnings by Turkish authorities were also ignored.

On the 2nd of November 2020, exactly five years ago, Fejzulai went on a killing spree in central Vienna, killing four and injuring 23 others. Videos of the attack were quickly scrubbed from the internet.

Fejzulai was, contrary to what media proclaimed, NOT a 'lone wolf'. He was helped by at least four accomplices who were eventually convicted. Heydayatollah, Z., the terrorist' roommate in their luxurious taxpayer funded social housing apartment, had seen Fejzulai collect the weapons and ammunition for the attack and supported him instead of warning police.

There are literally millions of ticking time bombs like Fejzulai and Heydayatollah in Europe. Unless we remigrate them all, we will have failed our children.

Share this story so that it is not forgotten. We must make sure that Vanessa and the other victims did not die for nothing.

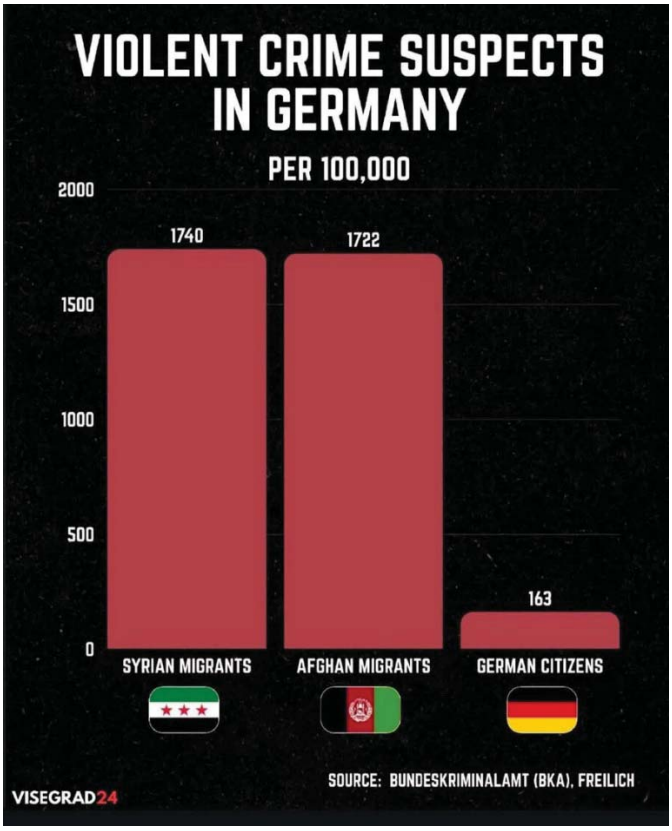
You probably learned Roman history from a Marxist, so you think the Republic fell due to class warfare.

Partially true, but you probably weren't taught that the primary grievance of the poor was their large-scale ethnic replacement, coordinated by the rich.

Every Roman writer mentions this, but modern historians minimize it. However, DNA analysis has now proved it beyond a doubt:

In a 2019 Science study, only 2 out of 48 samples (4%) taken from Rome during the Imperial Era cluster with Western European populations, compared with 8 out of 11 samples (73%) during the Republican Era.

By the time the Republic fell, there was hardly a Roman left in Rome.



Germany closing Christmas markets because the security is "too expensive" while spending 30 billion on the i//egals who ARE the security threat pretty much sums up Western Europe

FR OVER 100 RAPES A DAY IN FRANCE - NEARLY 60% OF VICTIMS ARE MINORS

France recorded 40,300 rape or attempted rape victims in 2024, an average of 110 per day, with a 7% increase from the previous year.

58% of victims were minors, and 89% were women.

Experts say only 6% of cases are reported, suggesting the real numbers are much higher.

But it was a hit.

A left-wing activist from Berlin named Ewa, a Green Party politician and a senior civil servant, invites a man, Mehmet A., to the office.

They both met on an online platform for casual sex.

Ewka thinks it will be nice, oriental fucking, that everything is arranged, under control, passion like from Netflix.

Meanwhile, the guy records the sex, brings a masked friend to the cottage, takes Ewka hostage, robs her and blackmails her into releasing the recordings.

At one point, Mehmet goes to an ATM to withdraw money, and in the meantime his buddy rapes Mrs. Ewa, a left-wing activist, for several hours.

But every cloud has a silver lining. After all, she'll probably abort the Pakol cashew. In accordance with MP Asia Senyszyn's suggestion.

A woman tourist stabbed to death 'by her Tinder lover' on tropical island Mauritius had her tongue cut out 'so she could not call for help'.

A post mortem examination revealed university teacher Zaliya Shamigulova, 29, revealed multiple wounds to her chest.

But it was found that her tongue and throat had been cut from her mutilated body, which was found naked in a shallow grave.

Detained suspect Puryavirsingh Sundur, 29, an IT engineer from Mauritius, met the tourist via dating app Tinder, according to Russian reports.

He 'confessed' to her killing and explained how he had stabbed and mutilated the tourist, according to law enforcement sources.

⚠️IT'S OVER⚠️The Japanese gov has admitted, they plan to have 12 million+ foreigners by 2040 (if we're lucky)

Their concern is not whether this is good for the nation, but how to make this "transition" smooth

Taxpayer money will be used to teach them language and customs (source: mainichi)

NH: Currently, foreigners make up 3% of the population, but Justice Minister Keisuke Suzuki has projected that "by around 2040, it could reach 10%." We need to start discussing now how to smoothly transition to such a society.

In August, a private study group led by the justice minister released a summary of issues regarding foreigner acceptance, emphasizing the need to consider "social integration" for a society where everyone lives together. This direction is important.

M: So what specific policies are needed to help foreigners integrate into local communities?

NH: First, foreigners need to learn Japanese. They also need to learn about Japanese laws, culture, rules and norms.

To live in Japan long-term, being able to communicate in Japanese is essential. It's also important for self-fulfillment and for protecting one's rights against exploitation by employers. We need to build a system for Japanese language education. The question is how to fund it -- through public money, personal contributions or both. Until now,

Muslim March Held in Japan on Sunday

While labeling "Japan First" as discriminatory, Islam is a discriminatory religion that not only prioritizes "Islam First" but outright rejects Japan's gods and Buddhas. The term "multicultural coexistence" fits it the least, and it also practices gender discrimination. It's tolerated because of its large population, but how is it any different from discriminators?

HALAL SCHOOL MEALS SPARK OUTRAGE AS JAPANESE ASK WHY THE 99.7% MUST CHANGE FOR THE 0.3%

Japan Inside
4h ·

Japan asks why 99.7% must adapt to halal rules at Tokyo daycare for just 0.3% Muslims

In Tokyo's Kita Ward, a small daycare called Life School Kirigaoka Kodomo no Mori has become the center of a growing national controversy.

The school, which has 86 children enrolled, recently began serving halal meals after 18 Muslim students' families requested food that follows Islamic law.

While the move was praised by Muslim parents as a sign of inclusion, Japanese citizens online erupted with anger, asking why the 99.7% majority must adapt for a 0.3% minority.

The halal menu replaces pork with chicken and uses halal-certified soy sauce and seasonings, cooked on separate utensils and grills to meet Islamic standards.

This is a slow cultural concession that could normalize religious dietary rules across Japan.

After news outlets like AERA Digital featured the daycare's "halal lunch success," the center was bombarded with phone complaints and online backlash that lasted for months.

Many parents argue this isn't about kindness—it's about whether Japan's cultural majority should be expected to alter traditions to satisfy the smallest fraction of the population.

With Muslims making up just 0.3% of Japan's people, the question many are now asking is simple: why must the children of the 99.7% change?

The downside of diversity

The New York Times

By MICHAEL JONAS AUG. 5, 2007

IT HAS BECOME increasingly popular to speak of racial and ethnic diversity as a civic strength. From multicultural festivals to pronouncements from political leaders, the message is the same: our differences make us stronger.

But a massive new study, based on detailed interviews of nearly 30,000 people across America, has concluded just the opposite. Harvard political scientist Robert Putnam -- famous for "Bowling Alone," his 2000 book on declining civic engagement -- has found that the greater the diversity in a community, the fewer people vote and the less they volunteer, the less they give to charity and work on community projects. In the most diverse communities, neighbors trust one another about half as much as they do in the most homogenous settings. The study, the largest ever on civic engagement in America, found that virtually all measures of civic health are lower in more diverse settings.

"The extent of the effect is shocking," says Scott Page, a University of Michigan political scientist.

They know...they just don't care.

🚨BIG changes in the UK in regards to their immigration policies:

* skill level to enter to UK will be degree level.
* fees for employers who are hiring from overseas will go up.
* English language requirements increase.
* contributions based model for citizenship that will go up to 10 years from 5.
* care workers visa is shut down.
* Digital IDs and e-visas for overseas immigrants to track them so it's easier to deport of they overstay.

The fact that they call it "open border experiment" is alarming but at least some changes are coming.
Now they need to deport.

A CO-OWNER OF THE PIRATE BAY HAS DIED IN A SMALL PLANE CRASH. THE ACCIDENT SEEMS SUSPICIOUS BECAUSE RESCUERS COULDN'T FIND THE PILOT FOR TWO DAYS, EVEN THOUGH THE PLANE CRASHED INTO A COTTAGE. REPORTS SUGGEST THAT SLOVENIAN POLICE MAY HAVE WAITED FOR INSTRUCTIONS FROM ABROAD. MANY BELIEVE THIS COULD BE ANOTHER MURDER CASE.

American molecular biologist James Watson, co-discoverer of the structure of DNA, dies at the age of 97.

James Dewey Watson (April 6, 1928 – November 6, 2025) was an American molecular biologist, geneticist and zoologist. In 1953, he co-authored with Francis Crick the academic paper in Nature proposing the double helix structure of the DNA molecule.[9] In 1962, Watson, Crick, and Maurice Wilkins were awarded the Nobel Prize in Physiology or Medicine "for their discoveries concerning the molecular structure of nucleic acids and its significance for information transfer in living material".

Watson earned degrees at the University of Chicago (Bachelor of Science, 1947) and Indiana University Bloomington (PhD, 1950). Following a post-doctoral year at the University of Copenhagen with Herman Kalckar and Ole Maaløe, Watson worked at the University of Cambridge's Cavendish Laboratory in England, where he first met his future collaborator Francis Crick. From 1956 to 1976, Watson was on the faculty of the Harvard University Biology Department, promoting research in molecular biology.

From 1968, Watson served as director of Cold Spring Harbor Laboratory (CSHL), greatly expanding its level of funding and research. At Cold Spring Harbor Laboratory, he shifted his research emphasis to the study of cancer, along with making it a world-leading research center in molecular biology. In 1994, Watson started as president and served for 10 years.

He was then appointed chancellor, serving until his resignation in 2007 after making comments claiming that there is a genetic link between intelligence and race. In 2019, following the broadcast of a documentary where Watson reiterated these views on race and genetics, CSHL revoked his honorary titles and severed all ties with him.

In 2007, Watson said, "I turned against the left wing because they don't like genetics, because genetics implies that sometimes in life we fail because we have bad genes. They want all failure in life to be due to the evil system."[69]

In 2014, Watson sold his Nobel Prize medal to raise money after complaining of being made an "unperson" following controversial statements he had made.[85] Part of the funds raised by the sale went to support scientific research.[86] The medal sold at auction at Christie's in December 2014 for US$4.1 million. Watson intended to contribute the proceeds to conservation work on Long Island and to funding research at Trinity College, Dublin.[87][88] He was the first living Nobel recipient to auction a medal.[89] The medal was later returned to Watson by the purchaser, Alisher Usmanov.[90]

Another great mind left us, the giant gap left behind filled with mediocre nitwits, who forever will repeat the mantra that there is just one human race, that we are all the same, and that only socio-economic difference can explain the vast contrast.

I have some very bad news.

Buddha was put down today. He was 12 years old, had lost the use of both of his back legs, had lost control of his bladder and bowels, was taking seizures and was starting to go completely blind as well as a myriad of other health issues that were only getting worse. It reached the point he could barely walk.

We cared for him and threw money at the vets as much as we could, but sadly it wasn't enough to stop him from suffering. So we had to make a very difficult decision.

It happened at his home with me and Sue present. He had a last meal of pork and sirloin. I cradled his head as he passed on. We are both absolutely broken over it.

I owe my entire career to that dog, he was a great dog, a loyal friend and I'm going to miss him very much. I loved that dog.

He was a good boy.
